Babbling Burglar of Chicago Cop Probe, Shot, Wounded

BABBLING BURGLAR WOUNDED BY SHOTGUN BLAST—Police unload Richard Morrison from an ambulance at Cook County hospital after the talkative burglar was wounded in the arm by a shotgun blast from a speeding auto as he walked out of Cook County Criminal Courts building. It was Morrison whose testimony triggered reorganization of the Chicago police department, uncovering corruption. Morrison's arm was wrapped in a tourniquet. (AP Wirephoto)

CHICAGO (UPI) — Chicago's police, who had hoped they were "clean," searched the underworld and their own kind today for the men who ambushed "babbling burglar" Richard Morrison outside the Cook County Criminal Courts Building.

Roswell T. Spencer, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office and last year's Democratic candidate for sheriff, said he saw the [illegible] when he said:

It's logical to assume there is a connection between the shooting and the scandal incident that Morrison broke.

That was when the dapper youthful squealer reported illegal activities of eight policemen and turned the Chicago police department upside down.

"There are a lot of people who would like to see me dead," Morrison said.

Veteran investigators with orders to "make the culprit to justice" said Morrison had made enemies in the underworld, where squealing is frowned upon. And they said there were probably ex-policemen whose careers blighted by the stories of burglaries while who would rather see Morrison

Boulder Party Probe Involves 17 Persons

BOULDER (AP) — Police said today that charges have been placed against 17 persons in connection with parties involving teen-aged girls.

The probe began early Sunday when a Boulder patrolman complained of a noisy party in an apartment adjoining his duplex home near Boulder High School.

Officers arrested a man and a 16-year-old girl at that time and launched an investigation which has resulted in charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor being placed against 11 other men aged from 18 to 28.

Also charged with delinquency are four girls aged from 14 to 16 and a boy.

30 Wives and Concubines Of King Saud Go Shopping

NICE, France (UPI) — The 30 wives and concubines of King Saud, armed with 30 checkbooks, went to the swank shops of this Riviera resort city today to replace some of the clothes lost in the crash of the king's private plane.

A spokesman for the royal entourage, vacationing here, said the suitcases aboard the doomed plane contained "men and women's clothing, but no great valuables, as far as I know."

He said the wives and concubines had their jewels with them when they checked in at the Negresco Hotel, hence the night before the airplane crashed in the Bay of Nice.

Teen Beer Ban Bill Beaten After House, Senate Battles

DENVER (UPI) — The Colorado Senate killed a hotly debated bill banning sale of 3.2 beer to persons under 21 Wednesday, thus ending a long battle in both houses of the Legislature.

The bill would have changed the present law allowing 18-, 19-, and 20-year-olds to purchase beer of 3.2 alcoholic per cent. It earlier was killed in the Colorado House of Representatives in committee action.

Introduced in the Senate by Majority Leader Sen. Ranger Rogers, R-Littleton, it awaited various delays until reaching the full body Wednesday. Three hours of heated debate produced an 18-17 vote in favor of killing the bill.

At one point during debate opposed Sen. James F. Donnelly, D-Trinidad, waved an empty liquor bottle at his fellow senators and a packed Senate gallery. He said teen-agers, if the bill were passed, would be encouraged to drink "hard stuff."

"It may be that some of the hard liquor people are favoring the bill to ban the low-content beer," he said.

Three Stores Lose Beer Licenses in Under-Age Sales

DENVER (UPI) — Secretary of State Byron A. Anderson has suspended the 3.2 beer licenses of three Pueblo, Colo., groceries on charges of selling to 16-year-old girls.

The licenses are held by Mrs. Sophie Baca for the Baca Store, Mrs. Angelica Sisneros for the Joplin and Beech Store, and Joe Sena for the J&M Grocery.

Anderson ordered 90-day suspensions, but suspended 30 days of each on the condition that none commits another violation this year.

Anderson's office said the prosecution followed a report to liquor enforcement officer Dale Dodd of Pueblo by the parents of one girl. Dodd said the girl and a friend told them they knew of five 3.2 beer outlets in Pueblo which would sell to youngsters under 18, the minimum age for buying 3.2 beer in Colorado.

Dodd said he had the girls attempt to make purchases from all and that they were able to so so—without showing identification—in the three outlets charged.

Peak Highway Opening to Start On April 15

Opening of the Pikes Peak Highway this year will start April 15, weather permitting, according to Jack Sullivan, road superintendent.

It usually takes a week to 10 days to plow open the highway and get it ready for the summer season.

Last year, Sullivan said, the highway was opened for the season during the last weekend in April. Snow storms after that closed the highway only briefly. There have been springs, however, when the road has had to be plowed open several times, extending into June.

A small crew has worked most of the winter making improvements to the highway, especially in the matter of better drainage and widening sections in the switchbacks above Glen Cove.

Award of Silver Spur Planned by Range Riders

The Pikes Peak Range Riders, in conjunction with the Rodeo Association, will again this year honor a person who has performed outstanding service to the community, according to J. D. Ackerman, chairman of the public relations committee of the Pikes Peak Range Riders.

For the fourth year in a row, the Pikes Peak Range Riders will again recognize with the Silver Spur Award a citizen who has in an unusual way given of his time and effort to benefit our community," Ackerman said.

The first Silver Spur was awarded to Robert Hibbard in 1960. Hibbard was honored for his successful bid for the National Boy Scout Jamboree to be held in Colorado Springs. Mayor William Henderson was honored in 1961 for his years of unselfish and dedicated community service. Louis E. Benezet, president of Colorado College, was given the third annual award after he had been instrumental in successfully establishing the Pikes Peak United Fund.

"There was actually little question who should be publicly thanked for service to the community the first three years of the Silver Spur Award," Ackerman declared. "However, many nomu-

Final Meeting Of Grand Jury Is Scheduled

District Attorney Don Higby said Wednesday that the final meeting of the grand jury will be held Thursday, March 28, at 7:30 p.m. in District Court Division 2, El Paso County Court House.

All members of the public who have any criminal complaint are invited to come before the jury or communicate in advance with the district attorney's office. Entrance to District Court is thru the sheriff's office on the west side of the court house.

Higby said no action had been taken on matters brought before the jury and no true bills had been returned to date.

Corporation Told by FTC To Sell 75 Plants, Properties

WASHINGTON (AP) — Martin-Marietta Corp., was ordered by the Federal Trade Commission Wednesday to sell 75 plants and properties worth millions of dollars. The FTC also laid down stringent bans against future company acquisitions.

The FTC said that within the next two years Martin-Marietta must sell—only to buyers approved by the commission — 60 concrete pipe plants, 13 crushed stone, sand and gravel plants, quarries or quarry sites and two lime plants.

The action took the form of a consent order agreed to by Martin-Marietta and commission attorneys. The agreement is only for purposes of settlement and is not an admission by Martin-Marietta that it violated any law.

The commission set no specific value on the plants but Martin-Marietta in a statement said they had a book value of approximately $48 million. Sales of products produced by the properties in 1962 amounted to about $53 million, the company said.

The FTC said Martin-Marietta had acquired the plants and quarries since 1954.

Its complaint charged the acquisition might substantially reduce competition or tend to create a monopoly in violation of the Celler-Kefauver anti-merger law. The "constant and systematic elimination of actual and potential competitors," FTC said, has injured the public and is an unfair method of competition."

The commission originally issued its complaint against American-Marietta, now part of the corporation formed by consolidation with the Martin Company.

The FTC attributed a substantial amount of American-Marietta's 6,000 per cent increase in net sales between 1942 and 1960 to its acquisitions. Martin-Marietta's sales totaled $1.2 billion in 1961, FTC said.

Concrete pipe plants and businesses are at many cities, including Denver, Colo.

Babbling Burglar of Chicago Cop Probe, Shot, Wounded

BABBLING BURGLAR WOUNDED BY SHOTGUN BLAST—Police unload Richard Morrison from an ambulance at Cook County hospital after the talkative burglar was wounded in the arm by a shotgun blast from a speeding auto as he walked out of Cook County Criminal Courts building. It was Morrison whose testimony triggered reorganization of the Chicago police department, uncovering corruption. Morrison's arm was wrapped in a tourniquet. (AP Wirephoto)

CHICAGO (UPI) — Chicago's police, who had hoped they were "clean," searched the underworld and their own kind today for the men who ambushed "babbling burglar" Richard Morrison outside the Cook County Criminal Courts Building.

Roswell T. Spencer, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office and last year's Democratic candidate for sheriff, laid it on the line when he said:

"It's logical to assume there is a connection between the shooting and the scandal incident that Morrison broke."

That was when the dapper, youthful squealer reported illegal activities of eight policemen and turned the Chicago police department upside down.

"There are a lot of people who would like to see me dead," Morrison said.

Veteran investigators with orders to "bring the culprit to justice" said Morrison had made enemies in the underworld, where "squealing" is frowned upon. And they said there were probably ex-policemen—their careers blighted by his stories of burglars-in-blue—who would rather see Morrison

Moon Landing Place Plans Are Disclosed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A scientist told a House space subcommittee Wednesday that a study is being made to find the best place to land a manned rocket ship on the moon.

John A. Hornbeck, president of Bellcomm, Inc., a subsidiary of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., said a preliminary study indicated "a good site for early exploration might be on a lunar sea, 10 miles from a continent, and 10 miles from a postmarial crater."

Mailers Settle; Pressure Mounts To End Strike

NEW YORK (UPI) — Striking mailers came to terms early today with newspaper publishers, causing pressure to mount for printers to end their 104-day-old dispute with eight shut-down papers.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner announced he had obtained the huge Madison Square Garden and city voting machines for a printers' meeting scheduled Sunday. He urged them to reconsider their rejection of a publishers' offer.

Thomas Laura, president of Mailers Local 6, said his union's settlement included a money package in the area of the $12.63 package turned down last Sunday by Local 6 of the International Typographical Union. Mailers will hold a ratification meeting Sunday.

The results of the vote in which ITU Local 6 rejected settlement by a slim 64 votes were attributed in part to the smallness of the Manhattan Center, site of the balloting. Only 3,178 of 11,000 eligible printers voted.

Elmer Brown, ITU president, has threatened action unless local 6 makes a move quickly. He might direct withdrawal of strike benefits going to Local 6 members.

But Bertram Powers, Local 6

30 Wives and Concubines Of King Saud Go Shopping

NICE, France (UPI)— The 30 wives and concubines of King Saud, armed with 30 checkbooks, went to the swank shops of this Riviera resort city today to replace some of the clothes lost in the crash of the king's private plane.

A spokesman for the royal entourage, vacationing here, said suitcases aboard the doomed plane contained "men and women's clothing, but no great valuables, as far as I know."

He said the wives and concubines had their jewels with them when they checked in at the Negresco Hotel here the night before the airplane crashed in the Italian Alps.

The spokesman said the king and his royal party were "getting along nicely" without their two cooks by ordering what was on the hotel menu. The cooks were on the jetliner when it crashed.

Teen Beer Ban Bill Beaten After House, Senate Battles

DENVER (UPI)—The Colorado Senate killed a hotly debated bill banning sale of 3.2 beer to persons under 21 Wednesday, thus ending a long battle in both houses of the Legislature.

The bill would have changed the present law allowing 18-, 19-, and 20-year-olds to purchase beer of 3.2 alcoholic per cent. It earlier was killed in the Colorado House of Representatives in committee action.

Introduced in the Senate by Majority Leader Sen. Ranger Rogers, R-Littleton, it awaited various delays until reaching the full body Wednesday. Three hours of heated debate produced an 18-17 vote in favor of killing the bill.

At one point during debate, opposed Sen. James E. Donnelly, D-Trinidad, waved an empty liquor bottle at his fellow senators and a packed Senate gallery. He said teen-agers, if the bill were passed, would be encouraged to drink "hard stuff."

"It may be that some of the hard liquor people are favoring" the bill to ban the low-content beer, he said.

Three Stores Lose Beer Licenses in Under-Age Sales

DENVER (UPI)— Secretary of State Byron A. Anderson has suspended the 3.2 beer licenses of three Pueblo, Colo., groceries on charges of selling to 16-year-old girls.

The licenses are held by Mrs. Sophie Baca for the Baca Store; Mrs. Angelica Sisneros for the Joplin and Beech Store, and Joe Sena for the J&M Grocery.

Anderson ordered 60-day suspensions, but suspended 30 days of each on the condition that none commits another violation this year.

Anderson's office said the prosecution followed a report to liquor enforcement officer Dale Dodd of Pueblo by the parents of one girl. Dodd said the girl and a friend told them they knew of five 3.2 beer outlets in Pueblo which would sell to youngsters under 18, the minimum age for buying 3.2 beer in Colorado.

Dodd said he had the girls attempt to make purchases from all five, and that they were able to do so—without showing identification—in the three outlets charged.

Communists of the hemisphere gather next Thursday in Rio de Janeiro, in what will be called "The Continental Congress in Defense of Cuba."

The principal aims will be to plot more aggressive strategy to step up the pace of revolutionary activities, and to rekindle mass sympathy for Fidel Castro's regime.

Peak Highway Opening to Start On April 15

Opening of the Pikes Peak Highway this year will start April 15, weather permitting, according to Jack Sullivan, road superintendent.

It usually takes a week to 10 days to plow open the highway and get it ready for the summer season.

Last year, Sullivan said, the highway was opened for the season during the last weekend in April. Snow storms after that closed the highway only briefly.

There have been springs, however, when the road has had to be plowed open several times, extending into June.

A small crew has worked most of the winter making improvements to the highway, especially in the matter of better drainage and widening sections in the switchbacks above Glen Cove.

Closed Meeting Held by Mayor On Ethics Code

Mayor William C. Henderson met with Colorado Springs businessmen at noon today in a closed meeting at the Antlers Hotel to voice his opposition to the proposed Code of Ethics and Board of Ethics which will be on the municipal election ballot April 2.

In a letter addressed to businessmen, Mayor Henderson said:

"I wish to extend an invitation to you to attend a luncheon at noon Thursday, March 21, in the Terrace Room of the Anglers Hotel at which time we wish to explain why I and others are justifiably opposing the initiated ordinance to create a code and Board of Ethics.

"Knowing that you are interested in an efficient, local, municipal government, and recognizing that it is desireable to continue having capable and honest local citizens participate as members of our various advisory boards and commissions, I feel you will find this meeting of particular interest.

"We shall appreciate your cooperation in returning the enclosed reply card as soon as possible.

"Sincerely, William C. Henderson, Mayor (signed)."

Award of Silver Spur Planned by Range Riders

The Pikes Peak Range Riders, in conjunction with the Rodeo Association, will again this year honor a person who has performed outstanding service to the community, according to J. D. Ackerman, chairman of the public relations committee of the Pikes Peak Range Riders.

"For the fourth year in a row, the Pikes Peak Range Riders will again recognize with the Silver Spur Award a citizen who has in an unusual way given of his time and effort to benefit our community," Ackerman said.

The first Silver Spur was awarded to Robert Hibbard in 1960. Hibbard was honored for his successful bid for the National Boy Scout Jamboree to be held in Colorado Springs. Mayor William Henderson was honored in 1961 for his years of unselfish and dedicated community service. Louis T. Benezet, president of Colorado College, was given the third annual award after he had been instrumental in successfully establishing the Pikes Peak United Fund.

"There was actually little question who should be publicly thanked for service to the community the first three years of the Silver Spur Award," Ackerman declared. "However, many nomi-

Boulder Party Probe Involves 17 Persons

BOULDER (AP) — Police said today that charges have been placed against 17 persons in connection with parties involving teen-aged girls.

The probe began early Sunday when a Boulder patrolman complained of a noisy party in an apartment adjoining his duplex home near Boulder High School.

Officers arrested a man and a 16-year-old girl at that time and launched an investigation which has resulted in charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor being placed against 11 other men aged from 18 to 28.

Also charged with delinquency are four girls aged from 14 to 16 and a boy.

Police expressed belief that around 20 girls were involved in the parties and said more arrests may follow.

Reds Launch Another Earth Satellite

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today launched another unmanned earth satellite to gather space data for future manned flights.

The official Tass news agency said the sputnik "Cosmos 13" was set off at 2:54 p.m. (6:54 a.m. EST). It was the first Soviet satellite sputnik launched this year.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev announced the Cosmos series of unmanned satellites during a Kremlin speech in March 1962.

The announced purpose of the series is to gather space information for use in flights by man into orbit. Cosmos 12 was hurled into space last Dec. 22.

North Bay May Get Alternate Combat Center

OTTAWA (AP) — An alternate underground combat headquarters at North Bay, Ont., may be established by the North American Air Defense Command, informed sources say.

The North Bay site is the only one of the 22 combat posts in the U.S.-Canada command that has been constructed underground. The headquarters at Colorado Springs above ground is considered vulnerable to air attack by missile or bomber.

The sources said the U.S. Defense Department has approved the proposal and the Canadian government is considering it.

A $66 million underground headquarters for NORAD is being built in Cheyenne Mountain west of Colorado Springs, but the job won't be completed until 1966 at the earliest.

The center near North Bay is nearly completed and will be occupied by the Royal Canadian Air Force Defense Command this summer.

Final Meeting Of Grand Jury Is Scheduled

District Attorney Don Higby said Wednesday that the final meeting of the grand jury will be held Thursday, March 28, at 7:30 p.m. in District Court Division 2, El Paso County Court House.

All members of the public who have any criminal complaint are invited to come before the jury or communicate in advance with the district attorney's office. Entrance to District Court is thru the sheriff's office on the west side of the court house.

Higby said no action had been taken on matters brought before the jury and no true bills had been returned to date.

Corporation Told by FTC To Sell 75 Plants, Properties

WASHINGTON (AP) — Martin-Marietta Corp., was ordered by the Federal Trade Commission Wednesday to sell 75 plants and properties worth millions of dollars. The FTC also laid down stringent bans against future company acquisitions.

The FTC said that within the next two years, Martin-Marietta must sell—only to buyers approved by the commission — 60 concrete pipe plants, 13 crushed stone, sand and gravel plants, quarries or quarry sites and two lime plants.

The action took the form of a consent order agreed to by Martin-Marietta and commission attorneys. The agreement is only for purposes of settlement and is not an admission by Martin-Marietta that it violated any law.

The commission set no specific value on the plants but Martin-Marietta in a statement said they had a book value of approximately $48 million. Sales of products produced by the properties in 1962 amounted to about $53 million, the company said.

The FTC said Martin-Marietta had acquired the plants and quarries since 1954.

Its complaint charged the acquisition might substantially reduce competition or tend to create a monopoly in violation of the Celler-Kefauver anti-merger law. The "constant and systematic elimination of actual and potential competitors," FTC said, has "injured the public and is an unfair method of competition."

The commission originally issued its complaint against American-Marietta, now part of the corporation formed by consolidation with the Martin Company.

The FTC attributed a substantial amount of American Marietta's 6,000 per cent increase in net sales between 1942 and 1960 to its acquisitions. Martin-Marietta's sales totaled $1.2 billion in 1961, FTC said.

Concrete pipe plants and businesses are at many cities, including Denver, Colo.

Spring Starts With Chilly Weather in Most of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The spring season started a three-month stand today but it was a little chilly in much of the eastern half of the nation and wintry weather hit areas in the Northeast.

But on the bright side, at the end of the long, cold winter at 3:20 a.m. (Eastern standard Time), were clear skies across the major part of the nation. This was in contrast to the stormy weather pattern in many areas earlier this week.

Winter's last snowstorm which spread from the northern Midwest into the Northeast was centered in southern Ontario and was weakening slowly. The snow belt extended from Lower Michigan and Ohio eastward through much of the northern Atlantic states.

Heaviest snowfall was in south-eastern New England, with up to a half foot near Boston and three inches in Boston. Heavy snow prevailed on the ground in northern border states from the Midwest into northern New England.

There were no thunderstorms but skies were cloudy in the extreme Northwest and light rain and rain mixed with snow was indicated from central California northeastward into western Montana.

Flood waters continued to menace areas in West Virginia, southwestern Pennsylvania and Southern Illinois. Minor flooding also was reported in parts of New York state, Maryland, Ohio and Indiana.

Temperatures were lower than Wednesday morning in the eastern half of the nation. Biggest changes were in the Southeast, with readings from the 30s in Kentucky to the 40s in Georgia, Alabama and South Carolina, compared in the 60s Wednesday morning. Temperatures were in the 80s and 90s in Florida.

The freezing belt extended from the northern Plains eastward through the North Atlantic states. Still winds swept many areas.

Temperatures in the 30s or high 40s prevailed from the Gulf Coast westward through Texas into the Southwest.

NEW SECURITY SCHOOLS—Bids for the more than $500,000 new junior high school shown at the top, will be sent to bidders possibly by the end of this week. Bids for the construction of the grade school to be located on Cody Drive, Security, were awarded to the Olson Mechanical and Lembke General construction companies. Olson was awarded a bid of $39,447.00 and Lembke $151,900.80. These amounts together with the architect's fees of $11,480.00 brings the total cost of the grade school to $202,827.82. The land for the grade school was donated by the Sprout Construction Co. The architects for the junior high school are Edwin A. Francis and Carlisle B. Guy. Guy is the architect for the grade school.

Less Money Available, Finance Professor Says

DENVER (AP) — Edward E. Edwards, a professor of finance at Indiana University, said today the supply of money available in the nation now in relation to the growing use of money has declined steadily since the war.

Edwards, addressing the annual conference of the American Savings and Loan Institute said commercial banks are bidding hard for home mortgage business, something they didn't do soon after the war.

He also said "banks that formerly had more deposits than they needed or wanted are today fighting to increase their deposits.

They are paying their depositors to use their money in the bank and are paying just as much in many areas as the savings and loan business can afford to pay."

SING ALONG WITH KORIYAMA

TOKYO (AP) — Koriyama, a town about 150 miles north of Tokyo, is earning the name "music city of Japan."

Soviets Say U.S. Approved Atom Test in Sahara

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union charged today that the reported French Nuclear test in the Sahara helped to develop arms for the Western powers and was condoned by the United States.

Soviet Ambassador Semyon K. Tsarapkin angrily denounced the French test at a meeting of the 17-nation disarmament conference. Canada, India and the United Arab Republic joined in the protests.

France, boycotting the conference since it opened a year ago, has not confirmed reports that it tested a nuclear device Monday.

Tsarapkin declared that the French government had flaunted the U.N. General Assembly's call for an end to all testing by Jan. 1, 1963.

"It is characteristic that the Western delegations, and particularly the United States delegation, did not find a word to condemn the French test. This silence shows that France, by testing nuclear weapons, has made its contribution to the arms development of the Western bloc and to the nuclear armaments race in general," he said.

U.S. Ambassador Charles C. Stelle urged the Soviet delegation to change its rigid and unreasonable position and begin discussing the major issues involved in reaching agreement on a test ban, rather than insist that discussion be limited to the question of numbers of inspections and its own numbers at that."

Stelle told the conference that the United States shall "continue to make every effort to seek ways and means of reaching agreement on a test ban, and we still hope that the Soviet delegation will begin to do the same."

Less Money Available, Finance Professor Says

DENVER (AP) — Edward E. Edwards, a professor of finance at Indiana University, said today the supply of money available in the nation now in relation to the growing use of money has declined steadily since the war.

Ewards, addressing the annual conference of the American Savings and Loan Institute, said commercial banks are bidding hard for home mortgage business, something they didn't do soon after the war.

He also said "banks that formerly had more deposits than they needed or wanted are today fighting to increase their deposits.

"They are paying their depositors to use their money in the bank and are paying just as much in many areas as the savings and loan business can afford to pay."

SING ALONG WITH KORIYAMA

TOKYO (AP) — Koriyama, a town about 150 miles north of Tokyo, is earning the name "music city of Japan."

Officials report the city now has three orchestras, 13 brass bands and 40 choral groups. They say that means about 10 per cent of the residents are taking part in some form of musical activity.

Soviets Say U.S. Approved Atom Test in Sahara

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union charged today that the reported French Nuclear test in the Sahara helped to develop arms for the Western powers and was condoned by the United States.

Soviet Ambassador Semyon K. Tsarapkin angrily denounced the French test at a meeting of the 17-nation disarmament conference. Canada, India and the United Arab Republic joined in the protests.

France, boycotting the conference since it opened a year ago, has not confirmed reports that it tested a nuclear device Monday.

Tsarapkin declared that the French government had flaunted the U.N. General Assembly's call for an end to all testing by Jan. 1, 1963.

"It is characteristic that the Western delegations, and particularly the United States delegation, did not find a word to condemn the French test. This silence shows that France, by testing nuclear weapons, has made its contribution to the arms development of the Western bloc and to the nuclear armaments race in general," he said.

U.S. Ambassador Charles C. Stelle urged the Soviet delegation to "change its rigid and unreasonable position and begin discussing the major issues involved in reaching agreement on a test ban, rather than insist that discussion be limited to the question of numbers of inspections and its own numbers at that."

Stelle told the conference that the United States shall "continue to make every effort to seek ways and means of reaching agreement on a test ban, and we still hope that the Soviet delegation will begin to do the same."

CC Students On Vacation Trail Saturday

Students at Colorado College will put aside their books Saturday and hit the vacation trail for a week, many of them going as far as the Atlantic and Pacific coasts and to Mexico.

"More than 90 per cent of the students will be leaving the campus," said Donald A. Oden, director of student activities at the independent college of arts and sciences.

Twenty-six will spend the spring vacation working at a Navajo reservation in Arizona, and seven will tour Mexico with Miss Ellen Claydon of the Spanish department. Classes resume April 1.

The group going to Mexico will visit Mexico City, Queretaro, Guanajuato, and San Miguel Allende.

Miss Claydon said they would see the ancient pyramids at San Juan Teotihuacan, the National Palace, University City, the floating gardens of Xochimilco, the famed Ballet Folklorica de Mexico, and a bullfight.

Prof. Paul Kutsche of the anthropology and sociology department will accompany a group to the Navajo reservation in Arizona where they will spend the week working on a community development project.

Prof. Kutsche said the students would live in provided shelters and cook their own meals while on the reservation.

Accompanying Miss Claydon to Mexico will be Sally Blair, Georgia McClay, Judith Reid, Catherine Grant, Elizabeth Hickman, Nevan Rubens and Norma Parker.

Those planning to spend the week on the Navajo reservation include Joseph Wilcox, Sally Lentz, Ann Peters, Judy Hooker, Patricia Sohl, Ernest Le Meile, James Clark, Valoumna Choumramany, Solomon Nkrwane, Susan Caudill, Carol Rymer, Lynda Speckard, Susan Phillips, Harris Sherman, Rebecca Long, Gretchen Swan, Camilla Riggs, Marilyn Smith, Wendy Millard, Magda Findeisen, Aisha Youssef, Brecnarr Hemmaplardh, John Hetzel, Michael Pleasants, Suzanne Armstrong and Barbara Morgan.

Lake Gets Load of Rainbow

There was some springtime talk around City Hall Wednesday about fishing and white-throated swifts.

With the weatherman providing a perfect spring tonic, there was fishing fever in the air after it was learned that the State Game and Fish Department had recently stocked a load of rainbow trout in Prospect Lake.

The load contained 500 pounds of fish, with about five or six rainbows to the pound. Good pan size.

And from out in the Garden of the Gods, employes of the City Park and Recreation Department were keeping an eye peeled for the first arrivals of the swifts. None have been sighted yet.

The return of the swifts to the massive red sandstone crags in the Garden of the Gods is just as positive a sign of spring as the return of the swallows to Capistrano.

Paul Cimino, Park Department caretaker in the Garden of the Gods, said the first swifts usually arrive in the latter part of March, although there is no set day for their arrival; it has varied as much as three weeks.

The main flocks of the swifts, usually three in number, arrive as a rule a few days after the first scouts have put in their appearance.

The towering sandstone rocks in the Garden of the Gods make ideal nesting places for swifts.

'Missing' Man Was Just Visiting

The sheriff's department reported Wednesday that a 70-year-old man who had been missing for three weeks turned up safely in Pueblo where he had been visiting friends.

Bill Talamme of 3980 N. Cascade Ave. just went off forgetting to turn out the lights or lock the door of his home.

Neighbors reported he had not been seen for some time and Sheriff E. L. Sullivan launched an extensive search. Finally he was located Wednesday by Pueblo police. Talamme told them he was coming back to Colorado Springs today and that he was very grateful to his neighbors and friends for their concern.

Tire Chains Reported Missing From Truck

Fred Lobo of 3230 E. Highway 24 told the sheriff's office Wednesday that a set of tire chains had been stolen from an open bed in his truck.

Deputy Sheriff Douglas Peter[illegible] with the chains were rusty and had been in the same box for several years. Lobo estimated [illegible] the item.

Army Initiates Financial Aid For Male Nurses

Selected male students in approved professional schools of nursing will be given financial assistance as part of an expansion of the Army Student Nurse Program, the Army has announced.

Female students in the program have been receiving financial assistance since 1956. Rising costs of for more Army nurses are reasons for opening the student nurse program to males.

Under the program, selected students of proven ability enlist in the Army Reserve and receive the cost of tuition and books in addition to military pay. They are subsequently commissioned as second lieutenants in the Army Nurse Corps Reserve.

The length of their obligated service as Army nurses is dependent on the length of time they spend in the student nurse program.

Students in three-year schools of nursing are commissioned after they graduate and are licensed by the state in which they received their professional training. Students at these schools may receive one year of financial assistance and incur a two-year active obligation.

Students in four-year college programs which offer a bachelor's degree in nursing are commissioned six months before they are due to graduate. They may receive two years of financial assistance as students and incur a three-year service obligation, or accept aid for one year and serve on active duty for two years.

Cause of Death Autopsy Being Performed Today

An autopsy was being performed this morning to determine the cause of death of a Denver physician whose body was found about noon Wednesday in a unit at the Lazy Lodge motel, 1107 S. Nevada Avenue.

Preliminary police reports indicate that Dr. Jack T. Rush, 2520 W. 80th St., Denver, a former voluntary patient in the Colorado State Hospital, had committed suicide.

Three bottles of pills were found in a shaving kit and were taken by the coroner's office to St. Francis Hospital for indentification.

Also found in the motel room were two stamped sealed letters. One was addressed to Marie D. Rush of Denver, believed to be the doctor's widow and the other was addressed to the Colorado State Hospital, Pueblo.

Police also revealed that a note was found near the body advising persons to contact the security guard at the state hospital "in case of emergency." It was signed by the victim.

Investigation revaled that Dr. Rush registered at the motel at 4 p.m. Monday and was last seen about 7 p.m. when he asked not to be disturbed the next day.

Lee B. White, owner of the motel, told police he became concerned Wednesday and went to the doctor's room to check on his welfare and discovered the body.

Police reports said a crumpled letter found in the waste basket and addressed to Dr. Rush's wife indicated the preliminary conclusion of suicide.

Dr. Rush had been reported missing on Monday. Evidence indicated he had been a voluntary patient in the alcoholic section at the state hospital.

Latin America" are rallying to the Castro banner.

In one respect, Moscow's support of the congress is an answer to the Red Chinese who have been accusing Premier Khrushchev's party of timidity in pushing revolutionary violence in underdeveloped areas. It also can serve the Soviet party as a weapon for countering Peking's influence in Latin America.

The Communists and Castroists — the terms are virtually synonymous — will use the congress to inventory their assets and prospects. Positions of the parties and revolutionary situations country by country will be under microscopic analysis in the back-room meetings while the oratory in the congress hall lays down a smokescreen.

The Rio meeting is expected to come up with some sort of blueprint for action.

If the congress follows Moscow's general directives for such enterprises, with what the Kremlin calls "the new logic of scientific communism," it will map out those areas where violence will pay off and those areas where struggles for electoral and economic power offer the prospects of better dividends.

A hemisphere Communist meeting held in Mexico in 1961 resulted in refinements in plans and methods of attack. These probably included the combination of terrorism and political conflict adopted in Venezuela, which is considered a prime target.

Allies Line Up Against France In Atom Plan

PARIS (UPI) — Most of the Western allies lined up against France today in backing President Kennedy's plan for a multination nuclear defense against Communist aggression.

West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, Greece and Turkey all indicated their support or active interest in the plan at Wednesday's meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) council.

With the United States and Britain already pledged to push ahead with the plan, this meant at least 8 of the 15 NATO countries were behind it in various degrees.

President Charles de Gaulle, who rejects the multi-nation concept and is building an independent nuclear force for France, ordered his foreign minister, Maurice Couve de Murville, to stay away from the council meeting and a British Embassy lunch afterwards.

The project is envisaged in three phases.

—In the first, to be launched as soon as possible, participating countries would turn over to NATO control a considerable proportion or all of their existing national nuclear forces or nuclear potential.

—In the second, Britain would add nuclear submarines carrying Polaris missiles furnished by the United States but British-built nuclear warheads.

—In the third, on which preliminary work would begin simultaneously with the other two phases, a surface fleet of some 25 merchant ships would be put together, manned by crews of mixed nationality and carrying a total 200 Polaris missiles.

The cost is estimated at $5 billion over a 10-year period. This is what is known as the so-called "multilateral" or "mixed-manned" force.

Coroner Rules Injuries Were Cause of Death

County Coroner Dr. Raoul W. Urich has ruled that the death of Mrs. Ellen D. Perkins, 80, 601 N. Tejon St., was a result of injuries suffered when she was struck by a car Feb. 9. The woman died Monday at Penrose Hospital.

An autopsy was performed Wednesday. Dr. Urich said the cause of death was "aspiration pneumonia due to extreme weakness and trauma as a result of multiple injuries."

Dr. Urich's decision was based on the autopsy report as submitted by another physician.

The death was second traffic fatality in Colorado Springs this year and the [illegible] of the year.

Anderson Sees Danger of U.S. Water Shortage

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., said Wednesday water is becoming precious in the southwestern United States and "agriculture pursuits could be the first to feel the pinch."

Anderson, a champion for water conservation, spoke to some 1,000 cattlemen at the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association meeting.

"As big as Texas is, the total rain that falls annually in Texas is less than the total in at least 21 other smaller states," Anderson said.

"Texas is number one in the nation in cattle, cotton and petroleum, but as water becomes limited, agriculture pursuits would be the first to feel the pinch," Anderson said.

Anderson told the cattlemen that they should reduce the number of cows in their herds.

"There are too many cattle now and I want to see the livestock industry stay free of government control just as you do, but the sharp rise in beef numbers the past five years is alarming," he said.

Anderson was the featured speaker for the closing day of the convention.

Today's Weather

(Reports furnished by U. S. Weather Bureau Station at Peterson Field as of 5:30 a.m. today.)

Spring officially arrived at 3:18 a.m. (EST) this morning as the sun crossed northward across the equator to increasingly favor the northern hemisphere with respect to the duration of the hours of sunlight and the steepness of the incident sun rays.

There will be roughly 12 hours of daylight at every location on our globe today with the length of daylight hours increasing in the northern hemisphere for the next three months.

This division between winter and spring is of course determined from astronomical considerations and spring-like weather does therefore not necessarily follow.

Residents of the northeast sector of the country will agree that winter was pretty much in evidence this morning.

Extensive cloudiness and snow shower activity, at times of moderate intensity, over the hilly Appalachians together with raw and cold windy conditions covered the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley regions, and across the Appalachians into New England and north Atlantic coastal states.

Way out west, a low pressure system off the coast of Oregon and northern California is producing extensive cloudiness in the Pacific northwest states and along portions of the California coastline.

Very little in the way of precipitation has occurred so far.

Elsewhere in the country, clear skies and cool temperatures dominated. Early morning temperatures were on the cool side throughout the country; even Florida cooled to the 40s in the north and 50s and low 60s in the south.

The Florida Keys tho managed to stay near the 70 degree mark. In the Southland, temperature readings in the 40s were as much as 25 degrees lower and 24 hours earlier.

Below freezing temperatures covered most areas north of the Ohio River and the northern and central Plains and central Rockies and Plateau.

Mercury readings in the teens or slightly less were scattered across North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin and upper Michigan and in northern Maine.

Temperatures in the 40s and low 50s were the rule along the Pacific coast.

Babbling Burglar of Chicago Police Scandal Is Wounded

Police guarded Morrison's room in Cook County hospital where he underwent surgery on his arm. Morrison was gunned from a slow moving car late Wednesday as he and another informer, Jerry Bossuyt, walked away from the steps of the criminal courts building.

The shooting came less than two weeks before Chicago's mayoralty election and only three weeks after Alderman Benjamin F. Lewis, powerful West Side Negro politician, was gunned down and killed in a gangland "Chicago-style" execution.

Bossuyt said he and Morrison, 48, had just returned from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where they had been celebrating Morrison's acquittal in a burglary trial earlier this month. A West Palm Beach jury acquitted Morrison of trying to crack a drugstore safe.

Bossuyt said he and Morrison, who had testified in an insurance burglary trial, were walking west on 26th Street to Morrison's car when he heard a shot.

"I ducked into a [illegible]," he said. "Then I heard another shot and Dick yelled, 'Help! Help me! I've been shot!'"

Bossuyt said he was sure the gunmen were aiming at Morrison and not at him.

Morrison credited Bossuyt with saving his life by shoving him quickly to the side as the ambush car neared the curb.

He said the first blast struck him and "four or five others" missed. Bossuyt, who was taken into protective custody, said he couldn't remember pushing Morrison.

"It happened so fast," Bossuyt said. "I just ducked and ran."

The blast tore into Morrison's arm and left shoulder. The rest hit a utility pole.

Morrison touched off the scandal that rocked the Chicago police department and Mayor Richard J. Daley's administration in January, 1960.

Arrested on burglary charges, he told investigators that eight policemen helped him "case" prospective burglary sites, stood by in squad cars while he looted stores and businesses, and then [illegible] loot.

Secret squads of police arrested the policemen on Jan. 14, 1960, and rounded up four cardsharps of loot.

Driver of the second car, Jane LaFaye Julian, 22, 1017 Florence Ave., received a cut of the left ear and a bump on the head in the accident, but was released at the scene.

Cpl. C. J. Cates said the Booth car was traveling west on Boulder Street and the Julian car was traveling south on Wahsatch when the accident happened.

The Booth car skidded sideways for 65 feet following the impact and the Julian car was spun completely around. Damage totaled $1,500.

Miss Julian was given tickets for careless driving and having a defective vehicle. She told police the brakes failed when she attempted to stop the car at the intersection.

Award of Silver Spur Planned by Range Riders

nations were received and are encouraged again."

The Silver Spur Award itself consists of a silver spur mounted on a handtooled leather plaque and enclosed in a glass case. "In a sense, this award is our way of saying 'thanks' for a job well done and, at the same time, inspiring others to give more of their time and effort to benefit our home community," Ackerman said.

Ackerman, who is also a director of the Pikes Peak or Bust Rodeo, said that there are many deserving people in the area whose efforts in behalf of the Pikes Peak Region may not be as well known as those of the first three recipients of this award. The Pikes Peak Range Riders' award is designed to seek out these people and note the unselfish and unstinting service of the one most qualified for such an honor.

"This is an annual award—one that in time will be even more valued in that it will be a symbol of 'effort' and not name or connections," Ackerman added.

The Pikes Peak Range Riders who make the award are local business and professional men organized to promote the community. One of the main functions of the organization is the promotion of the annual Pikes Peak or Bust Rodeo which is staged at the Penrose Stadium in Broadmoor the first full week of August. Over the past several years, the group has made a number of trail rides around Pikes Peak to focus national attention on the community and the activities of Rodeo Week.

"Nominees for the Silver Spur Award may be any citizen of the region," Ackerman said. "Neither the person submitting the names of others nor the nominees themselves need be a member of the Range Riders or the Rodeo Association." Nominations should be sent to J. D. Ackerman, P. O. Box 1051, Colorado Springs, Colo.

CC Students On Vacation Trail Saturday

Students at Colorado College will put aside their books Saturday and hit the vacation trail for a week, many of them going as far as the Atlantic and Pacific coasts and to Mexico.

"More than 90 per cent of the students will be leaving the campus," said Donald A. Oden, director of student activities at the independent college of arts and sciences.

Twenty-six will spend the spring vacation working at a Navajo reservation in Arizona, and seven will tour Mexico with Miss Ellen Claydon of the Spanish department. Classes resume April 1.

The group going to Mexico will visit Mexico City, Queretaro, Guanajuato, and San Miguel Allende.

Miss Claydon said they would see the ancient pyramids at San Juan Teotihuacan, the National Palace, University City, the floating gardens of Xochimilco, the famed Ballet Folklorica de Mexico, and a bullfight.

Prof. Paul Kutsche of the anthropology and sociology department will accompany a group to the Navajo reservation in Arizona where they will spend the week working on a community development project.

Prof. Kutsche said the students would live in provided shelters and cook their own meals while on the reservation.

Lake Gets Load of Rainbow

There was some springtime talk around City Hall Wednesday about fishing and white-throated swifts.

With the weatherman providing a perfect spring tonic, there was fishing fever in the air after it was learned that the State Game and Fish Department had recently stocked a load of rainbow trout in Prospect Lake.

The load contained 500 pounds of fish, with about five or six rainbows to the pound. Good pan size.

And from out in the Garden of the Gods, employes of the City Park and Recreation Department were keeping an eye peeled for the first arrivals of the swifts. None have been sighted yet.

The return of the swifts to the massive red sandstone crags in the Garden of the Gods is just as positive a sign of spring as the return of the swallows to Capistrano.

Paul Cimino, Park Department caretaker in the Garden of the Gods, said the first swifts usually arrive in the latter part of March, although there is no set day for their arrival; it has varied as much as three weeks.

The main flocks of the swifts, usually three in number, arrive as a rule a few days after the first scouts have put in their appearance.

The towering sandstone rocks in the Garden of the Gods make ideal nesting places for swifts.

'Missing' Man Was Just Visiting

Army Initiates Financial Aid For Male Nurses

Selected male students in approved professional schools of nursing will be given financial assistance as part of an expansion of the Army Student Nurse Program, the Army has announced.

Female students in the program have been receiving financial assistance since 1956. Rising costs of for more Army nurses are reasons for opening the student nurse program to males.

Under the program, selected students of proven ability enlist in the Army Reserve and receive the cost of tuition and books in addition to military pay. They are subsequently commissioned as second lieutenants in the Army Nurse Corps Reserve.

The length of their obligated service as Army nurses is dependent on the length of time they spend in the student nurse program.

Students in three-year schools of nursing are commissioned after they graduate and are licensed by the state in which they received their professional training. Students at these schools may receive one year of financial assistance and incur a two-year active obligation.

Students in four-year college programs which offer a bachelor's degree in nursing are commissioned six months before they are due to graduate. They may receive two years of financial assistance as students and incur a three-year service obligation, or accept aid for one year and serve on active duty for two years.

Cause of Death Autopsy Being Performed Today

An autopsy was being performmed this morning to determine the cause of death of a Denver physician whose body was found about noon Wednesday in a unit at the Lazy Lodge motel, 1107 S. Nevada Avenue.

Preliminary police reports indicate that Dr. Jack T. Rush, 2520 W. 80th St., Denver, a former voluntary patient in the Colorado State Hospital, had committed suicide.

Three bottles of pills were found in a shaving kit and were taken by the coroner's office to St. Francis Hospital for indentification.

Also found in the motel room were two stamped, sealed letters. One was addressed to Marie D. Rush of Denver, believed to be the doctor's widow and the other was addressed to the Colorado State Hospital, Pueblo.

Police also revealed that a note was found near the body advising persons to contact the security guard at the state hospital "in case of emergency." It was signed by the victim.

Investigation revaled that Dr. Rush registered at the motel at 4 p.m. Monday and was last seen about 7 p.m. when he asked not to be disturbed the next day.

Lee B. White, owner of the motel, told police he became concerned Wednesday and went to the doctor's room to check on his welfare and discovered the body.

Police reports said a crumpled letter found in the waste basket and addressed to Dr. Rush's wife indicated the preliminary conclusion of suicide.

Dr. Rush had been reported missing on Monday. Evidence indicated he had been a voluntary patient in the alcoholic section at the state hospital.

Allies Line Up Against France In Atom Plan

PARIS (UPI) — Most of the Western allies lined up against France today in backing President Kennedy's plan for a multination nuclear defense against Communist aggression.

West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, Greece and Turkey all indicated their support or active interest in the plan at Wednesday's meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) council.

With the United States and Britain already pledged to push ahead with the plan, this meant at least 8 of the 15 NATO countries were behind it in various degrees.

President Charles de Gaulle, who rejects the multi-nation concept and is building an independent nuclear force for France, ordered his foreign minister, Maurice Couve de Murville, to stay away from the council meeting and a British Embassy lunch afterwards.

The project is envisaged in three phases:

—In the first, to be launched as soon as possible, participating countries would turn over to NATO control a considerable proportion or all of their existing national nuclear forces or nuclear potential.

—In the second, Britain would add nuclear submarines carrying Polaris missiles furnished by the United States but British-built nuclear warheads.

—In the third, on which preliminary work would begin simultaneousy with the other two phases, a surface fleet of some 25 merchant ships would be put together, manned by crews of mixed nationality and carrying a total 200 Polaris missiles.

The cost is estimated at $5 billion over a 10-year period. This is what is known as the so-called "multilateral" or "mixed-manned" force.

Anderson Sees Danger of U.S. Water Shortage

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)— Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., said Wednesday water is becoming precious in the southwestern United States and "agriculture pursuits could be the first to feel the pinch."

Anderson, a champion for water conservation, spoke to some 1,000 cattlemen at the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association meeting.

"As big as Texas is, the total rain that falls annually in Texas is less than the total in at least 21 other smaller states," Anderson said.

"Texas is number one in the nation in cattle, cotton and petroleum, but as water becomes limited, agriculture pursuits would be the first to feel the pinch," Anderson said.

Anderson told the cattlemen that they should reduce the number of cows in their herds.

"There are too many cattle now and I want to see the livestock industry stay free of government control just as you do, but the sharp rise in beef numbers the past five years is alarming," he said.

Anderson was the featured speaker for the closing day of the convention.

Today's Weather

(Reports furnished by U. S. Weather Bureau Station at Peterson Field as of 5:30 a.m. today)

Spring officially arrived at 3:18 a.m. (EST) this morning as the sun crossed northward across the equator to increasingly favor the northern hemisphere with respect to the duration of the hours of sunlight and the steepness of the incident sun rays.

There will be roughly 12 hours of daylight at every location on our globe today with the length of daylight hours increasing in the northern hemisphere for the next three months.

This division between winter and spring is of course determined from astronomical considerations and spring - like weather does therefore not necessarily follow.

Residents of the northeast sector of the country will agree that winter was pretty much in evidence this morning.

Extensive cloudiness and snow shower activity, at times of moderate intensity, over the hilly Appalachians, together with raw and cold windy conditions covered the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley regions, and across the Appalachians into New England and north Atlantic coastal states.

Way out west, a low pressure system off the coast of Oregon and northern California is producing extensive cloudiness in the Pacific northwest states and along portions of the California coastline.

Very little in the way of precipitation has occurred so far.

Elsewhere in the country, clear skies and cool temperatures dominated. Early morning temperatures were on the cool side thruout the country; even Florida cooled to the 40s in the north and 50s and low 60s in the south.

The Florida Keys tho managed to stay near the 70 degree mark.

In the Southland, temperature readings in the 40s were as much as 25 degrees lower and 24 hours earlier.

Below freezing temperatures covered most areas north of the Ohio River and the northern and central Plains and central Rockies and Plateau.

Mercury readings in the teens or slightly less were scattered across North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin and upper Michigan and in northern Maine.

Temperatures in the 40s and low 50s were the rule along the Pacific coast.

Babbling Burglar of Chicago Police Scandal Is Wounded

Police guarded Morrison's room in Cook County hospital where he underwent surgery on his arm. Morrison was gunned from a slow moving car late Wednesday as he and another informer, Jerry Bossuyt, walked away from the steps of the criminal courts building.

The shooting came less than two weeks before Chicago's mayoralty election and only three weeks after Alderman Benjamin F. Lewis, powerful West Side Negro politician, was handcuffed and killed in a gangstyle "Chinese execution."

Bossuyt said he and Morrison, 26, had just returned from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where they had been celebrating Morrison's acquittal in a burglary trial earlier this month. A West Palm Beach jury acquitted Morrison of trying to crack a drugstore safe.

Bossuyt said he and Morrison, who had testified in an insurance burglary trial here, were walking west on 26th Street to Morrison's car when he heard a shot.

"I ducked into a squat," he said. "Then I heard another shot and Dick yelled, 'Help, Help me! I've been shot!'"

Bossuyt said he was sure the gunmen were aiming at Morrison and not at him.

Morrison credited Bossuyt with saving his life by shoving him quickly to the side as the ambush car neared the curb.

He said the first blast struck him and "four or five others" missed. Bossuyt, who was taken into protective custody, said he couldn't remember pushing Morrison.

"It happened so fast," Bossuyt said. "I just ducked and ran."

The blast tore into Morrison's arm and left shoulder. The rest hit a utility pole.

Morrison touched off the scandal that rocked the Chicago police department and Mayor Richard J. Daley's administration in January, 1960.

Arrested on burglary charges, he told investigators that eight policemen helped him "case" prospective burglary sites, stood by in squad cars while he looted stores and businesses, and then helped him cart away loot ranging from cigarette lighters and television sets to outboard motors.

Secret squads of police arrested the policemen on Jan. 14, 1962, and rounded up four carloads of loot.

Boys Admit Theft at Local School

Three brothers, aged nine, 11 and 13, were taken to the Zebulon Pike Center early this morning, the sheriff's office reported, after they admitted breaking into Edison Elementary School and stealing a quantity of crayons and candy.

According to Deputy Sheriffs Bob Newman and Edward Pakenham, the boys were seen near a gas station early today. When they spotted the officers two of them ran off. The deputies found them and discovered the crayons, candy, some pop and magic markers in their possession.

Finally the three admitted breaking into the school thru a broken window. They also admitted entering the school on two previous occasions and stealing candy and loose change.

The boys' family consists of nine children, the report stated, and the mother and father are separated. The mother is an invalid and the father is at the county farm.

Driver of the second car, Jane LaFaye Julian, 22, 1017 Florence Ave., received a cut of the left ear and a bump on the head in the accident, but was released at the scene.

Cpl. C. J. Cates said the Booth car was traveling west on Boulder Street and the Julian car was traveling south on Wahsatch when the accident happened.

The Booth car skidded sideways for 65 feet following the impact and the Julian car was spun completely around. Damage totaled $1,500.

Miss Julian was given tickets for careless driving and having a defective vehicle. She told police the brakes failed when she attempted to stop the car at the intersection.

nations were received and are encouraged again."

The Silver Spur Award itself consists of a silver spur mounted on a handtooled leather plaque and enclosed in a glass case. "In a sense, this award is our way of saying 'thanks' for a job well done and, at the same time, inspiring others to give more of their time and effort to benefit our home community," Ackerman said.

Ackerman, who is also a director of the Pikes Peak or Bust Rodeo, said that there are many deserving people in the area whose efforts in behalf of the Pikes Peak Region may not be as well known as those of the first three recipients of this award. The Pikes Peak Range Riders' award is designed to seek out these people and note the unselfish and unstinting service of the one most qualified for such an honor.

"This is an annual award—one that in time will be even more valued in that it will be a symbol of 'effort' and not name or connections," Ackerman added.

The Pikes Peak Range Riders who make the award are local business and professional men organized to promote the community. One of the main functions of the organization is the promotion of the annual Pikes Peak or Bust Rodeo which is staged at the Penrose Stadium in Broadmoor the first full week of August. Over the past several years, the group has made a number of trail rides around Pikes Peak to focus national attention on the community and the activities of Rodeo Week.

"Nominees for the Silver Spur Award may be any citizen of the region", Ackerman said. Neither the person submitting the names of others nor the nominees themselves need be a member of the Range Riders or the Rodeo Association." Nominations should be sent to J. D. Ackerman, P. O. Complaint Is Filed In Land Sale Fraud

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government today made its second move within a week against methods used in selling undeveloped western land.

The Federal Trade Commission filed a complaint against Great Southwestern Land Co. of Albuquerque charging deception in sales of parcels in Taos County, N.M.

Last week three Florida land developers were indicted by a grand jury at Phoenix on Justice Department charges of fraud in mail-order sales of Arizona land.

In the FTC complaint involving New Mexico, Great Southwestern was accused of telling persons who filed out registration forms at a trade fair exhibit they might win a free lot of land.

Each person, the complaint added, was later informed he had received a quarter-acre lot and "your only expense is . . . closing costs of $49.30."

Kremlin Finds Middle East Project Confused

By K. C. THALER

LONDON (UPI) — Things are not going well for the Kremlin in the Middle East, one of the major infiltration targets of Soviet strategy.

Having built up its influence in Iraq with considerable military and economic investments, Moscow is currently witnessing the fact that the new Iraq regime clamped down with severity on Communists and shot some of their leaders.

The new Syrian regime also has tightened its grip on Communists and is tracking them down.

After accepting quietly an anti-Communist policy of President Abdel Gamal Nasser in Egypt, Russia now finds things are getting out of hand.

This development has come at a time when Moscow has become ostensibly more sensitive to anti-Communist policies of the countries with whom it is doing business, for fear of Red China's reaction. One of Peking's arguments is that Russia is doing too much business with the so-called bourgeois circles in developing countries and ignoring the proper revolutionary movements.

But there is a lot more at stake for the Kremlin in the Middle East presently than the future of the local Communist movements.

The Kremlin has been working hard to gain and to extend a foothold in the Middle East. It forced its way into the oil-rich and strategically important area by supplying Nasser with arms back in the late 1950s, to help undermine Western influence there.

But Nasser after accepting aid on a sizable scale from the Russians clamped down on the Communists and outlawed the party. Moscow did not like it but swallowed the blow for the sake of political considerations.

But when Abdel Karim Kassem's revolution ousted King Feisal in Iraq the Kremlin at once approached the new regime in Baghdad and has since poured into Iraq large quantities of modern arms and economic aid.

There were very strong indications that Moscow was in effect seeking to build up Kassem as a counter-weight to Nasser. This game has come to naught. Kassem is dead and the new regime looks to Cairo for cooperation.

"Spontaneous" demonstrations against Iraq in Moscow last week are a measure of the anger of the Kremlin leadership.

The setback in the Middle East comes after a series of failures in Africa where Russian influence strategy has not paid off. Either in the Congo, in the Communists had infiltrated the and in some of the other new emerging African nations Moscow has to pull out or at least pull back.

With Peking watching the Kremlin's embarrassment must be all the greater.

Plain, Blunt Words Spoken By U.S. State Department

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department is beginning to lose its reputation for speaking only in diplomatic doubletalk.

Twice in two months it has shown a startling preference for plain words bluntly spoken in criticism of friends and allies.

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker of Canada, who was the target last Jan. 30, and President Joao Goulart of Brazil, who was angered by the most recent blast, may well wonder whether an undiplomatic new era is opening in U.S. diplomacy.

Closer to home, observers have the impression that these bursts of verbal erring have not always been coldly calculated.

In the Brazilian case the truth as seen in Washington was blurted out in an unpremeditated way. A series of fumbles followed.

The incident began early this month in a secret session of the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee looking into Communist activities in Latin America. Ambassador Lincoln Gordon testified at great length on conditions in Brazil. His report to the committee is said to have been very frank and when he looked it over for possible publication, he decided more should be made public.

Assistant Secretary Gordon and other State Department officials prepared a summary statement which was sent to the committee. Among other things, it said that Communists had infiltrated the Brazilian government — a serious accusation for one friendly nation to make against another even though U.S. officials regarded it as a true statement.

The summary, State Department officials say, was supposed to have been sent to the committee as a statement by the department, not by Gordon personally.

Somehow, however, the paper arrived at the committee as a statement from Gordon and was so printed. When the committee released its report last Thursday, news stories reported the Reds-in-government charge and it brought immediate expressions of indignation in Brazil.

The State Department first said the statement had been wrongly identified in being attributed to the ambassador. When that brought protest from the subcommittee, the department said the view was shared by the department and by Gordon, though the statement should have been a departmental one.

Some officials now question whether the reference to the Brazilian government should have been included at all in any kind of public statement. Furthermore, the evidence is that a mistake was made in not making certain that Gordon's name was separated from the statement when it was sent to the committee.

Finally Undersecretary of State George Ball issued a statement deploring the whole affair and emphasizing basic U.S.-Brazilian friendship. In Brazil, aides of President Goulart said he was satisfied and it appeared that the matter would be dropped and Gordon would be able to return to his post. It also appeared that Brazil would definitely get substantial U.S. financial assistance.

Qualified informants insist that there was nothing deliberate or calculated about the criticism directed at Brazil. It became public by misadventure.

But in the Canadian affair, there is no doubt that the action was deliberate.

The miscalculation in that instance was that the reaction in Canada was much more violent than expected.

Diefenbaker had refused to accept U.S. nuclear warheads for antiaircraft and airborne weapons equipped to handle them in defense of the North American continent and Western Europe.

His policy had become an issue in the Canadian Parliament and he had defended it with a number of statements which the State and Defense departments considered erroneous. Among other things, he had questioned the need for a nuclear-armed air defense system.

State and Defense officials decided to set the record straight from Washington's point of view. Without naming Diefenbaker, the State Department issued a statement saying point by point that several of his arguments were wrong and that his non-nuclear defense policy was not justified.

Diefenbaker blasted back, accusing the United States of intrusion in Canadian affairs. A great political storm arose in Ottawa and Diefenbaker lost a confidence vote in Parliament. He faces general elections next month with his nonnuclear policy an issue. So are Canada's relations with the United States.

President Kennedy is known to have been annoyed by the failure of the State Department to realize the angry reaction which its statements might very well get in Canada.

Looking back, some officials thought that the whole thing might have been more diplomatically worded. Secretary of State Dean Rusk told a news conference he regretted it if the remarks of the U.S. comment had caused offense in Canada.

Kennedy and Rusk do feel that occasionally issues arise on which the United States should speak up frankly, even at the risk of allied irritation. This attitude probably has filtered down through the government.

Yet it is also true that neither Kennedy nor Rusk personally worked on the Canadian statement. So far as can be determined, neither was involved in the Brazilian matter.

There have been many such incidents in the past.

When a high officer or an agency like the State Department speaks out against the politics of another country, a bombshell effect is usually inevitable. If the criticism is complicated by rumbling or misjudgment, the result is likely to be magnified.

But what counts in the long run is the lasting diplomatic effect—what Canada, for example, ultimately does about its defense policy and Brazil about its Communist problem.

His report to the committee is said to have been very frank and when he looked it over for possible publication he decided none of it should be made public.

As a substitute, Gordon and other State Department officials prepared a summary statement which was sent to the committee. Among other things, it said that Communists had infiltrated the Brazilian government — a serious accusation for one friendly nation to make against another even though U.S. officials regarded it as a true statement.

The summary, State Department informants say, was supposed to have been sent to the committee as a statement by the department, not by Gordon personally.

Somehow, however, the paper arrived at the committee as a statement from Gordon and was so printed. When the committee released its report last Thursday, news stories reported the Reds-in-government charge and it brought immediate expressions of indignation in Brazil.

The State Department first said the statement had been wrongly identified in being attributed to the ambassador. When that brought protest from the subcommittee, the department said the view was shared by the department and by Gordon though the statement should have been a departmental one.

Some officials now question whether the reference to the Brazilian government should have been included at all in any kind of public statement. Furthermore, the evidence is that a mistake was made in not making certain that Gordons name was separated from the statement when it was sent to the committee.

Finally Undersecretary of State George Ball issued a statement deploring the whole affair and emphasizing basic U.S.-Brazilian friendship. In Brazil, aides of President Goulart said he was satisfied and it appeared that the matter would be dropped and Gordon would be able to return to his post. It also appeared that Brazil would definitely get substantial U.S. financial assistance.

Qualified informants insist that there was nothing deliberate or calculated about the criticism directed at Brazil. It became public by misadventure.

But in the Canadian affair, there is no doubt that the action was deliberate.

The miscalculation in that instance was that the reaction in Canada was much more violent than expected.

Diefenbaker had refused to accept U.S. nuclear warheads for antiaircraft and airborne weapons equipped to handle them in defense of the North American continent and Western Europe.

His policy had become an issue in the Canadian Parliament and he had defended it with a number of statements which the State and Defense departments considered erroneous. Among other things, he had questioned the need for a nuclear-armed air defense system.

State and Defense officials decided to set the record straight from Washington's point of view. Without naming Diefenbaker, the State Department issued a statement saying point by point that several of his arguments were wrong and that his non-nuclear defense policy was not justified.

Diefenbaker blasted back, accusing the United States of intrusion in Canadian affairs. A great political storm arose in Ottawa and Diefenbaker lost a confidence vote in Parliament. He faces general elections next month with his non-nuclear policy an issue. So are Canada's relations with the United States.

President Kennedy is known to have been annoyed by the failure of the State Department to realize the angry reaction which its statement might very well get in Canada.

Looking back, some officials thought that the whole thing might have been more diplomatically written. Secretary of State Dean Rusk told a news conference he regretted it if the tone of the U.S. comment had caused offense in Canada.

Kennedy and Rusk do feel that occasionally issues arise on which the United States should speak up frankly, even at the risk of allied irritation. This attitude probably has filtered down through the government.

Yet it is also true that neither Kennedy nor Rusk personally worked on the Canadian statement. So far as can be determined, neither was involved in the Brazilian matter.

There have been many such incidents in the past.

When a high officer or an agency like the State Department speaks out against the politics of another country, a bombshell effect is usually inevitable. If the criticism is complicated by rumbling or misjudgment, the result is likely to be magnified.

But what counts in the long run is the lasting diplomatic effect—what Canada, for example, ultimately does about its defense policy and Brazil about its Communist problem.

State Education Committee Is Being Proposed

By JAMES D. HARPSTER

DENVER (AP) — Creation of a standing committee to review and coordinate the planning of Colorado's ambitious higher education program was proposed today by the advisory committee on junior colleges.

The purpose would be to establish for the first time a long-range program coordinating the functions of the state's junior and senior colleges.

While the advisory group recommended one route, Gov. John Love told reporters later he intends to pursue a different path toward the same objective.

"At the moment, I don't see the need for another committee," he said. "I expect to handle the matter myself, with one or more of my staff members and one or more consultants, to develop an over-all plan by this fall."

Love said much of the statistical data involving student enrollment at junior and senior colleges, future operating costs and capital construction needs and so on already has been compiled.

The next step, he said, is a comprehensive development plan with special attention on long-range financing program and the elimination of overlapping education facilities and courses.

The advisory committee took a broader approach in a resolution it forwarded to other state education agencies. It recommended formation of a joint liaison committee whose major roles would be to review:

1. Criteria to be used in recommending the establishment of new junior and four-year colleges.

2. Projections of operating costs of various ways of meeting the needs for higher education expansion.

3. Integration of the estimates of capital construction needs of the junior colleges with those of the state-supported colleges and universities, and a review of the cost of constructing new institutions as compared to expanding existing ones for similar programs.

4. Policies with respect to levels of admission, non-resident enrollment and student charges at various kinds of institutions of higher education.

The advisory group proposed that the committee be comprised of members representing the governor's office, the Legislative Committee on Education Beyond the High School, the Association of State Institutions of Higher Education, the Association of of Junior College Presidents, the private colleges of the state, the advisory committee itself and a taxpayer not officially connected with education matters.

The absence of such a coordinated program, said one committee member, "Has badly hurt Colorado's higher education program."

Preston Walker of Grand Junction said Colorado's junior college program lags far behind that of California and other states despite its potential in a state where higher education needs vary greatly in different areas, and where population centers are widely dispersed.

"This is the first step toward setting up a liaison group to coordinate junior college and senior college education in the state," he said.

The advisory group's proposal was forwarded to education groups representing the legislature, the junior and senior colleges and the Association of State Institutions of Higher Education.

Great Western Sugar To Issue Payments

DENVER (AP) — Beet growers for the Great Western Sugar Co., will receive $5,176,500 March 26 as their first additional payment on the 1962 crop.

The payment will average approximately $1.40 a ton for the Colorado, Nebraska and Wheatland, Wyo., areas. Montana growers will receive a flat payment of $1.50 a ton. Northern Wyoming growers will be paid $1.65.

"This payment will be earlier and larger than corresponding payments of recent years," Frank A. Kemp, Great Western president said. "It is based on a prospect of somewhat higher net returns from sugar sold during the year ending next Sept. 30 when final accounting to the growers will be made."

Kemp said the compay realized "the difficulties of the growing season in 1962 for all crops, including beets, have resulted in a greater need for money now as farmers enter the 1963 season."

The March 26 payments combined with Sugar Act payments will give growers $50,169,000 for their [illegible] an average of $13.75 a ton, Kemp said.

Of the soybeans produced in this country in 1962, 95.6 per cent went into edible products such as margarine and salad dressings, while [illegible] went into such industrial uses as paints and [illegible].

Record Harvests Are Reported in Western Europe

By L. T. EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Western Europe reaped some record harvests last year, and prospects are for more good yields this year the agriculture department reports.

A bumper wheat crop of 48.2 million short tons of wheat was produced — compared with 37.5 million for the previous year—in spite of some bad weather during the planting and growing season.

Production of potatoes and fruit was down a little from 1961 and substantially below two years earlier. Rice output was up slightly, but olive oil production was down.

High lights of last year, by countries:

France — Grain production up 20 per cent, potato yield down 12 per cent, wine production up 33 per cent.

West Germany — Grain production up 23 per cent, potato yield up 6 per cent, apples double the 1961 yield, and pear yield increased by 23 per cent.

Great Britain — Yields of grains as a whole well above average, wheat and barley crops set new records, rye and oats production remained about the same.

Greece — Wheat production up 6 per cent and tobacco 23 per cent over 1961.

Italy — The 1962-1963 over-all production expected to be down 5 per cent from the previous year, stemming from substantial declines in corn, olives, citrus fruits, sugar beets, almonds and vegetables. Wheat production up by 15 per cent to a near-record level.

Austria — Upward trend reported continuing in the 1962-63 year, with largest increases in coarse grains, fodder crops, live animals and meats. Sugar beet production up, but potato crop down.

Finland — Total crop production down 10 per cent because of bad weather.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Western Europe reaped some record harvests last year, and prospects are for more good yields this year the agriculture department reports.

A bumper wheat crop of 48.2 million short tons of wheat was produced — compared with 37.5 million for the previous year—in spite of some bad weather during the planting and growing season.

Production of potatoes and fruit was down a little from 1961 and substantially below two years earlier. Rice output was up slightly, but olive oil production was down.

High lights of last year, by countries:

France — Grain production up 20 per cent, potato yield down 12 per cent, wine production up 33 per cent.

West Germany — Grain production up 23 per cent, potato yield up 6 per cent, apples double the 1961 yield, and pear yield increased by 23 per cent.

Great Britain — Yields of grains as a whole well above average, wheat and barley crops set new records, rye and oats production remained about the same.

Greece — Wheat production up 6 per cent and tobacco 23 per cent over 1961.

Italy — The 1962-1963 over-all production expected to be down 5 per cent from the previous year, stemming from substantial declines in corn, olives, citrus fruits, sugar beets, almonds and vegetables. Wheat production up by 15 per cent to a near-record level.

Austria — Upward trend reported continuing in the 1962-63 year, with largest increases in coarse grains, fodder crops, live animals and meats. Sugar beet production up, but potato crop down.

Finland — Total crop production down 10 per cent because of bad weather.

TAKES TO CAPTIVITY

Native habitat of the polar bear is the ice-covered Arctic region, but the animal takes to captivity quite well and can be kept in zoos while some animals from more temperate climates cannot.

Europe Serves Notice of Own Rocket Plans

By ALVIN B. WEBB JR.

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Europe has served notice by way of a pair of surprise emissaries to "Spaceport U.S.A." that it will start firing rockets next year in a bid to become the world's third space-launching power.

It could mean that European-built and launched satellites weighing as much as one ton will be orbiting earth alongside U.S. and Soviet moonlets by 1966.

Meanwhile, scientists here unveiled detailed plans for America's first manned shot to the moon, and Dr. Wernher von Braun told the keepers of the purses in Washington that he would have to have money, and plenty of it, if the United States is to beat Russia to the punch.

Robert Hume and British Air Commodore F. W. Thompson of the De Havilland Co. revealed Monday that the British-built Blue Streak rocket, the booster for the European team's forthcoming space efforts, will be launched for the first time in 1964.

Hume and Thompson gained an unexpected audience — some 600 of America's top scientists and engineers, all attending the three-day space flight testing conference of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics.

It was a two-way surprise. Hume and Thompson visiting U.S. space launching facilities at Cape Canaveral, did not know the conference was under way, and the AIAA group did not know the Britishers were coming.

The delegates were centering their attention on America's own big manned spaceflight programs: the two-man Gemini spaceships and the moon-bound Apollo, when Thompson and Hume — filling for a paper that was not presented — were invited to take the stage.

Hume said a firing center designated as "6-A" will be completed at Woomera, Australia, this year and that static tests will follow on the 62-foot Blue Streak boosters. It later will be fitted with a French-built second stage, a third stage constructed by West Germany and Italian-made satellites.

Meanwhile, Von Braun was telling Congress the United States could lose the moon race to Russia if his $1.8 billion space budget were cut.

He said that from the standpoint of money, "we are down to the lean meat now" and that the man-to-the-moon program "most definitely cannot stand" a 5 to 10 per cent cut.

The unofficial goal for the U.S. manned lunar landing is early 1968, and experts have estimated it will take more than $20 billion to meet that schedule.

Air Defense Command Marks 17th Anniversary

The Air Defense Command today marks its 17th anniversary.

The U. S. Air Force member of the North American Air Defense Command team of U.S.-Canadian services guarding the continent against aerospace attack was created as a major air command in 1946.

Now commanded by Lt. Gen. Robert M. Lee, ADC has grown from a small organization equipped with propeller-driven aircraft and a handful of ground radars to one now operating supersonic weapons and space systems.

It has fighters that fly at twice the speed of sound, Bomarc surface-to-air missiles, ground and airborne radars, and stations that stretch from Texas to the northern tip of Greenland and from California to Iceland.

ADC today represents an $8 billion investment and a military-civilian team of 110,000 in over 300 operational units at 200 separated locations in 44 states. Some 30 additional organizations are located units in the country.

FIRST IN SPACE

In 1960, ADC became the first Air Force command to expand its field of operations into space. Its Space Surveillance System, BMEWS Missile Early Warning System, BMEWS Site at Thule, Greenland, became operational and the following year Site Two at Clear, Alaska, went on the air. A third site is nearing completion at Fylingdales, England.

BMEWS sends its precise radar beams thousands of miles into space to give 15-minute warning of an ICBM attack launched across the Polar region. As part of the Air Force Space Track System, [illegible] and tracking [illegible] man-made [illegible] in space.

[illegible] Space Surveillance System, SPASUR [illegible] NORAD's Space Detection and Tracking System, SPADATS [illegible] AFR, SPADATS [illegible] and displays a wide variety of data about man-made space objects gleaned from [illegible] and civilian sensors located around the world.

The aerospace defense mission posed by the Cuban crisis found ADC units ready and able to meet the challenge. With around-the-clock nationwide air defense operations placed on increased alert, ADC put a shield of radars and fighter interceptors around the Southeastern United States.

The Cuban crisis also provided a realistic test of the ADC fighter dispersal program designed to give greater survival protection to the interceptor force.

Aerospace defense today is undergoing constant change. A realignment of the air defense force, made possible in part thru technological changes and prompted by shifts in mission concepts, is currently underway within ADC to place its strength where most needed.

The continuing ICBM threat to national security is directing urgent attention to means of adding interception and destruction capabilities to those of detection and identification already being performed by BMEWS.

NEW FIGHTER

For the first time in its history, ADC has no fighter interceptors coming off production lines. The Improved Manned Interceptor [illegible] IMI — ADC's bid for a longer range fighter to pursue fighter — is a high priority project.

As it begins its 18th year, ADC moves forward from a rock-sound position as an essential part of the nation's counterforce deterrent strength.

Wasson Team Turns in Best Debate Effort

A Wasson High School debate team of Lenard Rioth and Steve Hunt turned in the best performance by Colorado Springs high school debaters by earning a superior rating in the State Speech Tournament, Saturday at the University of Colorado.

A second Wasson debate team composed of Roger Santela and Greg Johnson received an excellent rating. In the discussion competition three other local students were also awarded the second highest rating.

Those with excellent ratings were Ladd Blair, Wasson; Janet Irby and Janene Jones, Palmer. The state tournament was the concluding event this season for the speech clubs at both schools.

Post Communication Plan Links Phones, Radios

A liaison post circling above the Ft. Carson [illegible] areas picks up the common procedure. The common procedure is necessary because conversation being transmitted over the RWI hookup may be overheard by the enemy.

Although RWI is an integral part of the Red Diamond communications system, it has not been put into operation until now because of the high priority on other communications training. The 5th Signal Battalion has used RWI during its own battalion level command post exercises.

Other RWI uses include providing voice communication between forward mobile combat elements and division support units in the rear, connecting units during river crossing operations, or spanning a wire line break between two switchboards.

These and similar calls are now possible through the 5th Signal Battalion's new Radio Wire Integration facility. The RWI innovation enables commanders and key staff members in the field to call anyone on post and vice versa.

RWI is simply what its name indicates. By integrating two familiar communications methods, the FM radio and the wire telephone, a local [illegible] communications system enables a soldier using the radio in an airplane or in the field to call a soldier on an office telephone.

To make the connection, a soldier in the field radios an RWI station located on a hill overlooking the cantonment area. When the RWI station operator answers, the caller tells him the telephone extension number he is calling. The RWI operator then calls a post telephone operator who connects the RWI switchboard with the post extension.

When both parties are connected, the RWI operator informs them, "This is an RWI call, please use correct radio-telephone procedure." The common procedure is necessary because conversations are [illegible]

Post Communication Plan Links Phones, Radios

A liaison pilot circling above the Ft. Carson bivouac areas picked up his radio transmitter and began talking. A few seconds later, in an infantry company orderly room, the CO answered his ringing telephone and talked to the airborne pilot.

Later, in a 5th Division battalion headquarters, the intelligence officer picked up his telephone and called a platoon sergeant leading a reconnaissance patrol near Cottonwood Gulch. The sergeant answered the phone call on his jeep radio.

These and similar calls are now possible through the 5th Signal Battalion's new Radio Wire Integration facility. The RWI innovation enables commanders and key staff members in the field to call anyone on post, and vice-versa.

RWI is simply what its name indicates. By integrating two familiar communications methods, the FM radio and the wired telephone, a broad, flexible new communications system enables a soldier using his radio in an airplane or in the field to call a soldier on an office telephone.

To make the connection, a soldier in the field radios an RWI station located on a hill overlooking the cantonment area. When the RWI station operator answers, the caller tells him the telephone extension number he is calling. The RWI operator then calls a post telephone operator who connects the RWI switchboard with the post extension.

When both parties are connected, the RWI operator informs them: "This is an RWI call, please use correct radio-telephone procedure." The common procedures are necessary because conversation being transmitted through the RWI hookup may be overheard by the enemy.

Although RWI is an integral part of the Red Diamond communications system, it has not been put into operation until now because of the high priority on other communications training. The 5th Signal Battalion has used RWI during its own battalion level command post exercises.

Other RWI uses include providing voice communication between forward mobile combat elements and division support units in the rear, connecting units during river crossing operations, or spanning a wire line break between two switchboards.

CC Nine-Man Squad Wins Annual Drill

A nine-man squad from the Colorado College Reserve Officers' Training Corps' Band has won the annual competitive drill for the best drilled squad in the Colorado College battalion.

The band squad won the ROTC award during a competition with 36 other squads forming the ROTC battalion at the independent college of arts and sciences. They will be presented a plaque engrave with the names of the winners by the Colorado Springs chapter number two of the reserve officers' association.

The band won the competition during a 3-minute prescribed drill that encompassed about 10 basic military movements. They were judged by the battalion commander, Lt. Col. Arthur Decker, and his staff, on their appearance, the execution of the basic movements and on the squad leader's command voice and field position with the squad at all times.

Every squad in the 350-man Colorado College battalion was required to enter the competition. A squad from C company finished second.

Members of the winning squad were: 1st. Sgt. Michael Monell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd J. Monell, Montrose; Sgt. Arthur Basham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Basham, 18613 McFarland Ave., Saratoga, Calif.; Cpl. Richard Grill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo F. Grill, 2960 18th St., Boulder; Pvt. Trent Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin K. Ellis, 630 W. Cheyenne, Holly; Pvt. Craig Wenzel, son of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Wenzel, 402 Woodside, Cloquet, Monn.; S. Sgt. Harold Gress, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Gress, 1011 Raton Ave., La Junta; Pvt. Houston Markley, son of Mr. and Mrs Houston H. Markley, 1303 Garfield, Loveland; Pfc. William Mrachek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mrachek, 2270 Oswego, Aurora and Pvt. James J. Heckman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Heckman Jr., 100 Everett Ave., Lakewood.

Dr. William Day Clarifies Segment of Talk

Dr. William Day, protologist, who spoke before the Senior Coordinating Council Monday concerning the Kerr-Mill medical assistance plan, further clarified its segements Wednesday.

"Actually," Dr. Day explained, $11 million of the $14,751,000 originally mentioned in the proposed legislation, included the cost of the presently instituted old age pension.

"The actual cost of the Kerr-Mill proposal is $3,751,000, 50 per cent of which would be borne by the state of Colorado and the other half by the federal government," he said.

"The total cost of the Kerr-Mill assistance plan would be less than Colorado's share of the proposed federal social security medicare plan which would come to the amount of $16,200,000," Dr. Day said.

Dr. Day added that the Kerr-Mill assistance plan, now in the Colorado Legislative hopper, "hits the medical assistance problem with a local answer.

"The bill, supported by the Colorado medical Society, should be passed and is the best plan under the present circumstances. It will," he said, "cost less; cover more people with drug and medical care; be under local administration; be more flexible and is based on the need of the individual."

Choosing Activities, Topic For Final Senior Seminar

Wednesday's final Senior Seminar on "How to Make the Most of Leisure Time," pointed out that older citizens can find numerous activities — the truck is apparently in choosing which ones to participate in.

Thomas Doherty, assistant superintendent of School District No. 11, discussed the Adult Education Program and its offerings of knitting, sewing, gunsmithing, fly-tying, lapidary, driver's education, Spanish conversation, woodworking, current events discussion groups and dramatics.

The courses, held in school facilities by approval of the District No. 11 School Board, require a 30-cent fee for each clock hour of activity, Doherty said.

Persons interested in any of the courses should contact John Cameron, director, at 633-5268.

Mrs. Robert L. (Betty) Krouse, past president of the League of Women Voters, suggested political organizations open to members such as the league, the Charter Association, City Council and school board meetings, and the Citizens Committee for Public Schools.

On the social services side, there are needs for volunteer workers at the Rocky Mountain Rehabilitation Center, Hope House and the Sheltered Workshop, under direction of Mrs. J. M. (Penny) Wolfe, 636-2351; Christmas Unlimited, a year-round project under the direction of Mrs. John Bennett, 6342104; the El Paso County Association for Mental Health, directed by Mrs. Stewart Hinds, 633-5396; or the Friendly Visitors Service under the Red Cross Gray Lady program, 632-3523.

The City Park and Recreation Department, represented at the seminar by Col. Donald Kupfer, activity supervisor, offers a variety of outdoor recreation programs in its public parks.

For information on the recreation programs, phone Col. Kupfer at 634-4881.

The city's recreation program is geared to filling two needs of the adult citizens, the colonel said. They are the desire to belong and the desire to serve.

"People in their 60's have just as good a mind as those in their 20's. The idea that you can't teach old dogs new tricks is just not true," Kupfer said.

"The success of how we use our leisuretime in the second 40 years of our lives determines, to a great extent, our own happiness," he concluded.

Wednesday afternoon's panel was moderated by the Rev. Hurley Begun, pastor emeritus of the Unitarian Church.

A. Earl Bryson, chairman of the sponsoring Senior Coordinating Council, reported that 5,000 persons have attended the 10 Senior Seminar meetings, including the Monday luncheons and the Wednesday afternoon sessions. A total of 38 panelists have participated in discussions on, "Retirement Is What You Make It."

The 'American Way'

Mrs. P. B. Donohue has written with some passion and much heat. Her letter entitled "Opposed" is in today's Open Parliament section. Her obvious skill with words is worthy of a better cause than the one she has taken up, castigation of ye editor.

Her basic error is that she doesn't understand the American Way and concludes thereby that ye editor is opposed to it. It happens that he is heartily in favor of it.

And just so that there can be no further misunderstanding on this score, we'd like to suggest that Mrs. Donohue take a good look at any good encyclopedia or any reliable history and check out the facts which have been commented on countless times by those who witnessed and evaluated the inauguration of the American Way. May we also suggest that Mrs. Donohue read and study the original American document, the Declaration of Independence.

The thing that made America unique among all the nations on earth, was the great amount of individual freedom which existed on these shores.

As a necessary counterpart to the great amount of freedom, there was little government. In some places there was virtually no government, of the formalized political variety. Instead, people understood that they would have to make their own way without any government to turn to at all. Many of them were the cast-offs of Europe, supposed by European kings to be the unfit and the unworthy.

What a story they wrote. For these unfit, who Mrs. Donohue thinks can't manage without government assistance, not only managed when the opportunity presented, they established a set of standards so high that those standards have been the envy of the world since that time.

We should not have to comment on the fact that these great gains which occurred in this land from around 1650 until about 1860, occurred without benefit of labor unions, social security, government subsidy, and a hundred other political interventions which Mrs. Donohue thinks are a part of the American Way.

How wrong she is. It was the American Way which made possible governmental subsidies, social insurance, agricultural programs and general interventionism in all areas, including governmental interference in freedom of speech and freedom of religion, that drove Europeans to these shores originally and turned them into Americans. Thus the American Way became a NEW way of life in sharp divergence with the old world way of life.

Since the Civil War in this country, but mostly since the 1930's, this nation has departed the American Way and committed a series of each political acts which are in process of destroying our freedom, freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom to own property, freedom to work without a labor union, freedom to manage one's own affairs.

What does the editor want? The editor has hopes that Americans who read what he writes or listen to what he says, will have a reawakened sense of its own greatness as a people. He hopes that they will stop depending on government to make decisions for them, to comfort them in time of need, to put salve on their wounds and to bail them out of their difficulties.

Instead, he hopes to have them recall just what the American Way of life used to mean and still can mean if we can act like mature men and women rather than as foundlings from the federal orphanage.

We recall with some vividness since some of our own ancestors participated in the struggle that brought the American War for Independence from Britain, so that the American Way would not be the British Way was tired over high taxes and excessive government control. And we also recall how the Tories of that day screamed abuses at the Whigs who championed freedom, claiming then that we couldn't manage without the bountiful and loving care of a divinely appointed monarch.

Our crime is that we still believe in the American Way of Freedom. We wish to see the American revolution maintained and extended.

What does Mrs. Donohue want since she rejects these things?

Success and Liability

Businesses become successful when men work with you. Men who only work for you are a liability to themselves and the success of the business.

National Bad Check Day

A friend in Salt Lake City, grown weary of the nonsense dished out by presidential adviser, Walter Heller, and his team of Keynesians, has come up with a proposition.

We can't recommend it, because, of course, there are laws against the practice and we don't want to be in a position of advocating lawlessness. Dishonesty can't pay and what is being suggested is a sort of Heller-type lawlessness comparable to the Heller-type economic foolishness. What is being suggested is a national BAD CHECK day.

Almost all banks today are members of the federal insurance corporation. Deposits are insured and the theory is that thanks to good old Uncle Sam, no one can lose any money any more.

So, let's have a BAD CHECK day.

On this day, each person could write five bad checks, for purchases only, of course, up to 5 per cent of his or her adjusted gross income. When the checks bounced, the government would reimburse the banks. (It is assumed that the banks would honor the checks, which of course they won't do.)

But with the government willing to underwrite deposits and so on, the theory is that this might be a good way, as good as any Heller has devised, to pump more money into the economic life-stream.

You see, all of the checks would be written for purchases. And this would stimulate spending, giving everyone an opportunity to purchase five per cent (of his adjusted gross income) more than he could afford. Since the bad checks would be insured by the banks and made good by federal repayments to the banks, who would be the loser?

Then, everyone could go to work trying to figure out ways and means to move into a higher bad check bracket next year.

If this seems silly, consider it in the light of prior Heller programs. His theory is that we become prosperous as we spend money. The more we spend, the more we have. Further, if we run out of ready cash, to become more prosperous we must borrow more. If we borrow so much we can't even pay the interest on it, what matters? All we have to do is borrow more so we can pay the interest and away we go again.

Just for some of our friends who may be puzzled a bit by our question, "Who could be the loser?" we'd like to take up that point briefly. The question is intended as purely rhetorical.

The fact is, EVERYONE would be the loser. Why?

Because you can't pour water out of an empty bucket.

The government doesn't have any money to redeem bad checks or to do anything else. What the government does have is a great big debt. But every time the government prints money or pays off a bad check the process is the same: all of us taxpayers foot the bill. We may not know it at the time. And it may take a while before the full payment catches up to us. But the fact is that the only truly valuable asset the government has is the millions of taxpayers in its dragnet.

This simple fact simply goes by unheeded in the rush of trying to pay past-due accounts. We note it constantly. Not a day goes by in a community of this size but what some meeting is convened wherein good-intentioned folks urge that the government spend some of the "government's money" to provide more roads, schools, libraries, benefits, welfare payments, hospitals, cemeteries, office buildings or employment. These well-intentioned folks can't seem to get it through their heads that they are advocating further raids on their own incomes and their own futures.

They are actually asking the government to redeem bad checks with their own funds. And if they ever can be convinced of the fact that government has NO FUNDS WHATEVER, but every dime the government spends is going to come from all taxpayers, then what an awakening there will be.

How to Get Rid Of Parking Meters

By G. BOARDMAN, Ph.D.

Parking meters, owned and operated by government, are bad for retail business because they discourage spur of the moment shopping and buying. You get a sudden notion to make a purchase, discover you don't have the right coins in your pocket and that's the end of the notion. I have never talked with a merchant who did not notice a sudden drop in business when parking meters were installed in his community even when he had enough room to provide off the street parking for his patrons.

I have also know merchants who attempted to minimize the evil of the parking meters by chunking pennies into the contraptions all day long. In other words, the merchants patronize the machine which is housing up their business, which is no way to get rid of the machines. A few years ago, parking meters were installed in a community over strong protests from the merchants. During the week before the meters were in- an intelligent merchant took photographs. He followed this with photographs made the following week and showed them to the other merchants. They added up all of their available off the street parking and compared the space with the average number of customers at peak business hours and discovered they had more parking space than customers.

Their next move was to place a full-page advertisement in their local paper advising their patrons to park in any available space in the entire business district. They printed a bunch of window banners which read IT'S NOT THE PENNY, IT'S THE PRINCIPLE. USE OUR OFF-STREET PARKING.

As always, there were merchants who believed anything done by government must be fine and dandy. There were a couple who thought they could make special deals with officers to avoid citations for their customers. The city government tried to belittle the efforts of those who did not favor the parking meters and officials hollered about special interests, the good of the community and ordered the police to be particularly kind and courteous to parking meter patrons. But, there were always more empty spaces than cars and the streets looked forlorn.

The small city government found itself in a horrible fix. Government never admits making a mistake and the city fathers spent much time trying to figure out something which might save their collective faces. They decided to blame the meters! They blasted the manufacturer, crying about jammed meters, faulty timing, unlockable coin boxes, and so on. The manufacturer blasted the city government after checking the meters and finding no troubles, and government blasted right back. About that time, a couple of merchants asked for an audit of the meter operation and when the city government ignored them, they became obnoxiously insistent.

Then came the denouement. Came a Monday morning and the meters which had been in place on Saturday were gone. The city government had one more blast in its public relations cannon and it castigated the selfish, uncooperative merchants and the short-sighted patrons of the merchants and wound up by making a horrible threat. "Our community may well be the only community in the country without parking meters and the people will feel mighty silly if that happens."

Well, the merchants and the patrons took that chance. Unfortunately, a further activity of government all but wrecked the community, anyway. A freeway by-passing of the community, complete with cloverleaf and bottlenecks, took care of the parking situation. Only a few of the original merchants remain, catering to patrons in the immediate area on one side of the freeway.

Fortunately, governmental stupidity cut the government's throat too. Assessed valuation in that business district has dropped by more than 50 per cent. Retail business is off by more than 70 per cent and the sales tax grabbers are unhappy. The merchants who are still doing business in the community are a tough breed. They fought the parking meters and they fought the freeway deal. They continue to fight for the right to do business as independent, self-respecting, self-reliant small merchants. They are the backbone of Main Street and Main Street is the backbone of the nation.

Good luck and good health to you, in Freedom.

Communists in Government

By HARRY BROWNE

The question is often raised "Are there Communists in the federal government?" A loud and lengthy argument frequently follows.

Because the names of specific Communists are not cited it is reasonable to presume there are none in the government. On the other hand, communism is defined as the abolition of private property by political force — and many agencies of government seem to be following such a program.

So the argument continues. But questions should be answered—and this one is too important to leave to endless argument. The matter should be resolved. But how?

HOW TO SOLVE

We can resolve the dilemma simply by making it impossible for Communists to hurt us — in or out of government. If we can do that, it will matter little who may be a Communist and who isn't.

A hundred years ago — when our nation was pointed upward instead of downward — there was little fear that our government had been infiltrated by alien elements. This was because the government was constitutionally restrained from trespassing beyond certain limits. Infiltration was possible, but not profitable — for the infiltrator could only acquire control over a very limited segment of our national life. All the rest was still in the hands of the people, to direct as each individual personally saw fit.

THE PRIZE

But today, however, the federal government has its hands on everything — regulating, controlling, and owning. Whoever can infiltrate and capture control of the government has control of the people as well. No wonder it is a prime target for Communist subversion.

If we once again limit government to the size and scope permitted by the Constitution, we will have no need to fear mysterious and unnamed elements operating within it.

We can defeat Communist infiltration and subversion just by doing what our love of freedom should prompt us to do anyway.

THE WAY TO DO IT

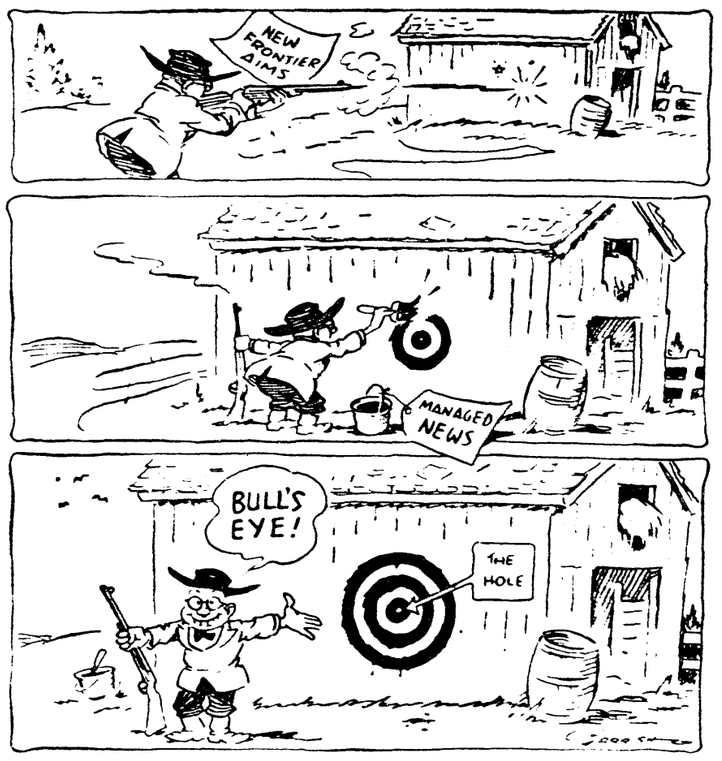

Let's pass the Liberty Amendment which will abolish once and for all the unconstitutional practices of government — and thereby revitalize our productive private enterprise system.

If there are Communists, socialists, or racketeers in government, the Liberty Amendment will render them powerless.

Your state legislature may be one of the 34 that is considering the amendment now. Be sure your state representatives know you support it.

Let's defeat communism — the American way!

OPPOSED

To the Editor:

Day after day, your silver-haired orator hummers away at the American way. Little Huck Finn has some dream in his mind and in order to substantiate it, he shades facts and ideas until they are presentable enough for publication in "Freedom's" name.

What do you want, dear editor? To me, you sound like sour grapes. Are you upset because you don't have enough money to spend, and your wife has no dog-meat-sack? On TV you stated that if Freedom and I use that only in the sense you do, didn't work, we, then, fuppantly, we could always go back to the other way. Isn't that cute. You certainly do believe in your principles, whatever they may be? But, go on, dear man, day after day undermining the belief of Americans in their country. You are helping, in your own picayune way, to bury us.

We can't be lovers if man could exist in his own sphere without any influence or pressure. How on earth do you propose to attain this? As far as I can understand, you advocate allowing industry on all levels to exist. This and this alone would never allow man to be free. As long as man has to work for another to earn his daily scratch, he has an obligation to produce and is limiting his freedom. Labor unions sprang from a need to minister for the recognition of the needs and rights of workers. Is it so terrible that the average man has a chance to work under decent, clean and safe conditions? Perhaps unions have gotten out of hand in this day and age, but more constructive people than yourselves are working to put them in a proper perspective. Our social and welfare laws were not derived from one man sitting in mighty judgment on a people, but from these people in need and having nowhere to turn but to the state. Many reforms, I might add, have been results of newspaper crusades — conceived of and written by people who believed in constructive action. Again, there are abuses of welfare laws but there are these constructive people working to save your precious tax dollar.

What would you propose? I have never yet read an article in your illustrious rag showing how you would deal with those in need. Would you and your sort play Lord and Lady Bountiful at Christmas and Easter with baskets of food? Would you ignore those in need? Or, unless you are completely without human compassion, would you set up a board, somehow manage financing, and produce the same situation all over again? Believe it or not, there are those in this world who are incapable of maintaining themselves.

Let's climb on our little yellow soapboxes and scream "no taxes." We are enslaved by your government thieveries—we don't love you any more." Turn your backs, Americans, on the world, we exist only for ourselves and our pleasures. Keep your dollar tight. Don't give nothing to nobody. The hell with the world. We've got the Monroe Doctrine.

Keep at it, editor. Someday you may have enough letters in your favor from Colorado Springs readers, precluding the necessity of printing those of your affiliated out-of-town papers.

AAUW ON EDUCATION

To the Editor:

The board of directors of the Colorado Springs Branch American Association University Women deem it necessary to protest the proposed "Rampart College" in which the local "Freedom" newspaper and its "Freedom School" are directly involved. Considering the educational and political philosophies of these "Freedom" groups we can foresee no benefits from such a "college" for Colorado Springs, the area, state, or nation. We regret the endorsement of this extremist group by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

AAUW has always advocated that type of education that preserves and promotes the American way of life, and we believe our dual system of tax-supported public schools and privately supported accredited institutions best serve that purpose. At all times we work with other educational and professional organizations to better the nation's educational standards. We support a fellowships program to finance and encourage research projects but we insist this study be done in institutions which provide a free unprejudiced academic atmosphere.

We appreciate the need of colleges and universities for public support and we applaud the motives of generous individuals who wish to give aid. However, after considering the stated policies of an expanded "Freedom School" we ask that a careful investigation be made before giving it approval and financial support.

Nation's Press

"Free Press" Destroys

From the Boulder (Colo.) New Conservative

Editor's note: The following editorial appeared March 20, 1963, in the New Conservative, a weekly newspaper published by the Conservative Club of the University of Colorado. The New Conservative presently serves students at the University of Colorado (11,500), University of Colorado Denver Extension (3,500), University of Colorado Denver Medical Center (650), University of Denver (3,500), Colorado State College (4,500), Regis College (750), Colorado State University (7,000).

The consistently outrageous editorial policy of the Colorado Springs Free Press in its vicious attack on the competition paper, the Gazette Telegraph, causes us to wonder what the purpose and motivation of the Free Press really is. We are particularly concerned when the paper cares to deal with the New Conservative. The answer, however, is no secret. The Free Press is supported by the International Typographical Union; and, according to the Typographical Journal, July, 1953:

"The I T U did not enter the publishing business in Trenton or Colorado Springs for the purpose of making money. The entire project, from the beginning in each instance, sought to help the local union members to hold their established place in the community, to hit hard at the unfair publisher's monopoly, to reduce his income while costs were hiked, and to cut in on his profits — to show him that opposing trades union [illegible] at no expenditure which [illegible] financed by the union to destroy a newspaper well known throughout the state for being one of the best managed papers in Colorado.

But we digress. It is the fiction that commonly parades as editorial policy on the pages of the Free Press we find most distasteful. It would be difficult to imagine a more reprehensible form of journalism than one which pursues a policy of obvious and deliberate distortion of fact; but editorial treatment by the union paper of a feature article in the New Conservative illustrates just such journalism as the Free Press attempts to discredit completely the libertarian, or classical liberal, and attack again the editorial policy of the Gazette Telegraph.

In claiming that a libertarian believes that "the only law would be that imposed by the individual, i.e., the law of the claw and the fang," and that "each man would be 'free' to kill his neighbor if he so desired, to steal from him, to cheat him," the editorial writer of the Free Press has demonstrated the veriest ignorance of the libertarian philosophy which could be rivaled only by CU's librarian, Ralph Ellsworth, in his "American Right Wing."

This brand of editorial comment is thoroughly repugnant though it might be expected after realizing the goals of the union press.

People Must Work To Gain Prosperity

By OSCAR COOLEY
Professor of Economics
Ohio Northern

President Kennedy recommends that the federal government spend $11,900,000,000 more than it receives in the year beginning July 1. He proposes a deliberately unbalanced budget — a planned deficit.

He does so on the theory that it would be good for the country. Lower taxes would encourage people to buy more freely and business to expand. At the same time, increased spending by the government would make more business for those who sell things to the government.

This theory is very appealing. Everyone is pleased by the prospect of having his taxes reduced. If, simultaneously, he can enjoy better business and more employment, the program becomes really alluring. But will it work?

George Shea of The Wall Street Journal points out that this is the very theory followed by the Roosevelt Administration in the 1930's. In every one of the nine years from 1932 to 1940, the government ran at a loss. And they were big losses, ranging from 1.3 to 5.5 per cent of the total national product.

Unemployment in those years varied from a low of 14.3 per cent to a high of 24.9 per cent of the total number of workers. It was a period of continuous depression. Despite strong doses of deficit medicine, the nation's economy remained sick. The notion that we could "spend our way to prosperity" proved a mirage.

Shea compares the 1930's with the 1950's. From 1949 to 1962 the government ran at a loss in each of ten years and at a profit in the other four. Over the whole 14 years, the deficit averaged 0.7 per cent of total national product, a much smaller percentage than in the earlier period. However, the 1950's were a much more prosperous period than the 1930's. Unemployment in the 1950's averaged five per cent, compared with an average of 19 per cent in the 1930's.

In short, a time of relatively low government deficits, the 1950's, was also a time of high prosperity, while the 1930's, marked by heavy annual deficits, was a time of persistent depression. This certainly does not suggest that deficit financing produces prosperity.

But it is often asked, did not the heavy government spending during World War II relieve the unemployment of the 1930's and raise us out of the great depression? Surely, peacetime spending, if liberal enough, will stimulate the economy in like manner.

This theory assumes that production begins with spending. To increase production and employment, more money must be spent, creating demand for goods, which in turn spurs demand for workers to make these goods. Where will the money for spending come from? Let the government create it. Government creation and spending of new money is the panacea for depression, this school of thought holds.

But production does not begin with spending. Production begins with people picking up their tools and going to work. It is workers and entrepreneurs, using capital and land, who produce.

Spending is merely exchange, the buying of things we lack and the selling of things of which we have a surplus. We exchange because we are not self-sufficient. One trades, each as a specialist and each has a surplus of one thing and a shortage of many things, necessitating sale of the first and purchase of the second.

Exchange is just a part of the whole economic process. It is not the start or the cause of production any more than the rooster's crowing is the cause of the sun coming up.

Production starts when entrepreneurs foresee the chance to make profit. In 1941, following the attack on Pearl Harbor which precipitated the United States into World War II, business men foresaw a vast increase in demand for not only war material but civilian goods to send to our allies. Hence, they invested heavily in capital equipment and hired more workers. The workers, in turn, sprang forward to work, because they sensed the opportunity to make good wages. The whole economy shook off the lethargy of pessimism which had depressed it for a decade.

Pessimism also played a role. people went to work not merely to make money but to win the war and protect the United States from its enemies. Production accelerated because of a great surge in the will to work.

Producing more, people earned more, and consequently had more to spend. But spending is secondary to production and follows upon it.

If during the 1960's we have prosperity, it will be because the entrepreneurs are optimistic, foreseeing profits, and the people have a will to work, not because of Mr. Kennedy's government spending more money than it receives.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question No. 172: "How soon and how do we get back again on the gold standard?"

Until there is a return to a free market, and a return to fiscal sanity, there does not appear to be much hope for restoration of the gold standard.

F. C. Harwood, director of the American Institute for Economic Research, last year outlined a six-point program for abandonment of Keynesian economics and return to fiscal responsibility, and eventually to return to the gold standard with full redeemability of currency at the end of an interim period, as happened in 1879 when Congress voted to resume gold payments in 1879. This article was entitled "An Open Letter to President Kennedy" and was published by the American Institute for Economic Research, Great Barrington, Mass. We presume copies are available.

Questions are limited to general human relations questions that will improve the well-being of all mankind on this earth.

COLORADO SPRINGS

GAZETTE TELEGRAPH

Your Freedom Newspaper

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

The 'American Way'

Mrs. P. B. Donohue has written with some passion and much heat. Her letter entitled "Opposed" is in today's Open Parliament section. Her obvious skill with words is worthy of a better cause than the one she has taken up, castigation of ye editor.

Her basic error is that she doesn't understand the American Way and concludes thereby that ye editor is opposed to it. It happens that he is heartily in favor of it.

And just so that there can be no further misunderstanding on this score, we'd like to suggest that Mrs. Donohue take a good look in any good encyclopedia or any reliable history and check out the facts which have been commented on countless times by those who witnessed and evaluated the inauguration of the American Way. May we also suggest that Mrs. Donohue read and study the original American document, the Declaration of Independence?

The thing that made America unique, among all the nations on earth, was the great amount of individual freedom which existed on these shores.

As a necessary counterpart to the great amount of freedom, there was little government. In some places there was virtually no government, of the formalized political variety. Instead, people understood that they would have to make their own way without any government to turn to at all. Many of them were the cast-offs of Europe, supposed by European kings to be the unfit and the unworthy.

What a story they wrote. For these unfit, who Mrs. Donohue thinks can't manage without government assistance, not only managed when the opportunity presented, they established a set of standards so high that those standards have been the envy of the world since that time.

We should not have to comment on the fact that these great gains which occurred in this land from around 1650 until about 1860, occurred without benefit of labor unions, social security, government subsidy, and a hundred other political interventions which Mrs. Donohue thinks are a part of the American Way.

How wrong she is. It was the governmental subsidies, social insurance, agricultural programs and general interventionism in all areas, including governmental interference in freedom of speech and freedom of religion, that drove Europeans to these shores originally and turned them into Americans. Thus, the American Way became a NEW way of life in sharp divergence with the old world way of life.

Since the Civil War in this country, but mostly since the 1930's, this nation has departed the American Way and committed a series of rash political acts which acts are in process of destroying our American Way relating entirely to freedom, freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom to own property, freedom to work without a labor union, freedom to manage one's own affairs.

What does the editor want? The editor has hopes that Americans who read what he writes or listen to what he says, will have a reawakened sense of their own greatness as individuals. He hopes that they will stop depending on government to make decisions for them; to comfort them in time of need; to put salve on their wounds and to bail them out of their difficulties.

Instead, he hopes to have them recall just what the American Way of life used to mean and still can mean if we can act like mature men and women rather than as foundlings from the federal orphanage.

We recall, with some vividness since some of our own ancestors participated in the struggle, that the American War for Independence from Britain (so that the American Way would not be the British Way) was sired over high taxes and excessive government control. And we also recall how the Tories of that day screamed abuses at the Whigs who championed freedom, claiming then that we couldn't manage without the bountiful and loving care of a divinely appointed monarch.

Our crime is that we still believe in the American Way of Freedom. We wish to see the America revolution maintained and extended.

What does Mrs. Donohue want since she rejects these things?

Success and Liability

Businesses become successful when men work with you. Men who only work for you are a liability to themselves and the success of the business.

National Bad Check Day

A friend in Salt Lake City, grown weary of the nonsense dished out by presidential adviser, Walter Heller, and his team of Keynesians, has come up with a proposition.

We can't recommend it, because, of course, there are laws against the practice and we don't want to be in a position of advocating lawlessness. Dishonesty can't pay and what is being suggested is a sort of Heller-type lawlessness comparable to the Heller-type economic foolishness. What is being suggested is a national BAD CHECK day.

Almost all banks today are members of the federal insurance corporation. Deposits are insured and the theory is that thanks to good old Uncle Sam, no one can lose any money any more.

So, let's have a BAD CHECK day.

On this day, each person could write five bad checks, for purchases only, of course, up to 5 per cent of his or her adjusted gross income. When the checks bounced, the government would reimburse the banks. (It is assumed that the banks would honor the checks, which of course they won't do.)

But with the government willing to underwrite deposits and so on, the theory is that this might be a good way, as good as any Heller has devised, to pump more money into the economic life-stream.

You see, all of the checks would be written for purchases. And this would stimulate spending, giving everyone an opportunity to purchase five per cent (of his adjusted gross income) more than he could afford. Since the bad checks would be honored by the banks and made good by federal re-payments to the banks, who would be the loser?

Then, everyone could go to work trying to figure out ways and means to move into a higher bad check bracket next year.

If this seems silly, consider it in the light of prior Heller proposals. His theory is that we become prosperous as we spend money. The more we spend, the more we have. Further, if we run out of ready cash, to become more prosperous we must borrow more. If we borrow so much we can't even pay the interest on it, what matters? All we have to do is borrow more so we can pay the interest and away we go again!

Just for some of our friends who may be puzzled a bit by our question, "Who could be the loser?" we'd like to take up that point briefly. The question is intended as purely rhetorical.

The fact is, EVERYONE would be the loser. Why?

Because you can't pour water out of an empty bucket.

The government doesn't have any money to redeem bad checks or to do anything else. What the government does have is a great big debt. But every time the government prints money or pays off a bad check (the process is the same), all of us taxpayers foot the bill. We may not know it at the time. And it may take a while before the full payment catches up to us. But the fact is that the only truly valuable asset the government has is the millions of taxpayers in its dragnet.

This simple fact simply goes by unheeded in the rush of trying to pay past-due accounts. We note it constantly. Not a day goes by in a community of this size but what some meeting is convened wherein good-intentioned folks urge that the government spend some of the "government's money" to provide more roads, schools, libraries, benefits, welfare payments, hospitals, cemeteries, office buildings or employment. These well-intentioned folks can't seem to get it through their heads that they are advocating further raids on their own incomes and their own futures.

They are actually asking the government to redeem bad checks with their own funds. And if they ever can be convinced of the fact that government has NO FUNDS WHATEVER, but every dime the government spends is going to come from all taxpayers, then what an awakening there will be.

How to Get Rid Of Parking Meters

By G. BOARDMAN, Ph.D.

Parking meters, owned and operated by government, are bad for retail business because they discourage spur of the moment shopping and buying. You get a sudden notion to make a purchase, discover you don't have the right coins in your pocket and that's the end of the notion. I have never talked with a merchant who did not notice a sudden drop in business when parking meters were installed in his community even when he had enough room to provide off the street parking for his patrons.

I have also know merchants who attempted to minimize the evil of the parking meters by chunking pennies into the contraptions all day long. In other words, the merchants patronize the machine which is lousing up their business, which is no way to get rid of the machines. A few years ago, parking meters were installed in a community over strong protests from the merchants. During the week before the meters were installed, an intelligent merchant took photographs. He followed this up with photographs made the following week and showed them to the other merchants. They added up all of their available off the street parking and compared the space with the average number of customers at peak business hours and discovered they had more parking space than customers.

Their next move was to place a full-page advertisement in their local paper advising their patrons to park in any available space in the entire business district. They printed a bunch of window banners which read IT'S NOT THE PENNY, IT'S THE PRINCIPLE; USE OUR OFF-STREET PARKING.

As always, there were merchants who believed anything done by government must be fine and dandy. There were a couple who thought they could make special deals with officers to avoid citations for their customers. The city government tried to belittle the efforts of those who did not favor the parking meters and officials hollered about special interests, the good of the community and ordered the police to be particularly kind and courteous to parking meter patrons. But, there were always more empty spaces than cars and the streets looked forlorn.

The small city government found itself in a horrible fix. Government never admits making a mistake and the city fathers spent much time trying to figure out something which might save their collective faces. They decided to blame the meters! They blasted the manufacturer, crying about jammed meters, faulty timing, unlockable coin boxes, and so on. The manufacturer blasted the city government after checking the meters and finding no troubles, and government blasted right back. About that time, a couple of merchants asked for an audit of the meter operation and when the city government ignored them, they became obnoxiously insistent.

Then came the denouement. Came a Monday morning and the meters which had been in place on Saturday were gone. The city government had one more blast in its public relations cannon and it castigated the selfish, uncooperative merchants and the short-sighted patrons of the merchants and wound up by making a horrible threat. "Our community may well be the only community in the country without parking meters and the people will feel mighty silly if that happens."

Well, the merchants and the patrons took that chance. Unfortunately, a further activity of government all but wrecked the community, anyway. A freeway by-passing of the community, complete with cloverleaf and bottlenecks, took care of the parking situation. Only a few of the original merchants remain, catering to patrons in the immediate area on one side of the freeway.

Fortunately, governmental stupidity cut the government's throat, too. Assessed valuation in that business district has dropped by more than 50 per cent. Retail business is off by more than 70 per cent and the sales tax grabbers are unhappy. The merchants who are still doing business in the community are a tough breed. They fought the parking meters and they fought the freeway deal. They continue to fight for their right to do business as independent, self-respecting, self-responsible merchants. They are the backbone of Main Street and Main Street is the backbone of the nation.

Good luck and good health to you, in Freedom.

The American Way

Communists in Government

By HARRY BROWNE

The question is often raised, "Are there Communists in the federal government?" A loud and lengthy argument frequently follows.

Because the names of specific Communists are not cited, it is reasonable to presume there are none in the government. On the other hand, communism is defined as the abolition of private property by political force — and many agencies of government seem to be following such a program.

So the argument continues. But questions should be answered—and this one is too important to leave to endless argument. The matter should be resolved. But how?

HOW TO SOLVE

We can resolve the dilemma simply by making it impossible for Communists to hurt us — in or out of government. If we can do that, it will matter little who may be a Communist and who isn't.

A hundred years ago — when our nation was pointed upward instead of downward — there was little fear that our government had been infiltrated by alien elements. This was because the government was constitutionally restrained from trespassing beyond certain limits. Infiltration was possible, but not profitable — for the infiltrator could only acquire control over a very limited segment of our national life. All the res was still in the hands of the people, to direct as each individual personally saw fit.

THE PRIZE

But today, however, the federal government has its hands on everything — regulating, controlling, and owning. Whoever can infiltrate and capture control of the government has control of the people as well. No wonder it is a prime target for Communist subversion.

If we once again limit government to the size and scope permitted by the Constitution, we will have no need to fear mysterious and unnamed elements operating within it.

We can defeat Communist infiltration and subversion just by doing what our love of freedom should prompt us to do anyway.

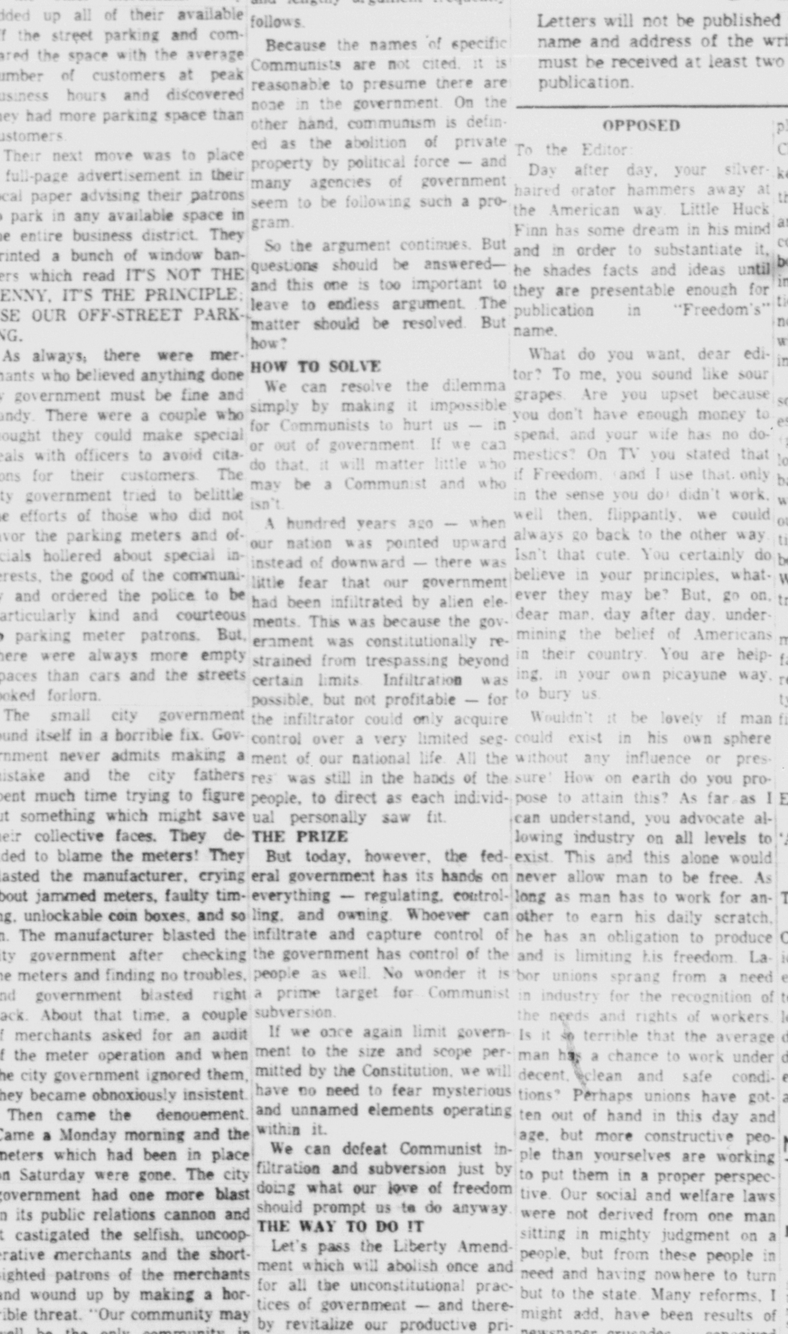

THE WAY TO DO IT

Let's pass the Liberty Amendment which will abolish once and for all the unconstitutional practices of government — and thereby revitalize our productive private enterprise system.

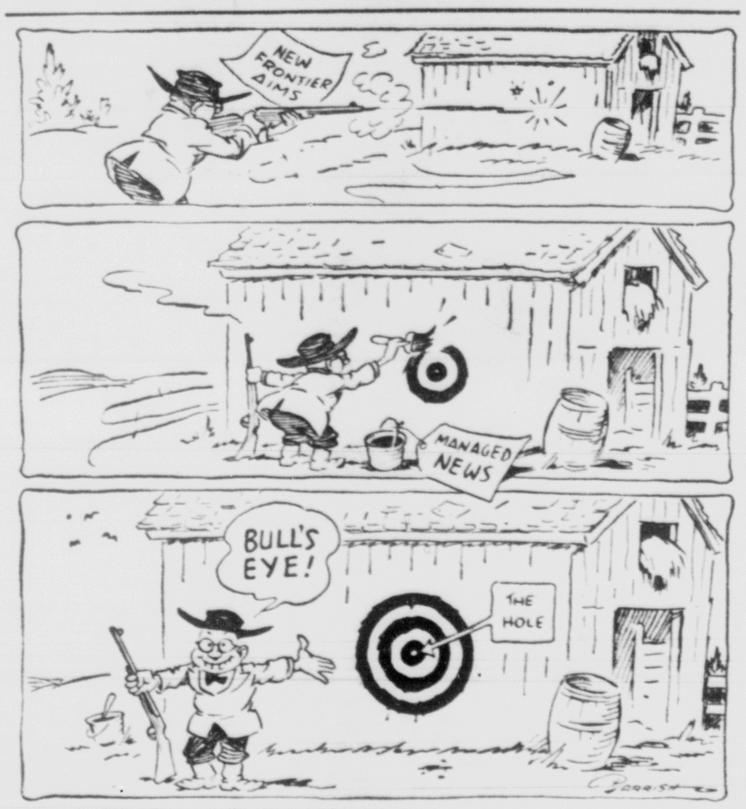

If there are Communists, socialists, or racketeers in government, the Liberty Amendment will render them powerless.

Your state legislature may be one of the 34 that is considering the amendment now. Be sure your state representatives know you support it.

Let's defeat communism — the American way!

AAUW ON EDUCATION

To the Editor:

The board of directors of the Colorado Springs Branch American Association University Women deem it necessary to protest the proposed "Rampart College" in which the local "Freedom" newspaper and its "Freedom School" are directly involved. Considering the educational and political philosophies of these "Freedom" groups we can forsee no benefits from such a "college" for Colorado Springs, the area, state, or nation. We regret the endorsement of this extremist group by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

AAUW has always advocated that type of education that preserves and promotes the American way of life, and we believe our dual system of tax-supported public schools and privately supported accredited institutions best serve that purpose. At all times we work with other educational and professional organizations to better the nation's educational standards. We support a fellowships program to finance and encourage research projects but we insist this study be done in institutions which provide a free unprejudiced academic atmosphere.

We appreciate the need of colleges and universities for public support and we applaud the motives of generous individuals who wish to give aid. However, after considering the stated policies of an expanded "Freedom School" we ask that a careful investigation be made before giving it approval and financial support.

Nation's Press

"Free Press" Destroys

From the Boulder (Colo.) New Conservative

Editor's note: The following editorial appeared March 20, 1963, in the New Conservative, a weekly newspaper published by the Conservative Club of the University of Colorado. The New Conservative presently serves students at the University of Colorado (11,500), University of Colorado Denver Extension (5,500), University of Colorado Denver Medical Center (650), University of Denver (5,500), Colorado State College (4,500), Regis College (750), Colorado State University (7,000).

The consistently outrageous editorial policy of the Colorado Springs Free Press in its vicious attack on the competition paper, the Gazette Telegraph, causes us to wonder what the purpose and motivation of the Free Press really is. We are particularly concerned when the paper cares to deal with the New Conservative. The answer, however, is no secret. The Free Press is supported by the International Typographical Union; and, according to the Typographical Journal, July, 1953:

"The I.T.U. did not enter the publishing business in Trenton or Colorado Springs for the purpose of making money. The entire project, from the beginning in each instance, sought to help the local union members to hold their established place in the community, to hit hard at the unfair publisher's monopoly, to reduce his income while costs were hiked, and to cut in on his profits — to show him that opposing trades unionism is a costly matter — all at an expenditure which, balancing the results against costs, compares fairly with the expense of maintaining picket lines showing little or no results."

So the cat is out of the bag — the Free Press was created and financed by the union to destroy a newspaper well known throughout the state for being one of the best managed papers in Colorado.

But we digress. It is the fiction that commonly parades as editorial policy on the pages of the Free Press we find most distasteful. It would be difficult to imagine a more reprehensible form of journalism than one which pursues a policy of obvious and deliberate distortion of fact; but editorial treatment by the union paper of a feature article in the New Conservative illustrates just such journalism as the Free Press attempts to discredit completely the libertarian, or classical liberal, and attack again the editorial policy of the Gazette Telegraph.

In claiming that a libertarian believes that "the only law would be that imposed by the individual, i.e., the law of the claw and the fang," and that "each man would be 'free' to kill his neighbor if he so desired, to steal from him, to cheat him," the editorial writer of the Free Press has demonstrated the veriest ignorance of the libertarian philosophy which could be rivaled only by CU's librarian, Ralph Ellsworth, in his "American Right Wing."

This brand of editorial comment is thoroughly repugnant though it might be expected after realizing the goals of the union press.

People Must Work To Gain Prosperity

By OSCAR COOLEY
Professor of Economics
Ohio Northern

President Kennedy recommends that the federal government spend $11,900,000,000 more than it receives in the year beginning July 1. He proposes a deliberately unbalanced budget — a planned deficit.

He does so on the theory that it would be good for the country. Lower taxes would enourage people to buy more freely and business to expand. At the same time, increased spending by the government would make more business for those who sell things to the government.

This theory is very appealing. Everyone is pleased by the prospect of having his taxes reduced. If, simultaneously, he can enjoy better business and more employment, the program becomes really alluring. But will it work?

George Shea of "The Wall Street Journal" points out that this is the very theory followed by the Roosevelt Administration in the 1930's. In every one of the nine years from 1932 to 1940, the government ran at a loss. And they were big losses, ranging from 1.3 to 5.5 per cent of the total national product.

Unemployment in those years varied from a low of 14.3 per cent to a high of 24.9 per cent of the total number of workers. It was a period of continuous depression. Despite strong doses of deficit medicine, the nation's economy remained sick. The notion that we could "spend our way to prosperity" proved a mirage.

Shea compares the 1930's with the 1950's. From 1949 to 1962 the government ran at a loss in each of ten years and at a profit in the other four. Over the whole 14 years, the deficit averaged 0.7 per cent of total national product, a much smaller percentage than in the earlier period. However, the 1950's were a much more prosperous period than the 1930's. Unemployment in the 1950's averaged five per cent, compared with an average of 19 per cent in the 1930's.

In short, a time of relatively low government deficits, the 1950's, was also a time of high prosperity, while the 1930's, marked by heavy annual deficits, was a time of persistent depression. This certainly does not suggest that deficit financing produces prosperity.

But it is often asked, did not the heavy government spending during World War II relieve the unemployment of the 1930's and raise us out of the great depression? Surely, peacetime spending, if liberal enough, will stimulate the economy in like manner.

This theory assumes that production begins with spending. To increase production and employment, more money must be spent, creating demand for goods, which in turn spurs demand for workers to make the goods. Where will the money for spending come from? Let the government create it. Government creation and spending of new money is the panacea for depression, this school of thought holds.

But production does not begin with spending. Production begins with people picking up their tools and going to work. It is workers and entrepreneurs, using capital and land, who produce.

Spending is merely exchange, the buying of things we lack and the selling of things of which we have a surplus. We exchange because we are not jacks - of - all-trades; each is a specialist and hence has a surplus of one thing and a shortage of many things, necessitating sale of the first and purchase of the second.

Exchange is just a part of the whole economic process. It is not the start or the cause of production any more than the rooster's crowing is the cause of the sun coming up.

Production starts when entrepreneurs foresee the chance to make profit. In 1941, following the attack on Pearl Harbor which precipitated the United States into World War II, business men foresaw a vast increase in demand for not only war material but civilian goods to send to our allies. Hence, they invested heavily in capital equipment and hired more workers. The workers, in turn, sprang forward to work, because they sensed the opportunity to make good wages. The whole economy shook off the lethargy of pessimism which had depressed it for a decade.

Patriotism also played a role; people went to work not merely to make money but to win the war and protect the United States from its enemies. Production accelerated because of a great surge in the will to work.

Producing more, people earned more, and consequently had more to spend. But spending is secondary to production and follows upon it.

If during the 1960's we have prosperity, it will be because the entrepreneurs are optimistic, foreseeing profits, and the people have a will to work, not because of Mr. Kennedy's government spending more money than it receives.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question No. 172: "How soon and how do we get back again on the gold standard?"

Until there is a return to a free market, and a return to fiscal sanity, there does not appear to be much hope for restoration of the gold standard.

E. C. Harwood, director of the American Institute for Economic Research, last year outlined a six-point program for abandonment of Keynesian economics and return to fiscal responsibility, and eventually to return to the gold standard with full redeemability of currency at the end of an interim period, as happened in 1875 when Congress voted to resume gold payments in 1879. This article was entitled "An Open Letter to President Kennedy" and was published by the American Institute for Economic Research, Great Barrington, Mass. We presume copies are available.

Questions are limited to general human relations questions that will improve the well-being of all mankind on this earth.

11,000 Utah Teachers May Stage Walkout

By R. GREG NOKES

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) Utah school teachers and the State Legislature are embroiled in a controversy over school finances that could result in a strike by most of the state's 11,000 teachers next fall.

The teachers, represented by the Utah Education Association, have broken off all contract negotiations for the 1963-64 school year in protest over what they consider inadequate support of public schools by the state.

The 1963 State Legislature passed a school finance bill prior to adjournment Saturday, but John Evans, executive secretary of the association, said "it isn't sufficient."

Evans said a special session of the legislature might be necessary before the teachers would resume negotiations with local school boards.

Gov. George D. Clyde and the Republican majority in the legislature say their program is more than adequate, the legislature even providing slightly more than the governor had wanted.

The governor said he sees "no cause to call a special session at this time."

Gov. Clyde said he thought the legislature "did very well by public education," providing "the most ever given schools in the history of Utah."

The legislature approved a program that would guarantee the school districts $6,850 per classroom unit, an increase of $1,100 over the previous biennium. There would be a supplemental guarantee of $800 for districts willing to levy an additional 4-mills in taxes.

The association had considered as a minimum a program for $7,000 per classroom unit, and a supplemental program of $2,000.

Evans said if the state did nothing more to meet the teachers demands "it would definitely be a possibility" that schools might not open next fall.

According to figures provided by the association Utah school teachers receive an average annual salary of $5,066, compared with the national average of $5,557. They rank 29th in the country.

The legislature also passed a legislative reapportionment bill, increased the state sales tax from 3 to 3½ cents, doubled the tax on cigarettes from 4 to 8 cents, approved so-called "reeport" legislation which allows in-transmit goods to be stored in Utah tax-free for periods up to one year, and repealed a state law which bars marriage between whites and persons of dark-skinned races.

By TED LEWIS

WASHINGTON. — A strange pause in the GOP's pre-occupation with the Cuba issue has most definitely developed.

The obvious conclusion is that administration critics think they have drained the issue dry, but the lull is actually one for which such a simple explanation is misleading.

A wide and somewhat disconcerting variety of reasons are being offered by party leaders in and out of Congress for what at least is a temporary muffling of the Cuba issue. These, of course include the explanation that a "party line" needs to be established before the issue gets out of hand due to the fact that some name Republicans urge invasion and a total blockade, while others oppose extreme measures, at least at this time.

Such a reappraisal of the party's position on the question of what action, if any, the Kennedy Administration should be pressured to take, makes considerable sense, especially as Cuba most certainly will be a hot issue in the 1964 National Elections.

In this connection there is no doubt that some Republicans, including Senate GOP Leader Everett Dirksen (Ill.) have been disturbed over the possibility that administration Democrats would try to pin the "war party" tag on the GOP. This fear was generated especially when Rep. William E. Miller (N.Y.), Republican national chairman, called for a blockade of Cuba even if such a blockade was construed as an act of war.

Even before Miller sounded off alone this line, so-called "moderate influences," particularly in the Senate GOP policy committee, had moved for soft pedaling party criticism of the administration for failure to act forcefully to eliminate the Red threat 90 miles from our shores.

Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky.) pleaded in closed party meetings, it was learned, for what they called "A more responsible approach." And warned that it could be politically dangerous to disavow at this time a bi-partisan foreign policy, so far as Cuba was concerned.

There have been indications that former President Eisenhower, as well as Gov. Rockefeller had made their weight felt somewhat along the same line.

Such pressures as these constitute as good an explanation as any now available for the relative Cuba calm in Congress in the last few weeks. For example, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY), chief baiter of the administration on Cuba, has been strangely silent since March 4. On that date he issued his last blast — charging that CIA intelligence on Cuba had always been competent — that it was the administration's refusal to accept CIA intelligence findings that was to blame for the Cuba mess.

Since then Keating's tack has been interesting. For example, in answer to a letter from a former soldier asking him why he was so eager to invade Cuba, Keating replied:

"Let me say in the strongest language I can use that I do not favor an invasion of Cuba, and never have, and have never said so. I am not even convinced that a blockade or quarantine will become necessary, provided we promptly take other steps in our power."

This exchange of letters points up, in the opinion of so-called GOP "Moderates" on the Cuba issue the fact that war and peace in connection with Cuba is a tricky issue, and that those who criticize the President too badly are in the public mind presupposed advocates of invasion.

There is plenty of solid evidence that the Cuba "lull" has taken hold, despite opposition of National Chairman Miller and others who think the issue has caught on with the public, and should not be allowed to die down even for awhile.

The last weekly issue of the Republican congressional committee's newsletter, after weeks of blazing away on the Cuba issue, switched to criticism of President Kennedy's tax program and budget proposals. And in a TV interview on Sunday Rep. John W. Byrnes (R-Wis.), chairman of the House Republican Policy Committee, switched to the new cautious "party line" approach.

Byrnes denied that Republicans were demanding action "now." Their complaint, he insisted was that the administration lacked a real Cuba policy.

"That is what we are asking, that at least a policy determined and then we will judge it."

The "Cuba Lull" did not however entirely develop as a result of efforts by party leaders to restrain the sharpest most bellicose critics of the administration. In our opinion, the "go easy" approach was sold most effectively to Keating and other leading critics by CIA Chief John McCone. As a long time partisan Republican McCone was able to make out a case for his agency's efficiency in keeping tabs on Cuba.

If the time should come when its information was not heeded, then and then only would a partis naattack be proper. Meanwhile it was quietly reminded, congressional Republicans should be careful not to get too far out on the Cuba limbs — for after all the President alone is privy to the most vital and accurate intelligence information, and could saw off that GOP limb at a most politically embarrassing time.

SIGNS FOR CORNERSTONE—Harry A. McColl, right, of 2 Belle Arc, Broadmoor, veteran representative of New York Life Insurance Company's Colorado Springs office, participated Monday in his second cornerstone laying in 34 years. Dudley Dowell, president, watches as McColl signs his name in a book which will be placed in the cornerstone of the new 18-story addition to New York Life's well-known home office building in New York City, the 15th tallest in the world. McColl participated in similar ceremonies of the 26-story building 34 years ago where his name is also in the cornerstone.

Pipeline Ruling Is Appealed to Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Justice Department today appealed to the Supreme Court a 1962 ruling that acquisition of Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corp. by El Paso Natural Gas Company is permissible under the antitrust laws.

The ruling was handed down on Nov. 20 by Federal District Judge W. L. W. Ritter of Salt Lake City.

The department contended that the merger violated the Clayton Act. This law bars acquisitions wherein any line of commerce in any section of the country, the effect of such acquisitions may be substantially to lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly."

The appeal questioned the standards used by Judge Ritter to determine there was no lessening of competition.

Ritter not only found that El Paso lacked any anti-competitive purpose but also that the merger had the benefit of enabling the company to produce more gas in conjunction with oil. He also found a further benefit of extending natural gas facilities in the Northwest at lower rates than Pacific Northwest could have offered.

At the time of the merger El Paso was operating a pipeline system of more than 6,700 miles. The company purchases and produces natural gas in the Permian Basin in southeastern New Mexico, the Pannandle field in Texas and Oklahoma, and the San Juan Basin in New Mexico and Colorado.

Housing Industry Said 'Saturated'

DENVER (UPI) — A New York consultant said Tuesday the housing industry was becoming saturated and this was forcing manufacturers to trade up to better quality home design and construction.

Arthur S. Goldman, president of Arthur Saxon Goldman Associates, spoke Tuesday at the American Savings and Loan Institute convention here. He said savings and loan associates must work closely with all segments of the housing field to stimulate the public with a desire for better homes.

He said the housing industry will have to learn to sell its product in a saturated market and that people are already have fairly good standards, be so dissatisfied with what they have that they will want new something new and much better.

WASHINGTON, — A strange pause in the GOP's pre-occupation with the Cuba issue has most definitely developed.

The obvious conclusion is that administration critics think they have drained the issue dry, but the lull is actually one for which such a simple explanation is misleading.

A wide and somewhat disconcerting variety of reasons are being offered by party leaders in and out of Congress for what at least is a temporary muffling of the Cuba issue. These, of course, include the explanation that a "party line" needs to be established before the issue gets out of hand due to the fact that some name Republicans urge invasion and a total blockade, while others oppose extreme measures, at least at this time.

Such a reappraisal of the party's position on the question of what action, if any, the Kennedy Administration should be pressured to take, makes considerable sense, especially as Cuba most certainly will be a hot issue in the 1964 National Elections.

In this connection there is no doubt that some Republicans, including Senate GOP Leader Everett Dirksen (Ill.) have been disturbed over the possibility that administration Democrats would try to pin the "war party" tag on the GOP. This fear was generated especially when Rep. William E. Miller (N.Y.) Republican national chairman, called for a blockade of Cuba even if such a blockade was construed as an act of war.

Even before Miller sounded off alone this line, so-called "moderate influences," particularly in the Senate GOP policy committee, had moved for soft pedaling party criticism of the administration for failure to act forcefully to eliminate the Red threat 90 miles from our shores.

Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-KY) pleaded in closed party meetings, it was learned, for what they called "A more responsible approach." And warned that it could be politically dangerous to disavow at this time a bi-partisan foreign policy, so far as Cuba was concerned.

There have been indications that former President Eisenhower, as well as Gov. Rockefeller had made their weight felt somewhat along the same line.

Such pressures as these constitute as good an explanation as any now available for the relative Cuba calm in Congress in the last few weeks. For example, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY) chief baiter of the administration on Cuba, has been strangely silent since March 4. On that date he issued his last blast — charging that CIA intelligence on Cuba had always been competent — that it was the administration's refusal to accept CIA intelligence findings that was to blame for the Cuba mess.

Since then Keating's tack has been interesting. For example, in answer to a letter from a former soldier asking him why he was "so eager to invade Cuba," Keating replied:

"Let me say in the strongest language I can use that I do not favor an invasion of Cuba, and never have, and have never said so. I am not even convinced that a blockade or quarantine will become necessary, provided we promptly take other steps in our power."

This exchange of letters points up, in the opinion of so-called GOP "Moderates," on the Cuba issue the fact that war and peace in connection with Cuba is a tricky issue, and that those who criticize the President too badly are in the public mind presupposed advocates of invasion.

There is plenty of solid evidence that the Cuba "lull" has taken hold, despite opposition of National Chairman Miller and others who think the issue has caught on with the public, and should not be allowed to die down, even for awhile.

The last weekly issue of the Republican congressional committee's newsletter, after weeks of blazing away on the Cuba issue, switched to criticism of President Kennedy's tax program and budget proposals. And in a TV interview on Sunday Rep. John W. Byrnes (R-Wis), chairman of the House Republican Policy Committee, switched to the new cautious "party line" approach.

Byrnes denied that Republicans were demanding action "now." Their complaint, he insisted was that the administration lacked a real Cuba policy.

"That is what we are asking, that at least a policy determined and then we will judge it."

The "Cuba Lull" did not however entirely develop as a result of efforts by party leaders to restrain the sharpest most bellicose critics of the administration. In our opinion, the "go easy" approach was sold most effectively to Keating and other leading critics by CIA Chief John McCone. As a long time partisan Republican McCone was able to make out a case for his agency's efficiency in keeping tabs on Cuba.

If the time should come when its information was not heeded, then and then only would a partis naattack be proper. Meanwhile it was quietly reminded, congressional Republicans should be careful not to get too far out on the Cuba limbs — for after all the President alone is privy to the most vital and accurate intelligence information, and could saw off that GOP limb at a most politically embarrassing time.

SIGNS FOR CORNERSTONE—Harry A. McColl, right, of 2 Belle A. e, Broadmoor, veteran representative of New York Life Insurance Company's Colorado Springs office, participated Monday in his second cornerstone laying in 34 years. Dudley Dowell, president, watches as McColl signs his name in a book which will be placed in the cornerstone of the new 16-story addition to New York Life's well-known home office building in New York City, the 18th tallest in the world. McColl qualified to attend dedication ceremonies of the original building 34 years ago where his name is also in the cornerstone.

Pipeline Ruling Is Appealed to Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Justice Department today appealed to the Supreme Court a 1962 ruling that acquisition of Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corp. by El Paso Natural Gas Company is permissible under the antitrust laws.

The ruling was handed down on Nov. 20 by Federal District Judge Willis W. Ritter of Salt Lake City.

The department contended that the merger violated the Clayton Act. This law bars acquisitions wherein any line of commerce in any section of the country, the effect of such acquisitions may be substantially to lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly."

The appeal questioned the "standards" used by Judge Ritter to determine there was no lessening of competition.

Ritter not only found that El Paso lacked any anti-competitive purpose but also that the merger had the benefit of enabling the company to produce more gas in conjunction with oil. He also found a further benefit of extending natural gas facilities in the Northwest at lower rates than Pacific Northwest could have offered.

At the time of the merger El Paso was operating a pipeline system of more than 6,700 miles. The company purchases and produces natural gas in the Permian Basin in southeastern New Mexico, the Panhandle field in Texas and Oklahoma, and the San Juan Basin in New Mexico and Colorado.

Housing Industry Said 'Saturated'

DENVER (UPI)—A New York consultant said Tuesday the housing industry was becoming "saturated," and thus was forcing higher quality home design and construction.

Arthur S. Goldman, president of Arthur Sworn Goldman Associates spoke Tuesday at the American Savings and Loan Institute convention here. He said savings and loan associates "must work close with all segments of the housing field to bring about the higher standards which will stimulate families to trade up to better homes."

He said the housing industry "will have to learn to sell its product in a saturated market," and that "people who already have fairly good shelter will be so dissatisfied with what they have that they will want to buy something new and much better."

Two Damage Suits Filed in District Court

Two damage suits were filed in District Court Wednesday.

The first, for $23,169.19, was filed by Olinda Kraus against the American Finance Corporation of Colorado Springs.

It is alleged the defendant owned property at 11 E. Colorado Ave. May 16, 1962, when the plaintiff, as a customer, was visiting the building. Accompanied by an employee of the company the plaintiff was asked to go to the rear of the establishment where she fell.

The suit states the plaintiff is totally disabled and will suffer permanent injuries.

The second, a $14,000 suit, was filed by Curtis Martin Beecher against Myra Mae Gables.

According to the complaint, the plaintiff was driving west on Costilla Street, Nov. 20, 1962. The defendant was traveling east and driving "careless and negligently." At the intersection of Wasatch Avenue the defendant's vehicle hit the plaintiff's.

It is alleged Beecher "was made sick, sore, lame and disabled" and has incurred $4,000 in medical expenses.

JFK Promises Multi-Million Aid to Latins

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — Cheered by a U.S. pledge to protect their coasts against Cuban infiltrators, six Central American chief executives make individual pleas to President Kennedy today for economic aid to better the lot of their peoples.

Although advocates of drastic action against Fidel Castro lost out, the Latin presidents generally seemed satisfied and joined Kennedy in a seven-nation Declaration of Central America which expressed confidence that the Castro regime will fall soon.

Kennedy promised that the United States will tighten its anti-subversion ring around Cuba with more plane and ship protection off Central America's Caribbean coast.

An authoritative source said that Kennedy, in the private sessions Tuesday, impressed the presidents of Panama, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua with the extent of U.S. military commitments—short of "shooting at Cuba"—which he revealed to them.

Kennedy also promised multi-million-dollar aid for their program of regional economic and social development. But each president had pet projects of his own and each was allotted a half hour today to plug them.

Kennedy scheduled talks with Francisco Orlich of Costa Rica, Julio Rivera of El Salvador, Miguel Ydigoras of Guatemala, Ramon Villeda Morales of Honduras, Luis Somoza of Nicaragua and Roberto Chiari of Panama.

This afternoon the U.S. president was to address students at the University of Costa Rica before boarding his jet plane for Washington.

To protect their countries against Communist infiltration, the presidents agreed:

1. To ask the Organization of American States for early action to counteract Castro-Communist subversion.

2. To hold a meeting of security officials at the Cabinet level within four weeks—probably at Managua, Nicaragua—to plan measures to halt the flow of their nationals to Cuba and the flow of Communist money, propaganda and arms from Cuba. U.S. officials indicated that Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy may attend.

3. To arrange for more rapid and complete exchange of intelligence on such movements.

The presidents said they will seek the cooperation of other countries. An authoritative source said they mean Mexico through which much of the traffic between Cuba and Central America has been passing.

The Soviet news agency Tass, without waiting for the text of the declaration, described it as a new conspiracy against Cuba. It saw the economic development in the conference as a further binding of the Latin republics to the United States.

The presidents agreed to speed up their fledgling common market which would tie in later with a Latin American free trade area.

In a five-point economic program, Kennedy agreed to:

GORDON IN HELLMAN FARCE

NEW YORK (AP)—The costars of Lillian Hellman's latest play, "My Mother, My Father and Me" are to be Ruth Gordon and Walter Matthau. The play, described as a farce, arrives on Broadway in late March.

Miss Gordon is participating in the production instead of appearing this season on a play she wrote herself, but which ran into financing difficulties.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — The American bison never roamed near this city, but it is believed the name of the community comes from a description of the Niagara River as "belle fleuve," which was pronounced "boof-flo" by local Indians.

Farm Bureau Urges Balancing of Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Farm Bureau Federation told Congress today it should vote balancing cuts in spending—even for farm price supports—before granting a tax reduction.

The big farm organization said it is prepared to recommend a $1 billion cut in price support payments and operations as part of a program to trim at least $13.6 billion in new spending authority from the 1964 budget.

Roger Fleming, the Farm Bureau's Washington director, said in testimony before the House Ways and Means Committee that if and when such balancing reductions in expenditures were made the federation would support a tax rate reduction similar to President Kennedy's recommendation.

"Farm Bureau rejects the philosophy and the theory that the United States can have tax reduction without earning it through reduced expenditures," Fleming said. "We reject the contention that the biggest budget in the history of this country cannot be reduced."

Military Crack Down in Korean Political Strife

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Ex-President Yun Po-sun defied South Korea's military junta today with a demonstration of ... supporters from Seoul's City Hall Plaza to the U.S. Embassy.

Some 7,000 persons gathered in the plaza to see Yun, 65, take to the streets with his campaign against the military junta's plan to extend its rule for four more years.

The military had banned all political activity and demonstrations.

Yun Po-sun and his ... were ... barred them from the streets and to the embassy. Yun was hurried away.

Earlier, two major political parties—Yun's Civil Rule party and the Shinjung party of former Premier Huh Chung—announced they would launch a nationwide campaign to "fight to the death" against the junta's continued power.

In a joint statement the parties demanded that the junta chief Gen. Chung Hee Park withdraw immediately his proposal for a plebiscite to give his regime four more years of life.

Huh Chung said earlier he had learned of moves by students to take to the streets as they did three years ago to oust President Syngman Rhee.

The joint party statement, which ignored Park's ban on political activity or criticism of his move, also demanded release of persons arrested for distributing leaflets attacking the general.

Yun, Huh and three other political leaders called on Park Tuesday to demand that he abandon his plebiscite proposal. They asked him to live up to his promise of elections this spring and restoration of civilian government in August.

Park replied that he would withdraw his proposal for a 12-day period during which he would consider whether to withdraw it permanently. He indicated he would abandon the plan if tainted, corrupt politicians would step out of political life.

The five political leaders rejected Park's condition. "Any conditional proposal is not acceptable," Yun declared.

The Civil Rule and Shinjung parties said they would convene a meeting of political leaders who pledged in a public ceremony Feb. 27 to uphold the ideals of the military revolution, including its goal of purging Korean politics of corruption. Park at the same ceremony had reaffirmed his pledge to give way to a civilian government this summer.

Huh in his separate statement pointed out that the junta itself had cut its political blacklist to a few hundred names and cleared most of the former politicians on the ground they had repented during the two-year suspension of political activity after the May 1961 military coup.

Farm Bureau Urges Balancing of Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Farm Bureau Federation told Congress today it should vote balancing cuts in spending—even for farm price supports—before granting a tax reduction.

The big firm organization said it is prepared to recommend a $1 billion cut in price support payments and operations as part of a program to trim at least $13.6 billion in new spending authority from the 1964 budget.

Roger Fleming, the Farm Bureau's Washington director, said in testimony before the House Ways and Means Committee that if and when such balancing reductions in expenditures were made the federation would support a tax rate reduction similar to President Kennedy's recommenation.

"Farm Bureau rejects the philosophy and the theory that the United States can have tax reduction without earning it through reduced expenditures," Fleming said. "We reject the contention that the biggest budget in the history of this country cannot be reduced."

MIRACLE CORN OIL MARGARINE

Tennessee River Completely Shut Off by Dams

By BOB HORTON

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Rain beats monotously against a house in northern Alabama, on a tobacco field in southern Kentucky and down a gully in Tennessee.

From the farmer to the salaried man to the independent operator in the sand-hauling business along the Tenessee River, the questios are about the same—

How much is it going to rain? When is it going to quit?

What is the Tennessee Valley Authority doing about it?

No one can answer the first two with certainty. That complicates the answer to the third, which involves hours of tedious paperwork, split-second figuring by man and computer, perhaps hurried messages by microwave radio during the night, and juggling of waters behind more than two dozen dams.

The TVA that swirled with political controversy in the '30s today in the face of floods can shut off completely the Tennessee River where it enters the Ohio River at Paducah, Ky.

One of its decision-makers is Alfred Cooper, chief of TVA's river control branch, who sums up his job? "We fight time."

If conditions call for it white-haired, bespectacled Cooper twists the technical faucets that turn off the Tennessee.

The Tennessee was stopped dead in 1959, 1960 and 1961 to control flooding on the lower Ohio and down the Mississippi. TVA figures it has averted about $31.5 million damages along those areas by regulating the Tennessee's flow.

At Chattanooga, Tenn., TVA estimates it has prevented $148 million losses from 31 potentially damaging floods.

If Cooper has any simple formula for controlling a runaway river, it is this: Clear the mainstream of as much water as possible ahead of an expected flood crest, and hold back waters from the tributaries until the crest passes.

The hitch is deciding which of TVA's nine mainstream dams to open and which of its five major tributary dams to close, how much and for how long.

The answers are determined at TVA's 25-man flood control office beginning about 7:30 a.m., when a reproduction machine begins reeling out sheets filled with data on rainfall, reservoir elevations and discharges at each dam.

Minutes later, a teletype begins spelling out forecasts from the Weather Burea, where TVA pays the salaries of three meteorologists.

About 8:05 a.m., information begins pouring in from 10 area offices where field engineers have received reports from 200 rainfall stations and 43 stream gauges throughout the valley.

With other data, the rainfall measurements are fed into a computer—rented for $1,500 a month—which spits forth averages and such technical information as "runoff indexes."

Armed with computations, Cooper and other experts huddle in the seventh floor of a TVA building in Knoxville to discuss where the critical flood points are.

After brief discussions, they decide to begin preliminary discharges to empty the mainstream for storage capacity. Orders go out to various dams to step up discharges by carefully calculated amounts.

With a new flood crest coming down the Ohio, TVA Tuesday curtailed the Tennessee flow from 350,000 cubic feet per second—160 million gallons a minute—to 250,000 CFS. It may be cut to 200,00 CFS.

The idea is to slice the Tennessee flow to a minimum when the Ohio flood crest passes Paducah—about Wednesday—and then allow the Tennessee's pent-up waters to flow in behind.

How to Keep Well

By DR. T. R. VAN DELLEN

To the fruit of many questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Emphasis will be placed on those which are of general interest. Personal problems cannot be answered. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

MEDICAL BROWSING

The British health service is having wig trouble. The worldwide demand for fashion wigs threatens to reduce the supply of those needed for medical purposes. This fashion trend has led to an international shortage in the supply of human hair and a marked rise in its cost. Two of the largest English wig-making firms are cancelling their contracts with the health service.

According to a letter in the Journal of the American Medical Association, the ministry of health furnished more than 10,000 wigs last year to persons for whom a medical need was established. Natural baldness is not a valid reason. Most of the demand in Britain is among young women factory workers whose hair got caught in the machinery. Each patient receives two — one to be used while the other is being cleaned. The cost to the British health service ranges from $59 to $70. The patient is charged $7 for a full wig, or $14 for the pair.

A New York City physician found himself in a dilemma. He tried to revive his pet monkey by mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and learned later that the animal had tuberculosis. He asked the American Thoracic society whether tuberculosis could be transmitted in this way. The answer was that the likelihood was small and the emergency circumstances he encountered usually overrides precautions against this remote possibility.

This is understandable because tuberculosis is transmitted by droplets expelled in coughing, sneezing, or talking. These particles are inhaled into the air sacs, establishing beachheads for the micro-organisms.

Direct contact with the lips and mouth do not spread the infection unless there are scratches in the membranes in these areas. Tubercle bacilli can enter thru the tonsils and intestinal tract but the chances are remote while doing mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

The society also made the suggestion that all pet monkeys be examined regularly for tuberculosis. They are susceptible to the disease and transmit the organisms via the airborne route unless the condition is detected and treated early.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self - addressed envelope accompanies request.

Reply

Do what is best for you. Going to bed, closing the eyes, and falling asleep immediately are ideal but few of us can "unlax" so rapidly. Others resort to reading or listening to music. This is not harmful and has the same effect as closing the eyes and trying to fall asleep. These methods are better than taking a sleeping pill.

Go to college and take the courses required for admission to a medical school. While in college, take the medical college admissions test and make application to a medical school 12 to 16 months in advance of the beginning of the school year. Then get on your knees and pray you will be accepted.

Northglenn Defeats Incorporation Plan

NORTHGLENN (AP) — Northglenn voters defeated 2,174-591 a measure to incorporate their community north of Denver.

About 80 per cent of registered voters—or 2,765—cast ballots in the hotly contested election.

Jack Doyle, president of the Northglenn Civic Association, said he didn't know when his organization would try again to incorporate the community. He said his group sponsored the election and paid its $400 cost.

Against incorporation was an organization known as the Committee Opposing Incorporation Now (COIN).

William M. Dalton, co-chairman of COIN, said "Incorporation isn't realistic. We're a bedroom community. The revenue of homeowners alone cannot support the costs of municipal government."

Doyle said that there are about 15,000 residents in Northglenn and "it's about time we govern our selves."

He said he'd hoped that the incorporation would bring with it more police and fire protection and industrial development.

World's Bread Grain Crop at Record High

By CHARLES HASLET

WASHINGTON (AP) — The world's bread grain crop production in 1962 was the second highest on record, the agriculture department said today in reporting revised estimates for the year.

As a result of reduced import requirements in a number of importing countries, it said, world trade is expected to drop about 100 million bushels below the 1961-62 total of 1,734,000,000 bushels.

The production now is estimated by the Foreign Agricultural Service at 297 million short tons, second only to the 1958 record crop. Latest information, the agency said, indicates a substantial increase in the 1962 world total since its September forecast of 290 million short tons.

All of the increase in the revised figure was in wheat production with the new estimate set at 8.67 billion bushels—an increase of 280 million bushels over the earlier forecast. Most of the increase, the department said, was in western Europe, especially France, and in the Soviet Union, where final yields were larger than expected.

Revised figures placed the 1962 world rye production at 1.31 billion bushels—a smallest production for many years and a decrease of 40 million bushels under the earlier forecast, all in the Soviet Union estimate.

In western Europe a 1,600,000,000 bushels crop will greatly reduce import requirements for this marketing season, the report said. Asia's rice all total also was reported high — 155 million bushels above the 1961 output. This, the report said, means reduction in import requirements of some of these countries, although total imports still will be large.

Some reduction in African imports was expected.

The revised estimate for North American wheat production for 1962 was 1,782,000,000 bushels, compared with 1,570,00,000 in 1961 recover of Canada's crop was said to more than offset a reduction in the U.S. crop. The report said the Soviet Union wheat crop for the year appears larger than a year earlier and above average because of a near-record acreage.

Mountain Economic Growth Slows Down

DENVER (AP) — Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph Co. stockholders were told here that the economic growth of the Rocky Mountain area is slowing down.

Walter Koch, Mountain States president, said at the annual stockholders meeting that the company continued to grow last year, but at a slower pace than in previous years.

He said the slowdown reflects a similar said in the growth of the seven-state area served by the company. The economic growth of the region last year, he said, fell below the national pace for the first time in the post-war years.

Koch said the stockholders that the company's plant investment had jumped from $237 million in 1945 to $1,128,000,000 at the end of last year—an increase of 375 per cent.

The annual St. Patrick's Day dinner dance and show, sponsored by the Cascade Volunteer Fire Department, was a tremendous success, with an overflow crowd of some 400 persons. Held in the Community Building in Green Mountain Falls Saturday night, extra chairs were brought in from the Church in the Wildwood and the Green Mountain Falls Fire department, with standing room only for many who attended.

A stage show called, "Cascade Fireman's Follies," started at 9 p.m., with an overture, "Everything Coming Up Roses." Lew Pettit followed with guitar and solo, "Anytime." The James Boys, featuring Dick Dugdale Sr., Harry Pole, Sherman Rerick and Clifford Morrison, offered, "Melody d' Amour" and "Rag Mop."

Soloist Mary Linda Mills sang, "I Enjoy Being a Girl," and "Till There Was You." By popular demand "The Whistlers" was a repeat number from last year's show, featuring Nick Sanborn, Dave Quinn, Gene Nelson and Harry Nittman. The tune for their performance was, "Col. Bogie March." A skit with, "Joe the Bartender, and Friend," was given by Frank Sanborn and Jim Jordan to the music of, "I'm A Rollin" and "Mary."

Ron Weiman gave a chatter and joke routine to the song of "Jealousy." Pete Reney, appearing as Al Jolson, sang "Swanee" and "Mammy." The chorus, with "Lolita and her Mexican Cossacks" was Harry Nittman, Bill King, Neal Jolly, Al Dwyer, Kenneth Williams and Carroll Ernst, singing "Brazil" and "Mardi Gras." The finale was, "When Irish Eyes are Smiling."

The two quality prizes given by the fire department were a consistory radio, presented to Mrs. H. E. Muschmic, of Atchison, Kan., and a coffee maker awarded to Mrs. R. Puffer, of Colorado Springs.

The March meeting of the Women's Community Club was held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Carol Hunt on Fox Road, with Mrs. Opal Giffin co-hostess. A nominating committee appointed was Doris Rerick, chairman, Hazel Lisiecki and Doris Peterson. They will report at the April meeting for the May election.

Mrs. Ella Knox, president of the Women's Community Club, will be hostess for a benefit coffee brunch party at her home on Canyon Road, March 25. Proceeds will help finance equipment purchased for the volunteer fire department. Present at the meeting March 14 were: Helen Dugdale, Doris Rerick, Ella Knox, Eleanor Pole, Doris Peterson, Grace Wilson, Opal Giffin, Wissie Spears, Hazel Lisiecki, Cassie Stenger and Jerry Tracy.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wiederspan returned March 15 from a two weeks' trip visiting relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Hibert Tietyen and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Miller, in Milwaukee, Wis. Mrs. Lee Wiederspan attended the annual Midwest Trade Beauty Show at the Sherman Hotel in Chicago, for two days.

Kent Nelson led in the Flag salute. The Cubs finished their posters and made litter bags to take home for the family cars.

An estimated crowd of 150 persons attended the Old Car Club Group meeting March 15 at Memorial Hall, Manitou Springs. A delegation of some 40 from the Veteran Motor Car Club of Denver and the same from the Pueblo Chapter were present. The English color film, "Genevieve," was the featured entertainment. The comedy story was of the old car run from London to Brighton, England. The title star Genevieve is not a pretty young girl, but a veteran car taking part in the run. The vicissitude of the trip as the old cars, some of the 1904 models, develop troubles, problems, etc, which provide the theme for the story. A $50 rental fee was charged for the movie. A chili supper meeting of the Pikes Peak Chapter, Veteran Motor Club of America preceded the showing of the film. Mrs. Pat Heltemes attended the event. Ed Heltemes returned Sunday, March 17, from a two weeks' active service duty as Chief Warrant Officer, Army Reserve, at Fort Benjamin Harrison in Indiana.

State Police Academy Is Backed by Group

DENVER (UPI)—The Metropolitan Area Sheriffs', Chiefs' and Marshals' Association has passed a resolution backing a proposal to create a state-supported police training academy, according to Pete Melonakis, secretary-treasurer.

A committee has been working to plan the academy under a $500 grant provided by the state, and is expected to reveal its decisions next month at the Colorado Sheriffs and Peace Officers Association meeting in Denver.

Melonakis said the metropolitan group contended in its resolution: Only a state law enforcement training academy can provide adequate and uniform instruction to the law enforcement officers in this state."

No New Talks Are Planned in Newspaper Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Striking printers will hold a monthly membership meeting Sunday, but Local 6 President Bertram A. Powers says there is no plan to vote again on the rejected proposal for settlement of the 103-day-old newspaper shutdown here.

The meeting place, a high school auditorium, has a capacity of 1,150 persons, far fewer than the number who met in a larger hall last Sunday and voted down the proposed printer-publisher contract 1,621-1,557.

Besides the 3,000 printers, Local 6 of the International Typographical Union has 6,000 commercial shop printers in its membership. Powers says the commercial printers don't like to vote on newspaper contracts.

Powers said Tuesday the members will receive a report on the strike but will not take any action unless specific notice of the intention to do is given to the shops "before the end of the work week" on Friday.

In the 111-day-old blackout of two Cleveland, Ohio, newspapers, "very good progress" was reported in contract discussions with one of three striking unions.

Powers said the New York printers' meeting agenda will not be set until Friday, leaving the door open for possible reconsideration of the settlement terms recommended by Mayor Robert F. Wagner and approved by publishers and ITU leaders.

After the printers rejected the terms, the publishers announced Monday they would not accept any changes in the peace pact.

Wagner, in dismissing both sides, said that he saw "no sense in continuance of negotiations." No new talks are scheduled.

O'Hare Airport Reported Almost City in Itself

By EDWARD S. KITCH

CHICAGO (AP) — The world's busiest airport, Chicago's O'Hare International, is an immense jet age layout that has become almost a city in itself.

When President Kennedy attends dedication ceremonies Saturday, he will find a sprawling 7,200-acre installation that serves 13½ million passengers a year and handles nearly a flight a minute on the average. Located 21 miles northwest of downtown Chicago, the airport has parking facilities for 5,700 cars and can feed 1,500 persons at a time in its biggest restaurant.

It represents a $20-million investment.

Once a cornfield and part of a golf course, it was the site of a Douglas Aircraft Corp. plant in World War II. After the war, the facility was turned over to Chicago, and the factory and administration buildings were converted into terminal facilities.

Subsequently, funds from state, federal and revenue bond sources were used to expand the airport.

O'Hare has become an air crossroads of the world. Nonstop service is provided to many foreign cities. Seven foreign airlines and 14 domestic airlines use its facilities.

With more than 400,000 flights flights last year, O'Hare surpassed New York's Idlewild Airport traffic of 11,510,390 passengers and 290,133 flights.

The present development — two new terminal buildings and a $5-million glass-steel circular restaurant featuring a seven-continents dining room—was financed by $149 million worth of revenue bonds.

The terminal buildings, each 750 feet long and 110 feet wide, were built at a cost of $35 million. They are connected to six 80-feet concourses with 58 plane gates.

The arm-like concourses have highly mobile enclosed ramps called jetways which reach out to airliners and telescope away when not needed.

O'Hare was named for Edward H. (Butch) O'Hare, a World War II hero.

Named by President Roosevelt one of the greatest combat fliers in aviation history, O'Hare shot down five Japanese bombers and damaged a sixth in single-handed action over the Pacific, Feb. 20, 1942, saving his carrier. He received the Medal of Honor from President Roosevelt. O'Hare disappeared in night action over the Pacific Dec. 10, 1943.

O'Hare was the son of a Chicago race track operator, Edward J. O'Hare, who was shot in gangland style on a Chicago street in 1939.

Although Butch O'Hare was born in St. Louis, Mo., Chicago adopted him.

The Chicago commissioner of aviation, William E. Downes Jr., said O'Hare already has handled more freight and passengers than was forecast by planning engineers for 1965.

Scheduled for completion this year are the remodeling and expansion of the old O'Hare terminal building, completed in 1955. It will become the international building for handling of foreign traffic and U.S. customs.

O'Hare's air traffic control utilizes every conceivable electronic device in aviation, including radar. O'Hare controls air traffic for three other airports—Meigs on the lakefront, Glenview Naval Air Station and Midway on Chicago's southwest side.

Midway now serves general aviation and nonscheduled flights. Its current 100,000 operations a year are less than 22 per cent of its former load.

Winter Injury To Wheat Noted

TOPEKA, Kan. (UPI)—The U.S. Weather Bureau's weekly crop report noted today that winter injury to wheat was becoming increasingly evident in the southwestern quarter of Kansas.

The same area also had a heavy infestation of Army cutworms, which were only partially controlled by local spraying, the report said.

The weather bureau said field activities of Kansas farmers continued slow last week.

New State Civil Defense Chief Is Certified

DENVER (AP) — Robert H. Johnson, former Jefferson County superintendent of schools, was certified by the Colorado Civil Service Commission today as the state's new Civil Defense director.

He replaces Heman Davis, who has been provisional director the past several years.

Johnson returned to Colorado last year from Palo Alto, Calif. where he served in an education post after leaving the Jefferson County job. He now is attending the University of Colorado law school.

Gov. John A. Love said Johnson placed high on a civil service examination for the $727 a month civil defense job.

By GWEN GIBSON

WASHINGTON — Whether he's right or wrong, you have to pity the plight of Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, outspoken foe of present-day manned bombers, when he testifies before the Senate Armed Services Committee. There McNamara faces a trio of flying senators who flight in tight formation when it comes to the question of keeping pilots in the air defense program.

McNamara, former fair-haired president of the Ford Motor Co., stands as much chance of converting the high-soaring senators to his way of thinking as he does of redoing the Pentagon in the shape of a Ford Falcon.

All qualified jet pilots with wartime adventures to tell, the flying senators love the piloting game almost as much as politics. Two of them Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) and Sen. Howard W. Cannon (D-Nev.) — are jet command pilots in the Air Force Reserve, required to fly at least 100 hours a year. Goldwater is a two-star general. Cannon a brigadier general in the reserve.

The third is Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.), a colonel in the Air Force Reserve. Tho not currently on flying status with the Air Force, Engle is also a qualified jet pilot and, in a private capacity, often flies himself around the country in his own small plane.

With the flying experiences they've logged, its easy to understand why the three air-minded senators see the same shade of red each time McNamara raises the 64-megaton question of downgrading the manned bomber to the missile.

Goldwater's flying career dates back to the 1930s. Over the years he has flown more than 75 types of aircraft, including 16 jets. Such was his love of airplanes that during World War II he did some shrewd maxipulating in order to get into the action as a pilot. Turned down by the Air Force because of astigmatism, Goldwater went into the National Guard as an infantry officer. An expert photographer, he sold training pilots on the idea of taking their picture in flight. He would ride in the rear of a plane and snap the pilots as they whizzed by in another.

In exhcange Goldwater got the pilots to give him after-hours flying instruction and he soon got enough time to qualify as a ferry pilot. He ferried P-47s across the north Atlantic and saw action in the Mediterranean and the China-Burma-India areas with the Air Transport Command.

He claims to have made the longest "accidental" flight of World War II: It started when he returned to his base in India late one night and found a radiogram saying "By first available aircraft you return to the United States." Goldwater quickly rounded up a C-54 and a crew and took off for ATC headquarters in the states. His greeting there was: "What the hell are you doing here?"

It turns out tbree words had been lost in the transmission of the radiogram. It should have read: "Inform Major Croswell by first available aircraft, you return to the United States." Croswell was Maj. Hap Croswell, a wartime buddy of Goldwater's.

Goldwater quickly assembled his crew and flew the 13,000 miles back to India to give Croswell the message.

Cannon also took up flying during the 1930s, when he was a student at the University of Arizona.

He went into the service before World War II with the Army Engineers, but in 1942, with 200 private flying hours to his credit, young Cannon got transferred to the Army Air Corps.

He served 20 months in the European Theater with the 440th troop Carreir Group, which saw plenty of blazing airborne action in Italy, France, Belgium, Holland and, finally, Germany.

Cannon was co-pilot of one of the lead planes when the Allies dropped the first wave of paratroopers into northern France on D-Day. Three months and many missions later, Cannon was pilot of the lead plane when the allies took an airborne division into Holland. He was shot down and spent 42 days in enemy territory before making it back to the Allied lines.

Cannon's wartime exploits earned him the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters and the Croix de Guerre with Silver Star, among other decorations.

He likes to remember the more humorous phases of his World War II days, such as the time he and a flying buddy flew into Berlin, early in 1945.

"It was still smoking and burning," Cannon recalls.

"We decided as a lark to land at an airport in the city. When we taxied over to the side, we met an American colonel who said he had been there three days and that the Russians were not letting any Americans take off," Cannon went on.

"We jumped back into our plane. The colonel was close on our heels. As we started our engines, a Russian on a motorcycle was racing toward us, so we took off across the field like a bolt of lightning," the senator said.

Engle saw active duty with the Air Force in Korea in 1952. But most of his flying time has been logged in his home state. A former congressman, Engle used to represent California's Second District — the third largest congressional district in the United States, stretching from the Oregon border nearly to the Mojave Desert.

"If I hadn't been a pilot, I'd never have gotten elected to Congress," Engle insists. "I've directed all of my campiagns out of an airplane."

Altho not checked out in as many jets as Goldwater and Cannon, Engle was making supersonic flights as far back as 1956. Thus he claims to be the first senator to have surpassed the sound of his own voice.

Hearing on Williams Is Ordered Resumed

DENVER (AP) — The Colorado Civil Service Commission unanimously denied here a motion to dismiss a series of charges against William M. Williams and reinstate him as the state planning director.

The three-member commission ordered William's hearing resumed Wednesday morning after a three week recess.

Atty. John Barnard Jr., representing the embattled former state official, moved for dismissal of the charges Feb. 28 following testimony by former Gov. Steve McNichols.

In one of his officials acts McNichols fired Williams for what he termed "flagrant violations of the commission's rules and regulations," and sighted eight violations.

One of these — in which Williams was accused of wrongfully removing important correspondence from planning commission files — was dismissed early in the hearing.

Williams and the former governor had feuded for years, primarily over planning projects for the state hospital at Pueblo.

Williams, 66, was appointed planning director in 1946 and has been a state employe for 26 years.

REALISM HITS THE ROAD

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —Paul Davis, columnist for the St. Petersburg Independent, reports this sign at the edge of a small north Florida town:

"Population 9, and 1 old grouch."

Rocky Needs Persuasiveness, Observers Say

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller must come up with something more persuasive than the record if he is to pry substantial numbers of Negro voters away from the Kennedy New Frontier.

Rockefeller is talking and acting like a candidate for next year's Republican presidential nomination. He insists that he has not made up his mind to be or not to be a candidate. But Rocky is stumping the country in search of political support.

One of Rockefeller's most important political appearances was in Albany, N. Y., before the New York State conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The Republican party desperately needs to regain the support of Negro voters. That is precisely what Rockefeller undertook to do in his March 5 Albany speech. He called the roll of civil rights accomplishments in New York State. It is impressive. Then Rockefeller analyzed the Kennedy administration record.

"The President's legislative recommendations," Rockefeller said, "ignore three of his most important campaign promises. They are two years too late. His recommendations cover only five out of 28 legislative recommendations of the Federal Civil Rights Commission. They ignore 23 proposals of the commission in the fields of housing, employment, education, voting rights and administration of justice.

"Legislation to implement the entire civil rights section of the Republican platform has been introduced in the House of Representatives by Republicans and the measure has the support of the entire Republican leadership in the House. Thus it is plain that there is constant Republican pressure for action and no dearth of opportunity for the Democratic majorities in the House and Senate to keep the promises of 1960 or meet the recommendations of the Civil Rights Commission if the necessary leadership were forthcoming."

That was the burden of Rockefeller's appeal for Negro votes—that the Republicans had done well and would do better, whereas the Kennedy administration was refusing to honor its campaign promises.

It is a fact, of course, that the Kennedy administration has dragged its heels on civil rights campaign pledges.

But it is equally true that the Kennedy administration has starred in some civil rights spectaculars, such as James Meredith's matriculation at the University of Mississippi. The Kennedys also have opened to Negroes a new field of big and important federal jobs. And Negroes have with the Kennedy administration a greater social acceptance than with any preceding administration, including FDR's.

Pueblo Health Board Marks Policy Change

PUEBLO (UPI)— The Pueblo Board of Health indicated a change Tuesday in a previous staunch position regarding its health director. It changed the title of director James Hurley to acting director.

The Pueblo board has been engaged in a long dispute with the State Board of Health over needed qualifications of a county health director. The State Board, contending Pueblo must hire a physician for the post, earlier this year cut off state medical aid to the local department.

Hurley, an expert public health administrator, is not a physician. He was appointed by the Pueblo board last year.

The Pueblo health unit said it tried to hire a physician as director but was unable to do so. It pointed out Hurley headed a seven-county health unit at headquarters in Sterling, Colo., before he came here.

Members did not comment on the reasons for changing Hurley's title.

Letter to Snowtown Taken to Watertown

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—The eve of spring brought rain to Watertown, but a letter was delivered correctly to "Snowtown."

Miss Lillian Costantino of Watertown received a letter bearing only her name, her street address and the "Snowtown" appellation, earned by Watertown this winter because more than 150 inches of snow has fallen. The on-the-ground snow measurement in the city dropped to 23 inches Wednesday, and it looked as though spring might arrive.

Shoppers make more than 70 per cent of their buying decisions after they enter the store, a study of consumer buying habits shows.

Ether was used as an anesthetic by a country doctor, Crawford Long, for a surgical operation in Georgia in 1842.

By GWEN GIBSON

WASHINGTON — Whether he's right or wrong, you have to pity the plight of Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, outspoken foe of present-day manned bombers, when he testifies before the Senate Armed Services Committee. There McNamara faces a trio of flying senators who flight in tight formation when it comes to the question of keeping pilots in the air defense program.

McNamara, former fair-haired president of the Ford Motor Co., stands as much chance of converting the high-soaring senators to his way of thinking as he does of redoing the Pentagon in the shape of a Ford Falcon.

All qualified jet pilots with wartime adventures to tell, the flying senators love the piloting game almost as much as politics. Two of them Sen. Barry Goldwater R-Ariz. and Sen. Howard W. Cannon (D-Nev.) — are jet command pilots in the Air Force Reserve, required to fly at least 100 hours a year. Goldwater is a two-star general. Cannon a brigadier general in the reserve.

The third is Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.), a colonel in the Air Force Reserve. Tho not currently on flying status with the Air Force, Engle is also a qualified jet pilot and, in a private capacity, often flies himself around the country in his own small plane.

With the flying experiences they've logged, its easy to understand why the three air-minded senators see the same shade of red each time McNamara raises the 64-megaton question of downgrading the manned bomber to the missile.

Goldwater's flying career dates back to the 1930s. Over the years he has flown more than 75 types of aircraft, including 16 jets. Such was his love of airplanes that during World War II he did some shrewd manipulating in order to get into the action as a pilot. Turned down by the Air Force because of astigmatism, Goldwater went into the National Guard as an infantry officer. An expert photographer, he sold training pilots on the idea of taking their picture in flight. He would ride in the rear of a plane and snap the pilots as they whizzed by in another.

In exhcange Goldwater got the pilots to give him after-hours flying instruction and he soon got enough time to qualify as a ferry pilot. He ferried P-47s across the north Atlantic and saw action in the Mediterranean and the China-Burma-India areas with the Air Transport Command.

He claims to have made the longest "accidental" flight of World War II. It started when he returned to his base in India late one night and found a radiogram saying "By first available aircraft you return to the United States." Goldwater quickly rounded up a C-54 and a crew and took off for ATC headquarters in the states. His greeting there was: "What the hell are you doing here?"

It turns out three words had been lost in the transmission of the radiogram. It should have read: "Inform Major Croswell by first available aircraft, you return to the United States." Croswell was Maj. Hap Croswell, a wartime buddy of Goldwater's.

Goldwater quickly assembled his crew and flew the 13,000 miles back to India to give Croswell the message.

Cannon also took up flying during the 1930s, when he was a student at the University of Arizona.

He went into the service before World War II with the Army Engineers, but in 1942, with 200 private flying hours to his credit, young Cannon got transferred to the Army Air Corps.

He served 20 months in the European Theater with the 440th Troop Carrier Group, which saw plenty of blazing airborne action in Italy, France, Belgium, Holland and, finally, Germany.

Cannon was co-pilot of one of the lead planes when the Allies dropped the first wave of paratroopers into northern France on D-Day. Three months and many missions later, Cannon was pilot of the lead plane when the allies took an airborne division into Holland. He was shot down and spent 42 days in enemy territory before making it back to the Allied lines.

Cannon's wartime exploits earned him the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters and the Croix de Guerre with Silver Star, among other decorations.

He likes to remember the more humorous phases of his World War II days, such as the time he and a flying buddy flew into Berlin, early in 1945.

"It was still smoking and burning," Cannon recalls.

"We decided as a lark to land at an airport in the city. When we taxied over to the side, we met an American colonel who said he had been there three days and that the Russians were not letting any Americans take off." Cannon went on.

"We jumped back into our plane. The colonel was close on our heels. As we started our engines, a Russian on a motorcycle was racing toward us, so we took off across the field like a bolt of lightning," the senator said.

Engle saw active duty with the Air Force in Korea in 1952. But most of his flying time has been logged in his home state. A former congressman, Engle used to represent California's Second District — the third largest congressional district in the United States, stretching from the Oregon border nearly to the Mojave Desert.

"If I hadn't been a pilot, I'd never have gotten elected to Congress," Engle insists. "I've directed all of my campaigns out of an airplane."

Altho not checked out in as many jets as Goldwater and Cannon, Engle was making supersonic flights as far back as 1956. Thus he claims to be the first senator to have surpassed the sound of his own voice.

Hearing on Williams Is Ordered Resumed

DENVER (AP) — The Colorado Civil Service Commission unanimously denied here a motion to dismiss a series of charges against William M. Williams and reinstate him as the state planning director.

The three-member commission ordered William's hearing resumed Wednesday morning after a three week recess.

Atty. John Barnard Jr., representing the embattled former state official, moved for dismissal of the charges Feb. 28 following testimony by former Gov. Steve McNichols.

In one of his officials acts McNichols fired Williams for what he termed "flagrant violations of the commission's rules and regulations," and sighted eight violations.

One of these — in which Williams was accused of wrongfully removing important correspondence from planning commission files — was dismissed early in the hearing.

Williams and the former governor had feuded for years, primarily over planning projects for the state hospital at Pueblo.

Williams, 66, was appointed planning director in 1946 and has been a state employe for 26 years.

Rocky Needs Persuasiveness, Observers Say

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller must come up with something more persuasive than the record if he is to get substantial numbers of Negro voters away from the Kennedy New Frontier.

Rockefeller is talking and acting like a candidate for next year's Republican presidential nomination. He insists that he has not made up his mind to be or not to be a candidate. But Rocky is stumping the country in search of political support.

One of Rockefeller's most important political appearances was at Albany, N.Y., before the New York State conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The Republican party desperately needs to regain the support of Negro voters. That is precisely what Rockefeller undertook to do in his March 5 Albany speech. He called the roll of civil rights accomplishments in New York State. It is impressive. Then Rockefeller analyzed the Kennedy administration record.

The President's legislative recommendations, Rockefeller said, "show more of his most important campaign promises. They are two years late. His recommendations cover only five out of 25 legislative recommendations of the Federal Civil Rights Commission. They ignore 23 proposals of the commission in the fields of housing, employment, education, voting rights and administration of justice.

"Legislation to implement the entire civil rights section of the Republican platform has been introduced in the House of Representatives by Republicans and the measure has the support of the entire Republican leadership in the House. Thus it is plain that there is constant Republican pressure for action and no dearth of opportunity for the Democratic majorities in the House and Senate to keep the promises of 1960 or meet the recommendations of the Civil Rights Commission if the necessary leadership were forthcoming."

That was the burden of Rockefeller's appeal for Negro votes—that the Republicans had done well and would do better, whereas the Kennedy administration was refusing to honor its campaign promises.

It is a fact, of course, that the Kennedy administration has dragged its heels on civil rights campaign pledges.

But it is equally true that the Kennedy administration has starred in some civil rights spectaculars, such as James Meredith's matriculation at the University of Mississippi. The Kennedys also have opened to Negroes a new field of big and important federal jobs. And Negroes have with the Kennedy administration a greater social acceptance than with any preceding administration, including FDR's.

Pueblo Health Board Marks Policy Change

PUEBLO (UPI) — The Pueblo Board of Health indicated a change Tuesday in a previous staunch position regarding its health director. It changed the title of director James Hurley to acting director.

The Pueblo board has been engaged in a long dispute with the State Board of Health over needed qualifications of a county health director. The State Board, contending Pueblo must hire a physician for the post, earlier this year cut off state medical aid to the local department.

Hurley, an expert public health administrator, is not a physician. He was appointed by the Pueblo board last year.

The Pueblo health unit said it tried to hire a physician as director but was unable to do so. It pointed out Hurley headed a seven-county health unit at headquarters in Sterling, Colo., before he came here.

Members did not comment on the reasons for changing Hurley's title.

Letter to Snowtown Taken to Watertown

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — The eve of spring brought rain to Watertown, but a letter was delivered correctly to "Snowtown."

Miss Lillian Costantino of Watertown received a letter bearing only her name, her street address and the "Snowtown" appellation, earned by Watertown this winter because more than 150 inches of snow has fallen. The on-the-ground snow measurement in the city dropped to 23 inches Wednesday, and it looked as though spring might arrive.

EDIE ADAMS TO PLAY BURLESQUE STAR ROLE

NEW YORK — Edie Adams signed to play a luscious burlesque queen in "Love With the Proper Stranger," which Natalie Wood and Steve McQueen start here on the 20th. Edie won't make the New York location; she's busy at the moment in "Yum Yum Tree." Producers Alan Pakula and Bob Milligan shifted all her scenes to a later date and she'll join the company when they return to Paramount. "I always wanted to be this busy," says Edie. "and now that I am, I'm beginning to wonder."

Jill St. John, when she separated from Lance Reventlow, announced she was thru playing sweet young things ("No more Goody-Two Shoes parts for me") — on and off the screen. Her ambition: to become a comic like the late Kay Kendall. If she does not collapse from battle fatigue, I'd say she's well on her way. After starring with Dean Martin in "Who's Been Sleeping in My Bed?" Jill bounces to an adjoining sound stage to play Jerry Lewis' leading lady in "who's Minding the Store?" From Martin to Lewis is quite a leap, even for a girl with an I.Q. of 162 — and Jill's got it.

Doubleday is dancing with joy over author J. F. Powers, whose "Morte d'Urban" won the National Book award for '62. In the mob of 900 at the awards affair, Powers seemed a little overwhelmed. A charming, shy man, I imagine he's quite lonely at times. He also authored "Prince of Darkness and Other Stories" and "Presence of Grace." I searched the crowd in vain trying to find Ben Hecht and Jed Harris, but did spot writer Willie Snow Etheridge — hatless! Guess I'll have to take her another bonnet when I return here for the publishers convention.

You can always depend on that darling Irishman Pat O'Brien to come thru in a pinch. When I couldn't make it to Detroit to help kick off the cancer fund drive, Pat hauled himself out of bed in Chicago at 6 a.m. to catch a plane and do the job with me. He was back on stage with his wife Eloise playing "Dear Ruth" the same evening. The O'Briens are right where they started. They met on a Chicago stage in the play "Broadway" 32 years ago.

Pat's one of the easiest soft touches in Hollywood. I've never forgotten his answer to my question: "Why do you loan so much money to so many people? You never get half of it back." "Well, Hedda," he said, "the money you loan is the rent you pay on your faith in humanity."

SEAGOING CLASSROOM

WOODS HOLE, Mass. (UPI)—The research vessel Atlantis, which has sailed about 1.5 million miles during its 31-year career, will become a seagoing classroom this summer.

It will be used in connection with three new courses in oceanography being offered by the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, non-profit research organization.

No Funds Sought For Old Bent's Fort

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Park Service said today it has no plans to ask Congress for money this year to spend on Bent's Old Fort in Otero County, near La Junta, Colo.

The fort was designated as a national historical site March 15 on order of Secretary of Interior Stewart Udall. At the same time, Udall appointed Foy L. Young, former assistant manager of the Rocky Mountain National Park, as manager of Bent's Old Fort.

The fort was selected for preservation and restoration as a national historical site because of the prominence it had in opening the western United States. There is evidence that the site was used as early as 1833.

The site bears the name of William and Charles Bent, who along with Ceran St. Vrain ran a fur trading post there.

Common Market Grows Into Assertive Teen-Ager

By CARL HARTMAN

BRUSSELS (AP)—Western Europe's Common Market, fostered by Uncle Sam, has grown into a self-assertive teen-ager who has the old man worried.

The Common Market's system of customs duties threatens the market for American farm products in Western Europe. Its members, especially France, want to produce more of these products instead of buying them abroad.

In 1961 the United States shipped $1.6 billion worth of farm goods to the Common Market countries — France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. Preliminary figures indicate the total was even higher in 1962.

Present plans of the Common Market authorities could up this by a third or more.

Sales of American cotton and tobacco are not much threatened. Common Market members produce little of these.

Sales of American poultry have been hard-hit and grain may be next on the list.

After World War II Americans were saying that Europe could get out of its vicious circle of poverty and war only if it broke down old trade barriers at national frontiers. Europeans, it was argued, should be brought into one big market so European businessmen could give the consumer mass-produced goods at low prices. It would be economical for European countries, with their smaller farm area and many tiny plots of ground, to concentrate on dairy and meat production. Grains could be bought much more cheaply abroad.

These ideas appealed to many Europeans, and the Common Market is now formed and moving toward unity in many ways. But when it comes to farming, things are not working out as the United States might have liked.

Farmers in Western Europe pull a lot of political weight. In the United States only 8 per cent of the working population is engaged in farming. In West Germany the figure is 15 per cent and in France 23 per cent. France, West Germany and Italy—dominant countries in the Common Market—are ruled by conservative parties which make a strong appeal to the farmer.

The Common Market authorites have figured out an over-all system to protect their farmers.

A series of variable levies can make any farm import sell a little higher—or, if desired, a whole lot higher—than the home-grown variety.

Chicken used to be a luxury in Europe. Ordinary folk ate it rarely and with the feeling that they were doing something festive—the way Americans used to feel a generation or so ago. Then in 1958 the West German government began to allow the spending of foreign currency for poultry.

Within four years, the United States was selling 135 million pounds of chicken a year to West Germany. The price was well below red meat, despite a duty of five cents a pound.

German domestic producers and exporters in Denmark and Holland also stepped up sales. Chicken became a common item on the German workingman's table.

Last summer the new Common Market levies went into effect on chicken. Entrance fees for American poultry shot up 250 per cent, to 12.5 cents a pound. American exports dropped off.

West German housewives now pay about 44 cents a pound for chicken. The American product could be sold for 25 per cent less if it were not for the levies.

European consumers are being denied a bargain but the Common Market chicken farmers are cleaning up. American chicken farmers face the loss of $50 million of business a year.

Even more money is involved in U.S. exports of grain and grain products to the Common Market—$389 million in 1961. Here too the levies have begun to be felt. Eggs and pork are also affected.

The most recent figures of the U.S. Department of Agriculture show a 26 per cent decline in exports of these products to the Common Market in the four-month period after the levies went into effect. The decline is in comparison with the same four-month period in 1961.

The Common Market aims to set up uniform prices throughout the six countries for wheat and other grains. If the price is set high, farmers inside the Common Market will put even more land into grain, and produce so much that substantial imports won't be needed.

Right now the French government supports wheat prices at about $2.15 a bushel, and the West German government at about $3. American farmers often sell wheat at $2 or less.

If the German price or something close to it were to become standard for the whole Common Market French farmers might bring millions of acres into grain production. That could pretty much ruin the West German market not only for the United States but for Canada, Australia and Argentina as well.

American farmers are putting pressure on their government to retaliate against the poultry levy by way of warning. One suggestion is to slap a really heavy tariff on some kinds of French champagne entering the United States.

President Kennedy's advisers are resisting this pressure. They feel that one retaliatory pressure brings another, and they want to cut tariffs—not to increase them.

Decline in Personal Income Is Reported

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Personal income declined in February, but government economists were not alarmed.

Analysts said the January income figure was swelled by a special GI insurance dividend payment which added $3.5 billion to that month's total. Thus, at the seasonally adjusted rate, the normal February income really was $2 billion greater than January, they said. The Commerce Department report Tuesday said the February personal income figure was $456.8 billion, compared to $457.4 in January.

SEAGOING CLASSROOM

WOODS HOLE, Mass. (UPI)—The research vessel Atlantis, which has sailed about 1.5 million miles during its 31-year career, will become a seagoing classroom this summer.

It will be used in connection with three new courses in oceanography being offered by the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, non-profit research organization.

No Funds Sought For Old Bent's Fort

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Park Service said today it has no plans to ask Congress for money this year to spend on Bent's Old Fort in Otero County near La Junta, Colo.

The fort was designated as a national historical site March 15 on order of Secretary of Interior Stewart Udall. At the same time, Udall appointed Foy L. Young, former assistant manager of the Rocky Mountain National Park, as manager of Bent's Old Fort.

The fort was selected for preservation and restoration as a national historical site because of the prominence it had in opening the western United States. There is evidence that the site was used as early as 1833.

The site bears the name of William and Charles Bent, who along with Ceran St. Vrain ran a fur trading post there.

Common Market Grows Into Assertive Teen-Ager

By CARL HARTMAN

BRUSSELS (AP)—Western Europe's Common Market, fostered by Uncle Sam, has grown into a self-assertive teen-ager who has the old man worried.

The Common Market's system of customs duties threatens the market for American farm products in Western Europe. Its members, especially France, want to produce more of these products instead of buying abroad.

In 1961 the United States shipped $1.6 billion worth of farm goods to the Common Market countries — France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. Preliminary figures indicate the total was even higher in 1962.

Present plans of the Common Market authorities could up this by a third or more.

Sales of American cotton and tobacco are not much threatened. Common Market members produce little of these.

Sales of American poultry have been hard-hit and grain may be next on the list.

After World War II Americans were saying that Europe could get out of its vicious circle of poverty and war only if it broke down old trade barriers at national frontiers. Europeans, it was argued, should be brought into one big market so European businessmen could give the consumer mass-produced goods at low prices. It would be economical for European countries, with their smaller farm area and many tiny plots of ground, to concentrate on dairy and meat production. Grains could be bought much more cheaply abroad.

These ideas appealed to many Europeans and the Common Market is now formed and moving toward unity in many ways. But when it comes to farming, things are not working out as the United States might have liked.

Farmers in Western Europe pull a lot of political weight. In the United States only 8 per cent of the working population is engaged in farming. In West Germany the figure is 15 per cent and in France 23 per cent. France, West Germany and Italy—dominant countries in the Common Market—are ruled by conservative parties which make a strong appeal to the farmer.

The Common Market authorities have figured out an over-all system to protect their farmers.

A series of variable levies can make any farm import sell a little higher—or if desired a whole lot higher—than the home-grown variety.

Chicken used to be a luxury in Europe. Ordinary folk ate it rarely and with the feeling that they were doing something festive—the way Americans used to feel a generation or so ago. Then in 1958 the West German government began to allow the spending of foreign currency for poultry.

Within four years, the United States was selling 135 million pounds of chicken a year to West Germany. The price was well below red meat, despite a duty of five cents a pound.

German domestic producers and exporters in Denmark and Holland also stepped up sales. Chicken became a common item on the German workingman's table.

Last summer the new Common Market levies went into effect on chicken. Entrance fees for American poultry shot up 250 per cent, to 12.5 cents a pound. American exports dropped off.

West German housewives now pay about 44 cents a pound for chicken. The American product could be sold for 25 per cent less if it were not for the levies.

European consumers are being denied a bargain but the Common Market chicken farmers are cleaning up. American chicken farmers face the loss of $50 million of business a year.

Even more money is involved in U.S. exports of grain and grain products to the Common Market—$389 million in 1961. Here too the levies have begun to be felt. Eggs and pork are also affected.

The most recent figures of the U.S. Department of Agriculture show a 26 per cent decline in exports of these products to the Common Market in the four month period after the levies went into effect. The decline is in comparison with the same four month period in 1961.

The Common Market aims to set up uniform prices throughout the six countries for wheat and other grains. If the price is set high, farmers inside the Common Market will put even more land into grain, and produce so much that substantial imports won't be needed.

Right now the French government supports wheat prices at about $2.15 a bushel, and the West German government at about $3. American farmers often sell wheat at $2 or less.

If the German price or something close to it were to become standard for the whole Common Market, French farmers might bring millions of acres into grain production. That could pretty much ruin the West German market not only for the United States but for Canada, Australia and Argentina as well.

American farmers are putting pressure on their government to retaliate against the poultry levy by way of warning. One suggestion is to slap a really heavy tariff on some kinds of French champagne entering the United States.

President Kennedy's advisers are resisting this pressure. They feel that one retaliatory pressure brings another, and they want to cut tariffs—not to increase them.

Decline in Personal Income Is Reported

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Personal income declined in February, but government economists were not alarmed.

Oriental Wives Invited To Attend Cooking Class

A special activity of the newly organized Oriental Wives Club is a series of American Cooking Classes open to Oriental wives of servicemen held from 1:15 to 3 p.m. every Friday at the YWCA, on second floor. There are still openings in the class which met for the first time on March 15. New members are welcome.

The class is taught by Mrs. Dorothy Squires who is assisted by Mrs. Pat Bresett. Mrs. Squires has years of experience in the field of Home Demonstration teaching homemaking subjects. She is in demand as a judge at County and State Fairs. She is currently teaching a class in sewing on Tuesday at the YWCA. Mrs. Bresett is program director of the YWCA.

At the first lesson the class learned basic nutrition principles, comparative measurements and how to prepare homemade hot biscuits. Table settings, vegetable shopping, meal planning were also discussed.

Following this series of classes on Friday afternoons there will be a talk on meat selection by a local meat cutter. The group will be given instruction on how to use various inexpensive cuts in tasty meals.

A nursery for pre-school children is provided free of charge — there is a small fee for the class to cover the materials required in the demonstration.

Anyone interested may call the YWCA 634-5515 for further information or to register an Oriental wife in the class.

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

A little glycerine—rubbed over freshly clean windows—will prevent them from clouding over on damp days or in foggy weather. We keep the cloth we use for waxing our floors in an "air-tight" container. This keeps the cloth moist and saves wax! — Lynn Martin

Dear Heloise:

I find the inside seams of infant's clothes (such as underpants) are often rough and irritating.

Now I put my baby's things on him wrong-side-out! This way the rough seams do not bother baby and only the softness will touch his tender skin. —Gloria Abramson

Dear Heloise:

Recently I read about the lady who cleaned her venetian blinds in the bath tub. I thought my method was even better.

I use the bath tub and detergent but I do "not" let them soak a couple of hours. My daughter did this and the paint came off of hers.

I use a sponge with a long handle and wiggle it between the slats. Then I rinse the blinds under the shower or on a sunny day I throw them over the line and turn the garden hose on them.

I can "do" a room with three windows in 10 minutes time. — Mrs. Noel Denison

P. S. I might need 5 more minutes to hang them up again! Be sure to hang the blinds up while the tapes are still damp to prevent shrinking. We don't want them to be too short.

Dear Heloise:

Just what does one do with clothespins that get dirty and dark? I considered it a sin to discard them and my budget does not call for doing it either. I will appreciate any answer from my friends whom I have met through your column. —Mrs. M. V. S.

Has anybody ever really found an answer for this? If you have, let's help our coffee friend. Write your answer to Heloise in care of this paper. —Love, Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Here's my time saver!

I leave my clip-type clothespins on the line, hanging down, with the line running through the little hole.

It takes a little extra time when you are taking your clothes off the line but it saves twice as much time when you hang the next load up. You can slide the clothespins up and down the line as you need them. —Lazy

Dear Heloise:

Did you ever wish you could bake potatoes in only 13 minutes?

You can, and you don't even have to heat the oven. Wrap the potatoes in foil, place them on a rack in your pressure cooker and add water up to the rack. Cook 10 to 15 minutes, depending upon the size. When done, I cannot tell them from regular oven baked potatoes. —Mrs. L. A. Eikelberger

Dear Heloise:

I save leftover pieces of steak, cut them into bite sized pieces and freeze them. I find that these are delicious when cooked with spaghetti sauce! —Betty Mifflin

Dear Heloise:

Those little nylon net squares which you told us to make for dishclothes should be kept in the kitchen sink to remove all the stains from hands after gardening, and so forth.

I discovered this by accident as I am one to wander into the garden without gloves and to come in with grass and mud stains. The nylon net squares work beautifully. —Mrs. Frank

Eta Epsilon Chapters Hear Project Reports

Eta Epsilon Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority, Manitou Springs, held the business and educational meeting at the home of Mrs. Clyde Todd, 626 N. 30th St.

Mrs. Leonard Higgenbotham, philanthropic chairman reported that the heart receptacles had been placed in the business establishments in Manitou, to be picked up this week. Mrs. Orville Brooks, president, appointed Mrs. Pauline Newell, Mrs. Loyd Klock, Mrs. Marian Higgenbotom on the nominating committee for the incoming officers.

Mrs. Klock, Pikes Peak Council vice-president announced that the council is planning on a fashion luncheon March 30 at the Cameo Room, Medallion Apts. Tickets for this event can be purchased from any sorority member.

The campaign plans for Marey Koelzer, a candidate for the office of vice-president of the Colorado State Council was discussed.

The Pikes Peak Council will hold the next meeting at the Loop Dining Room in Manitou Springs with the Manitou Chapter as hostess.

Mrs. William Dobbs, educational and program director opened the program on fashions with the members participating.

Mrs. Todd served refreshments later to Mrs. John Holm and guest Mrs. F. M. Gordon of Tarryall Ranch, recently moving here from Albuquerque. Mrs. Pauline Newell, Mrs. Lee Stewart, Mrs. Dona Frase and Mrs. Al Belleau, Mrs. Orville Brooks, Mrs. Loyd Klock, Mrs. Leonard Higgenbotham and Mrs. William Dobbs.

Before making bread or rolls, rinse the bowl in hot water and dry before mixing the dough. This keeps the yeast from cooling.

Camp Fire Girls' Week Proclaimed by Gov. Love

Gov. Love has proclaimed Camp Fire Girls Founders Day and Birthday Week, March 17 thru 23, in Colorado in recognition of fifty-three years of effective service by this national organization.

Honoring the occasion, Gov. Love emphasized that "this state and entire nation benefit from the Camp Fire Girls who help retarded and handicapped children; cheer the lives of shut-ins, invalids and elderly; assist welfare organizations in city-wide projects; and engage in beautification, conservation and reforestation of this country, all of which constitute training and practice in community service."

He urged the people of the state to join Camp Fire Girls in celebrating this anniversary which highlights an impressive history of service through 'Today's Program for Today's Girl'.

The Pikes Peak Area Council of Camp Fire Girls was chartered in 1961, and membership in the council has doubled in the last year.

Activities of the week long celebration in Colorado Springs were a go-to-church-Sunday March 17, dad-daughter banquets March 18 and 19, and a special recognition day in most of the schools. Displays are set up in Ivywild, Jefferson, Garfield, South Security and Bristol elementary schools.

Founded in 1910 by Dr. Luther Halsy Gulick, his wife, and a group of educators in various fields, Camp Fire Girls has been a flexible organization whose program has been updated and enriched often. Keeping pace with the broader interest and earlier maturity of today's girl, Camp Fire Girls expanded the program in Sept. 1962. Age groupings were revised and a second intermediate group, the Junior Hi Camp Fire Girls, was added to the three existing groups.

Persons interested in working with Camp Fire Girls may call the council office, 625-2525, between the hours of one to three p.m. weekdays.

Oriental Wives Invited To Attend Cooking Class

A special activity of the newly organized Oriental Wives Club is a series of American Cooking Classes open to Oriental wives of servicemen held from 1:15 to 3 p.m. every Friday at the YWCA on second floor. There are still openings in the class which met for the first time on March 15. New members are welcome.

The class is taught by Mrs. Dorothy Squires who is assisted by Mrs. Pat Bresett. Mrs. Squires has years of experience in the field of Home Demonstration teaching homemaking subjects. She is in demand as a judge at County and State Fairs. She is currently teaching a class in sewing on Tuesday at the YWCA. Mrs. Bresett is program director of the YWCA.

At the first lesson the class learned basic nutrition principles, comparative measurements and how to prepare homemade hot biscuits. Table settings, vegetable shopping, meal planning were also discussed.

Following this series of classes on Friday afternoons there will be a talk on meat selection by a local meat cutter. The group will be given instruction on how to use various inexpensive cuts in tasty meals.

A nursery for pre-school children is provided free of charge — there is a small fee for the class to cover the materials required in the demonstration.

Any one interested may call the YWCA 634-5575 for further information or register at the class.

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

A little glycerine—rubbed over freshly clean windows—will prevent them from clouding over on damp days or in foggy weather. We keep the cloth we use for waxing our floors in an air tight container. This keeps the cloth moist and saves wax. — Lynn Martin

Dear Heloise:

I find the inside seams of infant's clothes (such as underpants) are often rough and irritating.

Now I put my baby's things on inside-out. This way the rough seams do not bother baby and only the softness will touch his tender skin. —Gloria Abiamsin

Dear Heloise:

Recently I read about the lady who cleaned her venetian blinds in the bath tub. I thought my method was even better.

I use the bath tub and detergent but I do not let them soak a couple of hours. My daughter tried this and the paint came off of hers.

I use a sponge with a long handle and wiggle it between the slats. Then I rinse the blinds under the shower or on a sunny day I throw them over the line and turn the garden hose on them.

I can "do" a room with three windows in 10 minutes time. — Mrs. Noel Denison

P. S. I might need 5 more minutes to hang them up again! Be sure to hang the blinds up while the tapes are still damp to prevent shrinking. We don't want them to be too short.

Dear Heloise:

Just what does one do with clothespins that get dirty and dark? I considered it a sin to discard them and my budget does not call for doing it either. I will appreciate any answer from my friends whom I have met through your column. —Mrs. M. V. S.

Has anybody ever really found an answer for this? If you have, let's help our coffee friend. Write your answer to Heloise in care of this paper. —Love, Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Here's my time saver!

I leave my clip-type clothespins on the line, hanging down, with the line running through the little hole.

It takes a little extra time when you are taking your clothes off the line but it saves twice as much time when you hang the next load up. You can slide the clothespins up and down the line as you need them. —Lazy

Dear Heloise:

Did you ever wish you could bake potatoes in only 13 minutes?

You can, and you don't even have to heat the oven. Wrap the potatoes in foil, place them on a rack in your pressure cooker and add water up to the rack. Cook 10 to 15 minutes, depending upon the size. When done, I cannot tell them from regular oven baked potatoes. —Mrs. L. A. Etkelberger

Dear Heloise:

I save leftover pieces of steak, cut them into bite sized pieces and freeze them. I find that these are delicious when cooked with spaghetti sauce! —Betty Mifflin

Dear Heloise:

Those little nylon net squares which you told us to make for dishclothes should be kept in the kitchen sink to remove all the stains from hands after gardening, and so forth.

I discovered this by accident as I am one to wander into the garden without gloves and to come in with grass and mud stains. The nylon net squares work beautifully. —Mrs. Frank

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♠	Double
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Nine of ♡

When the defense quickly ran off with the first three tricks against South's four spade contract, it appeared that everything hinged on a successful club finesse. A resourceful player always tries to give himself an additional opportunity, however, and the declarer in today's hand was no exception. He managed to find an alternative play that could be safely essayed before resorting to the finesse.

The bidding was fairly routine except, perhaps, for East's takeout double which was distinctly speculative since it forced partner to respond at the three level. If, for example, West bids three clubs and gets doubled, East would have no safe retreat.

West led his doubleton heart against four spades and, after East tookthe top two honors, he returned the six of hearts for his partner to ruff, as declarer put in the ten. West got out with a diamond, and South put up the ace from the dummy.

It appeared from East's informatory double that he had the king of clubs, in which case there would be nothing more to the hand than to take repeated finesses in that suit. South spotted another possibility which could be tried out at no additional cost, and hinged on West's having only two trumps.

Declarer led a spade to his hand observing the fall of West's eight. Now he played the queen of hearts which was high. When his left hand opponent was unable to trump in, South discarded a club from the dummy. This permitted him to cash the ace of clubs and subsequently ruff out both the queen and the jack with North's remaining spades.

Had West been able to trump the queen of hearts, dummy would have overruffed and the declarer could still resort to the club finesses.

Dear Abby--

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Notice to Teenagers!

DEAR ABBY: We are unable to convince our teen-aged daughter that it is bad taste to show affection in public. I'm talking about the sickening behavior one sees today between young people going steady. She thinks it's all right to hang on to a boy and put her arm around his waist while he does the same when they walk down the street. Also, because "everyone else does it" she sees nothing wrong with sitting practically on his lap while he drives the car. If we tell her it looks bad, she says we are living in the dark ages. She'll take your word for it, Abby, so please enlighten her, along with a few million others. —EXASPERATED

DEAR EXASPERATED: This is for all the vulnerable parties: Please, young lovers, wherever you are, believe me, it "is" in the poorest taste to act lovey-dovey in public. A boy who respects a girl will not initiate it, and a girl who respects herself will not encourage it. So hands off. And I mean 100 per cent off.

DEAR ABBY: Last fall a distant relative of ours started sending us a religious paper. Our family is not of that religion and we do not enjoy reading it. I know this relative meant well, but we are not interested in being "converted" and this paper seems to have that as its purpose. Should we let this relative continue sending it? The paper must cost something and I'm sure the postage does. We just throw it away without even looking at it. Or should we write and tell him to quit sending it? —MINNIE-APPOLIS

DEAR MINNIE - APPOLIS: write to your relative and tell him you appreciate his thoughtfulness—but you and your family are not interested in the paper so he shouldn't waste the time and money to send it.

DEAR ABBY: The item in your column about how to tell an "eight - year - old blabbermouth" that he was going to have a little brother or sister brought back memories. When our little boy was eight, I was expecting a baby, and it was quite apparent. So I told him a new arrival was on the way. He said, "Let 'me' tell Daddy about it when he comes home from work." He was so disappointed when I told him that Daddy already knew. —MIRIAM

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♠	Double
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Nine of ♢

When the defense starts off with the first three tricks against South's four spade contract, it appeared that everything hinged on a successful finesse. An experienced player always looks for some method of additional opportunity, however, and the declarer in this hand was no exception. He managed to find an alternative play that could be safely resorted to before resorting to the finesse.

The bidding was fairly routine except, perhaps, for East's take-out double which was designed specifically to get his partner to respond in the suit of choice, for example. West has three clubs and South knows that East would have no safe retreat.

West led his doubleton heart against four spades and after East took the top two hearts he returned the six of hearts for his partner to ruff as declarer put up the ten. West got out with a diamond, and South put up the ace from the dummy.

It appeared from East's information double that he had the king of clubs and when there would be nothing more in the hand than to take two club tricks in addition to the spade tricks. South should therefore plan to ruff out the fourth club and hope that West had only two trumps.

Declarer then started to draw trumps, observing the fall of West's nine. Now he could count nine tricks in hearts, two in spades, three in clubs, left hand opponent apparently with two trumps. South decided against finessing the queen of trumps on the second round, reasoning that if he did so and it lost, East would return a heart to force out dummy's last trump and establish the setting trick in hearts. This meant that he would subsequently lose a trump finesse to the queen and the rest with Nature's remaining spades.

Had West been able to trump the queen of hearts, dummy would have overruffed and the declarer could still resort to the club finesse.

Museum Wooden Indian Is Joined by Squaw

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP) — A wooden Indian which stood in front of a Lockport tobacco store for nearly 90 years—and now is in the Niagara County Historical Society's museum—finally has a squaw.

Officials said another wooden statue, this one of an Indian princess, has been given to the museum by Miss Mary C. Holton of Denver, Colo., close friend of a Lockport family.

Home Building Rises; Outlook Is Optimistic

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The President and the First Lady aren't the only ones with a new house under way or planned. Home construction is rising. And surveys of consumer intentions spread optimism in the building industry.

This is a frequent late winter and early spring tendency. But its early flowering this year is particularly encouraging to those who hope the economy can keep moving ahead under its own power—although any outside assists will be appreciated.

Housing starts in February are put at an annual rate of 1,280,000, up 4 per cent from January. The spurt encourages the Department of Commerce to stick by its earlier predictions that the year as a whole will see some 1,450,000 nonfarm housing units started. This will make 1963 as good as last year, one of the best.

Helping bolster their optimism is a continuing rise in various sectors of personal income and polls showing consumer confidence in the economy generally holds high.

Manufacturers' payrolls in February took their sharpest rise since last spring. In February factory wages and salaries rose to an annual rate of $94.6 billion, topping the 1962 figure. Earnings of all employees and self employed persons, up a billion on an annual rate in January, spurted by $2 billion in February.

It is out of such earnings that most mortgages are sought and payments made. And it is the personal income total, now at an annual rate of $450.8 billion, that takes care of household furnishings, whether on a cash or instalment basis.

And when total incomes rise, so does confidence—and family planning.

The University of Michigan Survey Research Center says a nationwide poll just completed shows plans are more widespread now than a year ago to buy houses for owner occupancy or to make improvements and repairs on old ones. But the survey cautions that consumer confidence in the future hasn't gained any since its previous poll in November and December.

A more optimistic finding is reported by Martin R. Gainsbrugh, chief economist of the National Industrial Conference Board. His nonprofit research group's latest survey shows more than 45 per cent of the "hundreds of Households contacted during the past two months expect the business situation to improve by midyear." Gainsbrugh says the survey shows home purchasing plans are encouraging and consumer demand in general is strong without signs of faltering.

CHICAGO (AP) — All March contracts of grain and soybean futures closed weak under moderately heavy selling today on the Board of Trade but other deliveries went into the early afternoon in a mixed range.

Trading ceased on March contracts of all commodities at 12 noon with rye down as much as five cents and soybeans more than four at the extreme. Wheat, corn and oats were a cent or more lower in March and only small fractions either way from previous closes on other months at that time.

Carlot receipts were estimated at: wheat 5 cars, corn 138, oats 10, rye none, barley 20, soybeans 13.

Maybe Even Thief Wanted Protection

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Sam Rose is pretty touchy about the subject of burglar alarms after thieves stole his alarm system the other night.

A pianist, Rose works late hours. When he got home in the wee hours of the morning, he found the front door kicked in and his new alarm system gone.

"Strange they didn't take anything else," Rose said. "Maybe they just wanted to put it out of commission and come back later for other stuff."

700 Dozen Double Yolk Eggs Brought to Capitol

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — We all have our golden moments. Harold Weisberg's golden moment came this week when he arrived at the U.S. Capitol with 700 dozen double yolk eggs in tow.

Somewhere in this great land of ours there may be a few jaded, citified types who would not appreciate Weisberg's accomplishment. They might regard his moment as more white and yellow than golden.

Well, I am here to tell you that gathering 700 dozen double yolk eggs is an impressive feat. You can't just walk out to the henhouse and pick up a double yolk egg anytime you want one.

A double yolker is a thousand-to-one shot. In order to find 700 dozen, members of the Northeast Poultry Council (Neppco) had to inspect something on the magnitude of 270 million eggs, give or take a couple of omelets.

That figure represents a full week's production by 73 million hens. If all of those eggs were laid end-to-end, it would be rather unusual because hens don't orginarily lay eggs that way.

It was Weisberg, a Hyattstown, Md., egg farmer, who dreamed up the idea of collecting the double yolkers and taking them to the Capitol for presentation to members of Congress.

In gratitude, the council appointed him "vice chairman of the coordinating committee for congressional double yolk egg promotion in support of egg month," which is March.

The vice chairman and his fellow coordinators arranged to haul the eggs up Capitol Hill on a tractor-drawn wagon with a banner reading "double yolk energy for Congress." The "Neppco poultry princess" was on hand for extra decoration.

The program was somewhat hampered by rainy weather, but egg men are not easily discouraged.

"How do you think we did?" Weisberg asked me when the ceremony was over.

"The schedule was scrambled but it panned out pretty well," I replied, throwing myself into the spirit of the occasion.

New Mexico Cracks Down on Land Fraud

SANTA FE, N.M. (UPI)— New Mexico cracked down on land promoters who use false or misleading advertising today.

Gov. Jack Campbell signed into law a bill carrying maximum penalties for such offenses of five years in prison and a fine of $100,000.

The governor said national publicity regarding bogus land subdivisions in New Mexico had hurt the state and might damage its economic growth.

"This is the first effort in New Mexico to provide some regulation of offering for sale and the sale of subdivided land in the state," Campbell said.

Meanwhile, the Federal Trade Commission in Washington filed charges against Great Southwestern Land Co. of Albuquerque. The FTC said the firm used "deceptive means" in selling real estate in Taos County.

"Had this law been in effect before this," Cambell said, "it is very probable that this situation would have been corrected before many individuals outside New Mexico were affected."

Sercetary of Labor To Speak in Denver

DENVER (UPI)—A Department of Labor's 50th anniversary celebration at the Denver Hilton Hotel April 6 will be addressed by Undersecretary of Labor John F. Henning.

The meeting will host labor and education delegates from Colorado, Wyoming, New Mexico and Utah.

Moscow Jews Denied Use of Bakeries

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet authorities have again denied the Moscow Jewish community permission to bake ceremonial matzoth for Passover celebrations starting April 9.

The ban, first imposed last year, was announced publicly by Moscow Chief Rabbi Yehuda Lieb Levin.

Application was made three months ago in hopes the authorities would lift last year's prohibition on the use of state bakeries for making matzoth, the traditional Jewish unleavened bread.

Rabbi Levin advised his congregation to try to bake matzoth in their homes as they did last year. This is difficult because most members of the congregation live in communal apartments and share busy kitchens with others.

CONTINUING APPRECIATION

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mrs. Johannes Skytte gets a dozen roses each Feb. 21 because in 1949 she bought a pair of shoes, took home the wrong box and found $2,000 in it.

She returned the store receipts to manager Fred DuBeau who sends her the dozen roses.

RANGOON—A new market exists in Burma for butter.

CANBERRA — A shortage of cigars is reported in Australia.

Thunderbirds Thrash Adams City To Initiate New Baseball Season

Defending SCL Champs Impressive in Opener

By TOM CUSHMAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

ADAMS CITY — According to the calendar spring arrived on the scene only today but Wednesday afternoon Wasson's Thunderbirds were busy offering a sneak preview of what the season may offer for their area baseball opposition.

* * *

Coach Gib Funk, who guided the T-Birds to the South Central League championship and second place in the state a year ago, has recently been moaning over the effects of graduation losses and general mal-performance by the squad during practice sessions. Wednesday Funk stood by silently as his 1963 edition pummeled helpless Adams City, 22-0, and launched what has every appearance of becoming another successful campaign.

Altho the Wasson coach is obviously not settled on a lineup at this point, he should have a pleasant time with the selections. Some 16 players got into the lineup Wednesday and 11 hit safely as the Thunderbirds pounded four Adams City hurlers for 17 safeties, including a home run, two triples, and five doubles.

In addition, the T-Birds performed flawlessly afield, altho in reality much of the day was spent in idleness. Funk worked three pitchers in the seven inning affair and they gave up a total of one hit and five bases-on-balls while fanning 13. In the terminology of the baseball trade, there should be no snakes left in Adams City after Wednesday — so futile were the flailing efforts of Indian batters.

Tim Hamilton, ace of the Wasson staff the past two seasons, worked the first three innings and actually had the only trouble of any of the three pitchers. Wildness, a plague that Hamilton has sidestepped thus far during his high school career, had him in some trouble during the first two frames.

He passed two batters in the first inning but ended up striking out the side. With one away in the second Lynn Davis rapped a ground ball thru the hole between short and third for the Indians' only hit of the day. Davis was forced at second but Hamilton then issued two straight walks to load the bases before he fanned Ralph Watts to retire the side. He followed by striking out the Indians in order in the third.

Leroy Porterfield, the team's number two hurler last year, gave up only a single base on balls in an impressive three-inning stint after Hamilton retired to first base duties. Bob Kochis, a lanky junior who can literally hide the ball in his huge paws, toiled thru the seventh and retired the side on strikes.

Elsewhere Funk started with an infield of Vic Shelton at first, Clay Chambers at second, Darrell Greene at short, and Mike Teague at third. Hal Meller was the first of three catchers to see action while Mike Hnilton, Larry Ferguson, and Lloyd Neighbors patrolled the outfield.

Neighbors and Hamilton stole the show offensively, combining for seven of the team's hits. Neighbors, a reserve infielder most of last season, got solid wood on the ball in every appearance and his four hits included a home run and double. The powerful Hamilton walked twice, reached base on an error, doubled once and tripled twice. He drove in five runs.

Wasson got only two hits and one run off Adams City starter Dave Weber who worked the first two innings but the T-Birds began to break open the contest with a five run third which featured Neighbors' three-run homer. By the late innings the Indians were staggering badly in the field also as the Thunderbirds galloped around the bases, "Funk-style," and Wasson wrapped up the afternoon with a 10 run seventh.

The T-Birds' next outing will be a home opener against strong Denver Jefferson at the Wasson diamond at 10 a.m. Saturday.

Four Teams Set for NIT Semi-Finals

NEW YORK (UPI) — Villanova and Marquette — an unlikely title game combination if ever there ever was one — aimed at upsets over Canisius and Providence respectively tonight in the semifinals of the National Invitation Tournament.

Both Canisius and Providence may be below par physically—Canisius because six key players have been weakened by respiratory ailments and Providence because playmaker Vinnie Ernst is suffering with a pulled muscle in his right leg.

The Canisius players seemed to be gaining in their battle of the bugs when they flew into New York Wednesday night. Coach Bob Mackinnon said he expected to start his regular lineup against Villanova tonight.

Ernst, injured Tuesday night while attempting a shot during his team's 106-96 quarter-final victory over Miami (Fla.), will be examined just before game time when coach Joe Mullaney will make his decision.

Ernst, 5-feet, 8 inches tall, is the sparkplug of the Providence team. He won the NIT's most valuable player award two years ago when Providence won the tournament and this year he was voted the outstanding visiting player to appear in Madison Square Garden.

Villanova, which eliminated top-seeded Wichita in the quarterfinals, relies on a zone defense and old fashioned ball control in contrast to the race horse offense currently popular. The Wildcats' five starters played almost the entire games in their two NIT victories.

AFA's Isaacson Among Favorites In Wrestling

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Three individual champions and the always great Oklahoma State University contingent lead a field of 287 wrestlers into action today in the 33rd annual NCAA wrestling championships.

Mickey Martin of Oklahoma, 130, Mike Natvig of Army, 147, and Oklahoma's Wayne Baughman at 191 pounds are shooting to repeat as titleholders by the time the meet closes Saturday night.

The Cowboys of O-State are the strong favorites to grab off their third straight team title and 24th in the history of the natiinals. Oklahoma, however, promises to provide a hot scrap for team laurels.

The title chase begins on six mats at Kent State University's Memorial Gym this afternoon and tonight with first and second round preliminaries. Strong competition is lined up for each of the 10 weight divisions.

Terry Isaacson of the Air Force Academy is the favorite in the 167 pound division, based on his second place finish in 1961. Jim Harrison of Pittsburgh, third a year ago, Bob Zweiacher of O-State and Dave Evans of Northwestern are strong competitors.

Dean Lahr of Colorado, the Big Eight champ who is unbeaten this season and a runnerup in 1961, is the favorite in the 177-pound class.

Local Umpires Association To Meet Tonight

The Colorado Springs Umpires Association will conduct a general meeting tonight at 7:30 p.m. at Memorial Park.

All umpires associated with the Colorado High School Activities Association and persons interested in joining are urged to attend the meeting, Bob Gill, secretary of the local organization, announced.

BOSTON (UPI) — Joe DeNucci, 23-year-old Newton resident who has a 36-4-2 record, will meet Joey Archer of New York in a nationally televised 10-round bout at the Boston Arena, April 6. Archer has won 34 of 35 bouts.

Thunderbirds Open Track Slate Friday

LONGMONT — Jim Hartman's Wasson track team opens the 1963 season here Friday afternoon in a dual meet with Northern League rival, Longmont.

For the first time since the school opened the Thunderbirds will be without the services of Doug Dienelt, the greatest track star yet produced at the north-side institution. Dienelt, holder of the state broad jump record plus marks at every big high school meet around Colorado, is now at the University of Kansas.

Thus Hartman is anxious to see how his replacements will take up the slack left by the graduation of "Dandy Doug" who generally accounted for 20 points a meet by himself.

Wasson will have a number of veterans in action, including Chuck Stuart, who shares the state pole vault record. Stuart cleared 13 feet in tying for the state crown last spring. He also competes in the discus and shot put.

The Thunderbirds should be strong in the field events. Also returning is Bob Stanley, who competes in the shot and duscus, discus man Rich Bishop, and vaulter Ken Charles. On the track Wasson may have a fast-coming miler in junior Jeff Bervin but the team's potential in the important sprints and hurles is a mystery. Dominic Flacco was a promising hurdler at the end of last season and he and Randy Willett will probably carry the majority of the load in the dashes as well.

THE HARD WAY—Jim Cochran of nearby Carlisle does a backward pole vault, but before you laugh, consider that even so he cleared 11 feet 4 inches. His effort set a school and Suburban Conference record in the loop track meet in Des Moines Wednesday night. (AP Wirephoto)

Triple Title Fight Card Reset Tonight at L. A.

By JACK CUDDY
UPI Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — With the betting at "even money," welterweight champion Emile Griffith risks his crown tonight against Cuban Luis Rodriguez in the featured 15-rounder of three world title fights at the Dodgers' baseball stadium.

Boxing's first triple - title show in a quarter-century was originally scheduled for last Saturday night; but persistent rain washed it out—along with television arrangements for the Griffith-Rodriguez (147-pound) bout.

There will be no television and no radio tonight of the program that includes Davey Moore's defense of the featherweight (126-pound) title against Ultimino (Sugar) Ramos of Cuba, and a fight for the vacant junior welterweight (140-pound) crown between Raymundo (Battling) Torres of Mexico and Roberto Cruz of the Philippines.

Moore of Columbus, Ohio, is favored at 2-1 for a successful sixth defense against Ramos, and KO specialist Torres is 3-1 over Cruz.

Co-promoters Aileen and Cal Eaton and George Parnassus hope for a crowd of 23,000 and a gate of $275,000 to get them "off the hook" after losing the $70,000 television fee and dropping $30,000 in extra expenses because of the five-day postponement.

No reduction was made in the total $145,000 guaranteed to the sextet of leather-tossers.

New Yorker Griffith, $70,000 star of the show, is fighting Schnozzola Rodriguez for the second time. They met in New York's Madison Square Garden on Dec. 17, 1960—before Emile became champion—and Griffith had to be content with a controversial split 10-round decision: 6-4, 5-4-1, 4-5-1. One of the judges voted for Luis.

Rodriguez is guaranteed $15,000.

The Griffith Rodriguez bout is slated to start at 11 p.m. EST. It will be followed by Moore-Ramos and then Torres-Cruz.

Griffith, making the fifth defense of his two regimes as the champion, would be a favorite because of his improved punch and his dangerous combined body-head attack, were it not for the fact he hasn't done any sparring in nine days. Rodriguez boxed six rounds on Monday and three on Tuesday. The Cuban's admirers believe him "sharper" than Emile.

Griffith, 25, New York's mauling milliner, seeks his 11th victory in a row and his 36th in 39 bouts, which include 14 KOs. He lost three decisions.

Rodriguez, 26, tries for his 12th straight win and his 49th in 53 bouts. He scored 21 knockouts.

Featherweight champ Moore, 29, is making his sixth defense against Cuban Ramos, 23, who is riding seven straight victories. Moore, a good boxer-puncher, has held the 126-pound diadem four years. None of the other current world champions has had his title that long.

Davey gets $40,000; Ramos, $7,50.

Wild-hooking Torres of Mexico, 22, and speedy Roberto Cruz of the Philippines, 21, are fighting for the junior welterweight title left vacant when Italy's Duilio Loi recently retired as champion.

Torres is guaranteed $7,500; Cruz $5,000.

DU, Buffs Battle for Honors In NCAA Ski Championships

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—The state of Colorado is expected to be the big winner in the NCAA Skiing Championships which opened at Solitude Ski Resort near here today.

University of Colorado and neighboring Denver University were expected to battle for top team and individual honors in the meet which runs through Saturday afternoon.

Denver will be seeking its third consecutive collegiate ski title and its ninth crown in 13 years. Colorado will be after its first title since the Buffs from Boulder won the championships in 1959 and 1960.

In three meets between the two schools this year Colorado won two of them.

The meet, first such event staged in Utah, will begin with the slalom. The downhill and cross country events are scheduled Friday with jumping taking place Saturday.

Denver's hopes for a title rest on the strong shoulders of Chuck Ferries and the Pioneer jumping team composed of Aarne Valakma, Oyvind Floystad, Erik Janzen and Chris Rounds.

Coach Willy Schaeffler's jumping crew has won every intercollegiate jumping meet held this year.

Colorado, coached by Bob Beattie, will count on dependable Buddy Werner.

Top challengers in addition to DU and Colorado will be Western State and Washington and perennial eastern powers Middlebury and Dartmouth.

Ferries and Werner are expected to get tough opposition from Mike Buckley of Montana State University and Bill Marolt and Jim Heuga, both of Colorado.

New snow fell at Solitude earlier this week, raising the total snow depth ot 66 inches. Crews worked the past three days packing the slalom and downhill courses. The jumping competition will be held on Solitude's new 55-meter jumping hill.

BALANCED BEAUTY — Dale McClements, in front, and Doris Fuchs, the national all-around women's gymnastics champ and the 1961 national runner-up, respectively, get set for the Pan-American gymnastic tryouts in New York and Florida. The two Seattle girls have been practicing months and left Wednesday for the tryouts. If they pass the tests successfully, they move on to the Pan-Am games in Brazil. (AP Wirephoto)

Fighter in Coma Has Tax Lien

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The U.S. government has filed an income tax bill of $9,798 on the $26,000 the stricken Argentine heavyweight, Alejandro Lavorante, earned in this country in 1962.

Because of the tax lien, Lavorante's father will not be able to take his son home until after a hearing, set for May 29.

The boxer has been in a coma for six months. He was knocked out in a Las Angeles fight and never has regained consciousness.

Lavorante's father was given permission two weeks ago to handle the $16,886 the boxer had in a bank account, but the tax lien ties up the money until the hearing.

Gridiron Checkers

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP—The Pheasants in Minnesota are fat in October. George Halas of the Chicago Bears has a lot of friends in the oil business. The San Francisco Giants may get into the World Series again.

These are all factors affecting a high stakes checker game being played these days on the 23rd floor of a building in Rockefeller Center in New York.

Others include the winds off lake Erie in December, the seating capacity of Pitt Stadium and the time it takes to move the bleachers in Washington.

The checker players are National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle and his crew. They are busy drawing up the 1963 schedule for the 14 teams in the NFL, currently the biggest wheel in sports.

Stakes include the hopes of coaches, players and fans, more than $15 million in gate receipts, and television contracts worth almost half that much.

"An ideal schedule," said Rozelle, "would result in mass confusion in the standings in the first third of the season, a shaking down in the second and the drive for the titles in the third.

"We like to start off with weak teams against weak, strong against strong. Pro football isn't like baseball or basketball, with their long seasons, where a team can have a few bad weeks and still win. A few bad weeks in the NFL and title hopes are gone."

The basic schedule problem seems simple enough. The teams are divided into two seven-team divisions. Each plays the others in its division twice, making 12 games, plus two with teams in the other group. The season opens Sept. 15 and closes Dec. 15.

But when Rozelle opens his big schedule checker board and starts moving around the colored discs that represent the teams, the problems begin to pop up.

First, the board is liberally sprinkled with "X's" — meaning that day is out, at that site. Baseball contributes the most "X's" since ten NFL teams share quarters with baseball clubs, which rules out many dates until that season ends.

Then add these factors:

Too cold the last two weeks in Green Bay, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Minnesota.

No game the last weekend in October in Minnesota—the pheasant season opens then.

A game in Chicago Nov. 10, when the annual National Petroleum Conference meets. But, please, not the champion Packers, because Wrigley Field is already sold out and Bear owner Halas' oil friends will all demand seats for that game.

Stay out of World Series towns. But which teams will be in it? The current guess at NFL headquarters is the New York Yankees and the Giants, with a hedge if the Los Angeles Dodgers come through.

Pitt Stadium seats more than Forbes Field. So put the best drawing teams in Pittsburgh on the dates the stadium is free.

If you open at Yankee Stadium, can you get the field back in shape for the World Series?

Some teams are sold out before the season starts. Others might need a big game late in the year. How about this one? Oops, that puts two games back to back. A good idea, sometimes. Sometimes not.

The checkers get moved here, there, are replaced.

"There's one consolation," Rozelle said, "with the balance in the league, and a surprise team almost every year, it's just about impossible to go very far wrong on the schedule."

Seeded Clubs Set for Action In AAU Play

DENVER (UPI)— The battle should become somewhat tougher tonight for a quartet of teams as they go into the quarterfinals of the National AAU Basketball Tournament against the four big guns in the meet.

In first round action Wednesday, two of four games were near mismatches, one was a comparatively easy win, and one was a squeaker.

State Line Motel, Wendover, Utah, coasted to a 97-92 win over Al Maroone's Bachelor Arms, Buffalo, N.Y., after jumping to an 18-2 lead at the opening of the night's final game. The opening game saw a battle all the way, until Jimmy King of Prince Electric, Enid, Okla., hit six points in the final minutes to give his team a 62-61 victory over Federal Old Line Insurance of Seattle.

The other two games were relative walkaways. Marion-Kay Vanilla, Brownstown, Ind., swamped the Jacksonville, Fla., All Stars, 121-76, and May Builders, Arkansas City, Kan., stormed over the San Francisco Saints 97-69.

High scorer in the evening's action was Andy O'Connell who potted 30 points in a losing cause for Bachelor Arms, the losing teams were eliminated from the tourney.

The tournament's seeded teams will see their first action tonight, as all drew byes for first-round action. Favored Phillips 66, Bartlesville, Okla., will go against State Line, the Armed Forces All Stars will meet Marion-Kay, May Builders goes against Goodyear Wingfoots, Akron, Ohio, and Prince Electric will meet the hometown Denver-Chicago Truckers.

A crowd of about 1500 turned out for opening action Wednesday.

Semi-final play will be held Friday, and the champion will be determined Saturday night.

Four Teams Set for NIT Semi-Finals

NEW YORK (UPI) — Villanova and Marquette — an unlikely title game combination if ever there ever was one — aimed at upsets over Canisius and Providence respectively tonight in the semi-finals of the National Invitation Tournament.

Both Canisius and Providence may be below par physically — Canisius because six key players have been weakened by respiratory ailments and Providence because playmaker Vinnie Ernst is suffering with a pulled muscle in his right leg.

The Canisius players seemed to be gaining in their battle of the bugs when they flew into New York Wednesday night. Coach Bob Mackinnon said he expected to start his regular lineup against Villanova tonight.

Ernst, injured Tuesday night while attempting a shot during his team's 106-96 quarter-final victory over Miami (Fla.), will be examined just before game time when coach Joe Mullaney will make his decision.

Ernst, 5-feet, 8 inches tall, is the sparkplug of the Providence team. He won the NIT's most valuable player award two years ago when Providence won the tournament and this year he was voted the outstanding visiting player to appear in Madison Square Garden.

Villanova, which eliminated top-seeded Wichita in the quarter-finals, relies on a zone defense and old fashioned ball control in contrast to the race horse offense currently popular. The Wildcats' five starters played almost the entire games in their two NIT victories.

Breckenridge Ski School Announced

A four-week Spring Ski School will be launched in Breckenridge next week. Weekday classes will get underway Wednesday, March 27, with weekend classes beginning Saturday, March 30.

Ski School fee of $22.50 will include four round-trip bus fares, four half-day weekly lessons and lift tickets for lessons 2, 3 and 4. Lessons will be made available for beginning, intermediate and expert groups, with classes limited to 10 or less per instructor.

Classes will be under supervision of former Norwegian ski champions, Trygve Berge and Sigurd Rockne, co-directors of the Breckenridge Ski School.

Buses will leave at 7:30 a.m. from the Lucas Ski Shop, 120 N. Tejon, and the Buick Ski Shop, 119 No. Tejon. Skis, poles and boots for adults or children may be rented from either store for $9 for the four - week period.

For skiing parents, babysitting service for young children will be provided in the Bergenhof Ski Lodge at the base of the Breckenridge ski area lifts.

Thunderbirds Thrash Adams City To Initiate New Baseball Season

Defending SCL Champs Impressive in Opener

By TOM CUSHMAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

ADAMS CITY — According to the calendar spring arrived on the scene only today but Wednesday afternoon Wasson's Thunderbirds were busy offering a sneak preview of what the season may offer for their area baseball opposition.

* * *

Coach Gib Funk, who guided the T-Birds to the South Central League championship and second place in the state a year ago, has recently been moaning over the effects of graduation losses and general mal-performance by the squad during practice sessions. Wednesday Funk stood by silently as his 1963 edition pummeled helpless Adams City 22-0, and launched what has every appearance of becoming another successful campaign.

Aside the Wasson coach is obviously not settled on a lineup at every point, he should have a pleasant time with the selections. Some 16 players got into the line-up Wednesday and 11 hit safely as the Thunderbirds pounded four Adams City hurlers for 17 safeties, including a home run, two triples and five doubles.

In addition, the T-Birds performed flawlessly afield. In the four innings of the game Funk worked his replacements will three pitchers in the seven-inning affair and they gave up a total of one hit and five bases on-balls while fanning 13. In the terminology of the baseball trade, there should be no snakes left in Adams City after Wednesday — so futile were the flailing efforts of Indian batters.

Tim Hamilton, ace of the Wasson staff the past two seasons, worked the first three innings and actually had the only trouble of any of the three pitchers. Wildness, a plague that Hamilton has sidestepped thus far during his high school career, had him in some trouble during the first two frames.

He passed two batters in the first inning but ended up striking out the side. With one away in the second Lynn Davis rapped a ground ball thru the hole between short and third for the Indians' only hit of the day. Davis was forced at second but Hamilton then issued two straight walks to load the bases before he fanned Ralph Watts to retire the side. He followed by striking out the Indians in order in the third.

Leroy Porterfield, the team's number two hurler last year, gave up only a single base on balls in an impressive three-inning stint after Hamilton retired to first base duties. Bob Kochus, a lanky junior who can literally hide the ball in his huge paws, toiled thru the seventh and retired the side on strikes.

Elsewhere Funk started with an infield of Vic Shelton at first, Clay Chambers at second, Darrell Greene at short, and Mike Teague at third. Hal Meller was the first of three catchers to see action while Mike Hanton, Larry Ferguson, and Lloyd Neighbors patrolled the outfield.

Neighbors and Hamilton stole the show offensively, combining for seven of the team's hits. Neighbors, a reserve infielder most of last season, got solid wood on the ball in every appearance and his four hits included a home run and double. The powerful Hamilton walked twice, reached base on an error, doubled once and tripled twice. He drove in five runs.

Wasson got only two hits and one run off Adams City starter Dave Weber who worked the first two innings but the T-Birds began to break open the contest with a five run third which featured Neighbors' three-run homer. By the late innings the Indians were staggering badly in the field also as the Thunderbirds galloped around the bases, "Funk-style," and Wasson wrapped up the afternoon with a 10 run seventh.

The T-Birds' next outing will be a home opener against strong Denver Jefferson at the Wasson diamond at 10 a.m. Saturday.

DU, Buffs Battle for Honors In NCAA Ski Championships

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — The state of Colorado is expected to be the big winner in the NCAA Skiing Championships which opened at Solitude Ski Resort near here today.

University of Colorado and neighboring Denver University were expected to battle for top team and individual honors in the meet which runs through Saturday afternoon.

Denver will be seeking its third consecutive collegiate ski title and its ninth crown in 13 years. Colorado will be after its first title since the Buffs from Boulder won the championships in 1959 and 1960.

In three meets between the two schools this year Colorado won two of them.

The meet, first such event staged in Utah, will begin with the slalom. The downhill and cross-country events are scheduled Friday with jumping taking place Saturday.

Denver's hopes for a title rest on the strong shoulders of Chuck Ferries and the Pioneer jumping team composed of Aarne Valakma, Oyvind Floystad, Erik Janzen and Chris Rounds.

Coach Willy Schaeffler's jumping crew has won every intercollegiate jumping meet held this year.

Colorado, coached by Bob Beattie, will count on dependable Buddy Werner.

Top challengers in addition to DU and Colorado will be Western State and Washington and perennial eastern powers Middlebury and Dartmouth.

Ferries and Werner are expected to get tough opposition from Mike Buckley of Montana State University and Bill Marolt and Jim Heuga, both of Colorado.

New snow fell at Solitude earlier this week, raising the total snow depth at 66 inches. Crews worked the past three days packing the slalom and downhill courses. The jumping competition will be held on Solitude's new 55-meter jumping hill.

Cousy Traded Slums for Greatness

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP)—With his boundless energy, young Bob Cousy viewed life from the street of a New York slum and saw two paths.

One was to achievement in sports. The other to the world of stolen hubcaps and broken windows.

The all-time athletic great retiring from the Boston Celtics after 13 years credits his path on the right road to his parents and the fact they moved to a basketball hotbed in the borough of Queens when he was 13.

"Contrary to popular opinion, I was not born with a basketball in my hands," Cousy says. "In fact, I hardly knew what one looked like until we moved to St. Alban's. From then on, the excellent competition at my school and the ones we played against helped me to sharpen my game."

When Cousy arrived on the Worcester, Mass., campus, the Crusaders had a [illegible] national champion.

"So here was I, the great Cousy, captain of the new York City all-scholastic team the year before, relegated to a buy fighting to stay on the squad," he recalls.

After earning All-America honors at Holy Cross, he was drafted by the Chicago Stags. That National Basketball Association franchise folded shortly thereafter and the Celtics, who didn't want him, got him by drawing his name from a hat. Bob now discloses he had doubts then that he would even make the team but set out to prove himself all over again.

Thirteen All-Star [illegible] and five NBA championships later, the results of Cousy's efforts need no embellishment.

Former Holy Cross teammate Andy Laska recalls the Cousy of their college days.

"He was so determined and devoted we used to practice in a barn ... and when we'd all be up eating supper in the dining hall, he'd still be down in the barn practicing ... That's his secret. He's never satisfied with his game, even after 13 years."

Cousy makes no blanket predictions as to how he will make out as head basketball coach at Boston College, a post he takes over next season. But he feels his understanding of boys will help.

The ceaseless Cousy drive won't hurt his cause much either.

Syracuse, Hawks Lead NBA Playoffs

By United Press International

The Syracuse Nationals will be seeking to take a commanding two-game lead in the Eastern Division semifinal playoffs of the National Basketball Association when they take on the Cincinnati Royals in Cincinnati tonight.

The St. Louis Hawks got off to a good start in the Western Division eliminations by overcoming the Detroit Pistons, 118-99, on their home court Wednesday night. The clubs will resume their best-of-five series with another contest in St. Louis Friday night.

Syracuse took a 1-0 edge in its division by beating the Royals on Tuesday, and now is an overwhelming favorite to advance to the Eastern finals against the Boston Celtics.

The Hawks fell 12 points behind after the first quarter, 27-15, but rallied for 40 points in the second period to drive back into contention. St. Louis finally went ahead for good at 69-68 on a third quarter basket by Mike Farmer.

Cliff Hagan and Bob Pettit of the Hawks shared game scoring honors with 31 points each and rookie Dave Debusschere paced Detroit with 30.

NCAA Reports Scoring Goes Down in Colleges

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

They put up the "whoa" sign this season in racehorse college basketball.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association's service bureau, which keeps tabs on such things, reported Thursday that scoring in major college games dropped from a 141 average to 138.4 per game for both teams.

"The figures substantiate the suspicion that coaches across the country deliberately took the racehorse out of basketball," the bureau said. "At least enough of them turned to the control game to result in an unprecedented decrease in the number of field goal attempts."

Field goal attempts were the lowest in 16 years. The colleges averaged only 127.3 shots at the basket compared with 134.5 the year before.

For the fifth time in six seasons, the Midwest led the other sections in point-making, averaging 145.2 points a game for both teams. Largest decrease was in the South where scoring fell off 4.7 points a game.

The only section to show a scoring gain was the Far West. The Rockies had a slight gain—138.9 to 139.0—but the Pacific Coast leaped from 129.4 to 132.6.

Who The Heck IS "CHAUNCEY"?

Everyone 'Tells the Truth' About Football Fix Scandal

ATLANTA (AP) — Former Georgia Athletic Director Wallace Butts has taken a lie detector test and his attorney says the results indicate he is telling the truth in denying a charge of collusion to fix the Georgia-Alabama football game last fall.

William Schroder, the attorney, said Butts took the test Wednesday at Jacksonville, Fla. "He passed with flying colors," Schroder said.

The Saturday Evening Post charged that Butts telephoned inside information on the Georgia team to Alabama Coach Paul Bryant eight days before the game which Alabama won 35-0.

Bryant also took a lie detector test. He said the results showed that he, also, was telling the truth in denying the charge.

George Burnett, an Atlanta insurance man who heard the alleged telephone conversation, according to the Post, also took a lie detector test. He said the test showed that he, too, was telling the truth.

Burnett issued a statement thru his attorney Wednesday night in which he challenged Butts and Bryant to take additional tests — using sodium pentothal (truth serum).

The attorney said Burnett offered to allow attorneys for Butts and Bryant to question him while he is under the influence of the serum if they would permit his attorney the same privilege in questioning Butts and Bryant.

There was no immediate comment from either Butts or Bryant.

A spokesman for the Georgia Athletic Board said a record has been found of a telephone call from Butts to Bryant at the time the Post alleges the two conspired to rig the game.

The attorney for the board, M. Cook Barwick of Atlanta, said "we found a record of a call at the precise time Burnett said he heard the call. The record indicated the call was made from an Atlanta number to Tuscaloosa but was charged to the athletic board."

Butts, who has never denied talking with Bryant, said at his Athens, Ga., home last Sunday that he did not recall a conversation on the specific date.

Burnett was quoted in the Post as saying that thru an electronic mistake he was connected into the conversation between Butts and Bryant.

Maple Leafs Win NHL Championship

By United Press International

The Toronto Maple Leafs, overlooked in the pre-season [illegible] today were celebrating their first National Hockey League championship in 15 years.

When the season started, most experts figured the Chicago Black Hawks and the Montreal Canadiens would battle it out for first place.

However, the Maple Leafs completed one of the strongest stretch runs in NHL history Wednesday night by clinching the pennant with a 3-3 standoff against the Canadiens at Toronto. Dave Keon rapped in the tying goal for the Leafs with eight seconds to play—and Toronto goalie Don Simmons sitting on the bench.

The deadlock gave Toronto a four-point bulge over Chicago and Montreal. All have two games to play. Either the Hawks or Canadiens could still tie Toronto on points, but the Leafs would still emerge as league champions on the basis of most games won.

During the celebration in the Toronto dressing room, Manager-Coach Punch Imlach disagreed with a suggestion that the Maple Leafs backed into the title.

"That was our tenth straight unbeaten game," said Punch. "You don't call that backing in."

Three weeks ago, the Maple Leafs were in third place, nine points back of Chicago. Then the Black Hawks went into a tailspin, winning only one of nine games, while Toronto breezed away.

In Wednesday night's only other NHL action, Vic Hatfield's three goals paced the New York Rangers to a 5-1 victory over the Boston Bruins. Andy Bathgate of the Rangers picked up three assists to raise his season point total to 78, five less than pace-setting Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings.

Records Fall In National AAU Swim Meet

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Three races, three records—two American standards and the other a meet mark. That's the story of the National AAU Indoor Swimming Championships.

Off to a brilliant start, the four-day meet enters the halfway point today with no signs of any letup in the record smashing.

Two of Wednesday's champions, Indiana's Chet Jastremski, 200-yard individual medley and Roy Saari, Southern California freshman, 500-yard freestyle, are out for their second gold medals in Yale's 25-yard pool.

The 21-year-old Jastremski, who Wednesday lowered his individual medley American record from 1 minute, 59.4 seconds to 1 minute, 58.5 seconds, defends his 200-yard breaststroke crown.

Saari, 19, who posted a 4:48.2 for a meet record in the 500, a new event, shoots for the 1,650-yard freestyle, an elongated version of the 1,500-meter grind he won last year.

Minnesota's Steve Jackman rests today, but experts were still buzzing over the way he beat Yale's Steve Clark in the 100-yard sprint Wednesday night. The 21-year-old Jackman raced the century in 46.5 seconds, shattering Clark's 46.8 recorded years ago.

Knee Operation to Sideline Liston

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A knee operation will put heavyweight champion Sonny Liston out of action for at least six months. He may not fight again until next year.

The return bout with Floyd Patterson, which has been hanging by a thread for several weeks, was postponed indefinitely Wednesday night by the Miami Boxing Commission after an official examination that revealed damage to the cartilage in Liston's left knee.

It is our opinion that this knee should have the benefit of surgical procedure," said a report by Dr. A. H. Weiland, widely known orthopedic surgeon who made the examination.

It would take at least [illegible] months for the knee to heal after such an operation, Dr. Weiland said. One of Liston's associates said the champion probably will not schedule a fight during the remainder of this year.

When the rematch with Patterson will be fought now is up to Liston. Where it will be is up to Patterson, who has the right in the return bout to name the site.

"I don't feel so good," Liston moaned when he walked out of Dr. Weiland's office after the hour-long examination which he had returned from Chicago to undergo on orders from the boxing commission.

His knee, originally injured when he swung a golf club, apparently was recovering when he hurt it again March 13.

Less than two hours after the examination Liston climbed on a plane and returned to his Chicago home.

Bo Backs Up Own Praise In Sixth Inning Shutout

By United Press International

It's beginning to look like Bo Belinsky is almost as good a pitcher as he thinks he is.

The Los Angeles Angel lefty—who has promised to curtail his off-the-field activities this year—has been the most effective pitcher of the exhibition season and looks like an 18-to-20-game winner.

Belinsky, who hurled a no-hitter among his 10 victories in 1962, has pitched 13 innings without giving up an earned run. He went six shutout innings Wednesday, combining in a five-hitter with Don Lee to give the Angels a 2-1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs and run their winning streak to six games.

The Angel pitching staff has yielded the opposition more than two runs only twice in the last six games and boasts a magnificent 1.92 earned run average for the spring.

Yanks Unleash Attack

The New York Yankees broke out of their spring batting slump with a 27-hit attack that crushed the Washington Senators, 18-3. Roger Maris and Joe Pepitone homered for the Yankees.

Johnny Edwards hit two homers and Wally Post hit one as the Cincinnati Reds beat the Minnesota Twins, 6-5. Edwards' homers were his third and fourth of the spring. John Tsitouris, Ken Hunt and Jim Brosnan held the Twins, who have lost four straight games, to six hits.

Tommy Davis, NL batting champion giving it the old fight in an experiment at third base, committed two more errors for a spring total of eight as the Los Angeles Dodgers bowed to the New York Mets, 4-3. Bill Skowron had a triple and a single for the Dodgers.

Dave Nicholson's two-run homer in the first inning sent the Chicago White Sox on their way to a 7-5 win over the Philadelphia Phillies. The White Sox took advantage of eight walks and made 15 hits. Clay Dalrymple led the Phillies' attack with a single, a double and a homer.

Hurls Two-Hitter

Don Schwall pitched two-hit ball for five inning as the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Detroit Tigers, 4-0, in a game halted by rain after the sixth inning. Schwall allowed only singles to Bubba Morton and Gus Triandos in his best showing of the spring.

Roman Mejias and Dick Stuart hit homers off rookie Gordon Seyfreid to lead the Red Sox to a 5-2 decision over the Cleveland Indians. Ike Delock pitched six innings and yielded only one run.

The St. Louis Cardinals dealt the Baltimore Orioles their first loss of the spring, 4-3, with the help of a homer and a game-saving catch by Curt Flood. Ray Washburn stopped the Orioles on one run and three hits for five innings. It was the Orioles' first loss in 11 exhibition games.

Carroll Hardy's three-run homer in the 13th inning lifted the Houston Colts to a 16-12 victory over the San Francisco Giants. Orlando Cepeda homered in his spring debut and Willie Mays, Willie McCovey, Ernie Bowman and rookie Cap Peterson also homered for the Giants.

Records Fall In National AAU Swim Meet

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Three races, three records—two American standards and the one meet mark. That's the score in the National AAU Indoor Swimming Championships.

The results indicate he is telling [illegible] from either Butts or Bryant in denying a charge of [illegible] collusion to fix the Georgia-Alabama football game last fall.

William Schroder, the attorney, said Butts took the test Wednesday at Jacksonville, Fla. "He passed with flying colors," Schroder said.

The Saturday Evening Post charged that Butts telephoned inside information on the Georgia team to Alabama Coach Paul Bryant eight days before the game which Alabama won 35-0.

Bryant also took a lie detector test. He said the results showed that he, also, was telling the truth in denying the charge.

George Burnett, an Atlanta insurance man who heard the alleged telephone conversation, according to the Post, also took a lie detector test. He said the test showed that he, too, was telling the truth.

Burnett issued a statement thru his attorney, Wednesday night in which he challenged Butts and Bryant to take additional tests using sodium pentothal, truth serum.

NCAA Reports Scoring Goes Down in Colleges

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

They put up the "whoa" sign this season in racehorse college basketball.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association's service bureau, which keeps tabs on such things, reported Thursday the scoring in major college games dropped from a 141 average to 138.4 per game for both teams.

The figures substantiate the suspicion that coaches across the country deliberately took the race horse out of basketball. The bureau said: "At least enough of them turned to the control game to result in an unprecedented decrease in the number of field goal attempts."

Field goal attempts were the lowest in 16 years. The colleges averaged only 127.3 shots at the basket compared with 134.5 the year before.

For the fifth time in six seasons, the Midwest led the other sections in point-making, averaging 145.2 points a game for both teams. Largest decrease was in the South where scoring fell off 4.7 points a game.

The only section to show a scoring gain was the Far West. The Rockies had a slight [illegible]—138.6 to 139.0—but the Pacific Coast leaped from 129.4 to 132.6.

Caesarean Section Films Shown on TV

LONDON (AP)—Films of births by Caesarean section were shown on British television Wednesday night in full detail. Squeamish viewers were advised in advance not to watch, and the BBC said it received no complaints.

The operations, one for a normal head-first delivery and the other for a breech-positioned baby, were filmed in January at a London hospital.

They showed the mother's abdomen opened and the baby being extracted by the surgeon, a woman. She spoke through a portable chest microphone as she worked, explaining the operation.

The program, "Your Life in Their Hands," is a weekly show on medical problems that normally has more than a million viewers.

Heavier NATO Defense Share Urged in Europe

PARIS (UPI)— British Foreign Secretary Lord Home called today for a greater share for Europe in the Atlantic alliance's nuclear defense setup.

He coupled this with a warning that the political and economic rifts in Europe stemming from the breakdown of the Common Market talks with Britain should not be allowed to weaken military defenses against Communist aggression.

British sources said Home, in a major address to the permanent council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, renewed Britain's offer, made originally by Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to President Kennedy at Nassau in December, to assign the British V-bomber force to NATO.

In return, he was reported to have proposed that the NATO nuclear force now under study should be under the command of a European, preferably a Briton.

Canteen of Prince Fetches High Price

LONDON (AP)—Bonnie Prince Charlie forgot his canteen in his tent when he fled a battlefield 217 years ago. Wednesday the same canteen sold for 7,200 pounds ($20,160) at a London auction.

The defeat of the young pretender by the Duke of Cumberland at Culloden, Scotland, in 1746 marked the end of the Jacobite rebellion and doomed the house of Stuart.

The canteen was auctioned for Viscount Bury, a descendant of the aide-de-camp to the Duke of Cumberland at Culloden.

The canteen, a sort of luncheon kit, has two silver gilt beakers, two tablespoons, two forks, two knives, a condiment box and a nutmeg grater and corkscrew.

It was bought by two London silver dealers.

Carson Captain, Third Generation Army Officer

A third-generation Army officer, Capt. Paul B. Malone of Ft. Carson, returns a famous name to the 5th Infantry Division and combines military skills of his father and grandfather.

He is the grandson of the late Maj. Gen. Paul B. Malone, who led the 5th Division's 10th Brigade in World War I in France, and the son of Col. A. J. Kerwin Malone, now retired to Sarasota, Fla.

Since the captain's graduation in 1952 from the U. S. Military Academy, he has served for six years with airborne units and more recently earned the wingsd of a fixed wing and helicopter pilot to wear below his master parachutist badge. He wears the ranger patch too.

His famous grandfather led the Red Devils of the 5th in the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne offensives of World War I, winning the Distinguished Service Medal, the Silver Star, Italian and French decorations.

Well know as an Army orator and author, the late Gen. Malone was the first assistant commandant of the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga., where the trainfire complex was named in his honor two years ago after his death.

Col. Malone, the Carson airborne-aviator's father, joined the Army Air Service in 1925. He was with the Eighth Air Force in England in World War II. When he retired, Col. Malone had logged 8,000 flying hours in aircraft ranging from those with cloth and wood framework to bombers.

Col. Paul B. Malone Jr., the Carson captain's uncle who is retired in Tampa, Fla., was an Army infantry officer who served in World War II.

Capt. Malone moved recently from command of Company A, 1st Battalion, 61st Infantry, to assistant supply officer for the 5th Division's 1st Brigade.

Ex-Ticket Agent Becomes Army Movement Expert

A former airline salesman plays a vital part in every move the 5th Infantry Division makes. Pfc. William Ziegler of plans and training division is responsible for maintaining planning data for any possible move of the constantly on call division.

Working 3½ years as a sale agent for Trans-World Airlines at Dayton, Ohio, was more interesting, he says, because it dealt with the unpredictable public. But the division job is more challenging, he adds.

This movement specialist works under the direction of Capt. C. C. Shields, movement control officer. He studied mechanical engineering at the University of Detroit before becoming involved with passenger ticket service.

He bought a three-bedroom home near Dayton for less than $10,00 before he had any thought of getting married. By the time he had fixed it up and built a tennis court, he had a $16,000 home to offer his bride.

What does he do in his spare time while in the Army? Easy, says Ziegler: "With this job I have no spare time."

Carson Rewards Quartermaster, Signal Personnel

Several Ft. Carson civilian employees were honored recently with a variety of awards, Norbert M. Socha, director of civilian personnel, presented three employees with Department of the Army sustained superior performance awards. The winners were Mrs. Helen Garcia, quartermaster laundry, Jimmie V. Causey, signal maintenance shop, and Edgar A. Chapman, post quartermaster commissary division.

Lt. Col. Ted W. Peterson, post signal officer, presented an award of $15 to Adolph G. Wadman, photographic equipment repairer in the Post Signal Film Exchange, for an adopted suggestion of an open type frame used in the maintenance of tape recorders.

This frame permits easy access to points being serviced and improves the safety factor in the work.

At the same time, Col. Peterson presented three Post Signal employees with Department of the Army service pins and certificates in honor of their having completed 10 years of Federal Service.

The employees are Mrs. Patricia E. Butcher, Cecil O. Johnson, and Robert E. Mentzer.

Dunlap was the bailee of a $500 jeep belonging to R. Hailey and is accused of stealing it March 6.

Judge David W. Enoch set bond at $2,500.

Caesarean Section Films Shown on TV

LONDON (AP)—Films of births by Caesarean section were shown on British television Wednesday night in full detail. Squeamish viewers were advised in advance not to watch, and the BBC said it received no complaints.

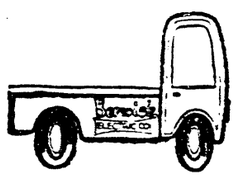

The operations, one for a normal head-first delivery and the other for a breech-positioned baby, were filmed in January at a London hospital.

They showed the mother's abdomen opened and the baby being extracted by the surgeon, a woman. She spoke through a portable chest microphone as she worked, explaining the operation.

The program, "Your Life in Their Hands," is a weekly show on medical problems that normally has more than a million viewers.

Heavier NATO Defense Share Urged in Europe

PARIS (UPI)— British Foreign Secretary Lord Home called today for a greater share for Europe in the Atlantic alliance's nuclear defense setup.

He coupled this with a warning that the political and economic rifts in Europe stemming from the breakdown of the Common Market talks with Britain should not be allowed to weaken military defenses against Communist aggression.

British sources said Home, in a major address to the permanent council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, renewed Britain's offer, made originally by Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to President Kennedy at Nassau in December, to assign the British V-bomber force to NATO.

In return he was reported to have proposed that the NATO nuclear force now under study should be under the command of a European, preferably a Briton.

BOULDER SHOPPING CENTER OPENS—Attending opening day ceremonies of the new multi-million dollar Crossroads Shopping Center in Boulder last week were two Colorado Springs businessmen who helped their stores get off on the right foot in the new center. Pictured with Miss Penny James, who was named Miss Colorado in the Miss Universe contest, are Ben Langella, district manager of Fashion Bar, and Max Davis, manager of Zale's.

Canteen of Prince Fetches High Price

LONDON (AP)—Bonnie Prince Charlie forgot his canteen in his tent when he fled a battlefield 217 years ago. Wednesday the same canteen sold for 7,200 pounds, $20,160, at a London auction.

The defeat of the young pretender by the Duke of Cumberland at Culloden, Scotland, in 1746 marked the end of the Jacobite rebellion and doomed the house of Stuart.

The canteen was auctioned for Viscount Bury, a descendant of the aide-de-camp to the Duke of Cumberland at Culloden.

The canteen, a sort of tin box, has two silver gilt beakers, two tablespoons, two forks, two knives, a condiment box and a nutmeg grater and corkscrew.

It was bought by two London silver dealers.

Prediction of Booming Economy Is Revised

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—When, If ever, are the '60s going to soar?

Maybe they'll take off about 1965, if we have good luck and lower taxes. Once aloft, the economy could be swept into the 1970s on the updraft of an unprecedented wave of family formation.

So says Walter W. Heller, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, who recently observed that up to now this decade could be called the "slightly soggy '60s."

Ever since the baby binge that followed World War II, experts have been predicting a business boom in the 1960s. The baby crop would mature, marry, and set off widening waves of demand by building houses, choosing furniture, buying cars and television sets, and starting its own crop of babies.

Now the seers are less certain. Too many newcomers to the labor market are finding the "no vacancy" sign up. The real tidal wave of young jobhunters hasn't yet arrived.

If the oncoming millions don't find employment, the soaring '60s could turn out to be the slumping '60s, with ever-quickening automation diminishing the job opportunities for a swiftly growing labor force.

Dr. Heller is optimistic. The big push of family formation, he told an interviewer, apparently will develop three or four years from now, and it should be an economic blessing rather than a burden.

Originally most demographers—those who study population trends and their effects—judged that the economic impact of family formation would be felt by 1964 or 1965. Today there is less agreement on the timing, but the experts still believe that the stork brings prosperity.

Some predict the lift will be delayed until the threshhold of the '70s.

Chairman Heller favors a guess of 1966 or 1967—by which time, he believes, the economy should already be on the rise.

But he disagrees emphatically with the idea that the country can relax, secure in the knowledge that a demographic time—bomb is ticking away, biding its hour to blast away the effects of years of underemployment.

An era of unprecedented economic expansion is possible, according to Heller, but it will not be bestowed on Americans solely by "the county of providence and procreation."

"By 1970 one-third of the labor force will consist of young people who have entered it since 1960," Heller said.

That tremendous inpouring of labor could help or hurt, depending on the policy we follow.

"We face the necessity of generating enough demand to put put these young millions to work."

The job generating device on which the White House has pinned its hopes is a net $10-billion worth of tax reduction, which Heller estimates will increase consumer and business demand by three or four times that much.

If favorable credit and other policies accompany the tax stimulus, and if no unforeseen calamities happen along, the country could attain substantially full employment by 1965, he has suggested. Quite close behind will come the fresh wave of sustained consumer demand generated by the spending and borrowing of the young-marrieds.

What if things go wrong? Suppose that a major industry should take a nosedive—that the commercial building boom, to use an unlikely but conceivable example, should collapse suddenly?

The White House economist conceded that a serious setback in any important segment of the economy would be a serious matter. It would tend to cancel out the stimulative effect of tax cuts—and make it harder to get the '60s airborne.

New Drugs Are Hazardous, Officer Charges

WASHINGTON (AP)—A medical officer of the Food and Drug Administration said today the agency has permitted the sale of new drugs "imminently hazardous to the public health" by overruling expert medical opinion.

The testimony came from Dr. John O. Nestor, an expert in the FDA New Drug Division, at a Senate subcommittee hearing into safety procedures for drug marketing.

Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, himself a medical doctor, told Nestor that if even part of his testimony is correct, "it is a shocking indictment of the Food and Drug Administration."

"Any doubt about a drug must be resolved in favor of the user, not the producer," Gruening declared.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., the subcommittee chairman, called Nestor's story "shocking and most distressing" and said FDA officials will be called on for explanations.

Nestor, a pediatrician whose job is to evaluate new drug applications, said medical opinions which challenged past FDA policies or commitments to the pharmaceutical industry, encountered "indifference, disapproval, or even hostility, frequently so when they dealt with drugs for pediatric use."

Pediatrics is the branch of medicine which is concerned especially with the care of children and treatment of their diseases.

Bill to Control Salesmen Is Killed in Senate

DENVER (AP) — Rural lawmakers led a fight here in which the Colorado Senate killed a bill designed to protect the public from what the sponsor described as fast-talking, hard-selling, door-to-door salesmen.

The vote on the measure by Sen. Roy McVicker, D-Wheat Ridge was 16 to 14.

The legislation would have established a 48 hour grace period on certain sales made in the buyer's home, with insurance, stock transactions and some professional services exempted.

It would have permitted a buyer to cancel a contract for a product, commodity or personal service within 48 hours after its signing by sending a cancellation notice both to the seller and the secretary of state.

McVicker said Colorado's present negotiable instrument law has been perverted by itinerant salesmen who saturate urban areas with quick sales, sell the contracts to banks and finance companies and leave the state, giving dissatisfied buyers no legal recourse.

Republican Sen. Frank L. "Ted" Gill of Hillrose protested that the bill would interfere with many contracts.

"I'm not even sure that this might affect marriage contracts," he said. "Are you going to arrange a 48-hour honeymoon and then let one of the partners back out?"

Sen. Earl Wolvington, R-Sterling, claimed the measure would destroy the law of contracts for a 48-hour period, and other opponents claimed the bill assumes that all contracts are fraudulent or suspect.

In another action, The Senate gave preliminary approval to a bill restoring a $1.50 registration fee for all motor vehicles, with the revenue — an estimated $1.9 million a year — earmarked for cities and counties of the state.

The fee was allowed to lapse through a legislative oversight last year and cities and counties are faced with an emergency this year in their street and road budgets.

Survey of Four Corners Is Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill introduced Tuesday would authorize a survey of roads and tourist accommodations needed in the "golden circle" of the Four Corners area bordering Utah, Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico.

Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, offered the bill, saying facilities are needed to expand tourist business in "the most spectacular area of erosional grandeur in America."

The bill would authorize a survey by the interior department in cooperation with officials of the four states, and the agriculture and commerce departments.

"A major objective," Moss said, "would be to study efforts now under way to establish easier public access to the national parks and monuments and associated scenic, recreation and Indian areas of the four states."

D&B School Has Interest In Legislation

More than 150 blind persons in Colorado Springs—75 of them students at the Colorado School for the Deaf and Blind—will be affected if House Bill 320 is not passed by the Colorado Legislature.

The bill concerns an allocation of $24,000 annually for phonograph records which are distributed to the school's students and other blind persons in the state.

Recordings of classic and contemporary books and current magazines, the "talking books" are distributed by the Denver Public Library. However, library officials have said they can no longer afford the program and have requested the state to take over.

Armin Turechek, superintendent of the D and B School, was in Denver Wednesday promoting the passage of the bill.

He said he talked to a librarian from the Denver agency who told him that if the bill is not passed, the city's library will have to restrict their services to Denver's blind persons.

Turechek said this morning he considered it a "very worthwhile bill", adding that with public support he felt it would be passed this session.

Altho the school uses the records for reference material, he said their most important function is to provide students with an activity during summer months.

"We regard it as a wonderful service," the superintendent said.

Turechek's feelings were echoed by Miss Margaret Bourne, 10 Boulder Crescent, who is partially blind. She said the records are a "God-send" for the sightless.

"They not only bring to us the wonderful world of literature," Miss Bourne said, "but keep us up on current events thru the magazines."

This year's enrollment of 75 blind students at the local state school is 25 above last year's.

Planner Resigns At Florence

Barto Babitz, who has served on the Florence City Planning Commission for the past three years, resigned his position in a letter addressed to the Florence City Council Monday night.

Babitz, who has recently been in ill health, asked to be retained on the regional planning commission as a representative from Florence. His term on the city commission expires Dec. 13, 1966.

The City Council accepted the resignation with regret and appointed Bob Cruzen, publisher of the Florence Citizen, to serve out the unexpired term of Babitz.

This will be the second term on the commission for Cruzen, who was made member of the commission when it was originally formed in 1958.

Cultural Group To Meet Today

A regular monthly meeting of the German-American Cultural Society will be held today at Rastall Center, Colorado College, at 7:30 p.m. A program of lieder and modern music by Mrs. Josephine Estill, soprano, will be presented, featuring Schubert's, "Auf dem Strom." Carlton Gauer of CC's fine arts faculty will accompany Mrs. Estill at the piano and Miss Christine Shephard will play the French horn.

Mrs. Estill was heard as "Sister Angelica" in a recent production of the Colorado Springs Opera Association.

She has sung with the Air Force Academy Cadet Chorale and was featured last summer at the Music Festival of Colorado College. Members of the society and their guests are invited to attend the meeting.

Ambitious Project Plans Set for City of Florence

An ambitious schedule of projects for 1963, submitted to the Florence City Council Monday night by Mayor Jack McFall, was adopted by the council, and a contract with the firm of Stearns-Rogers was approved by the city fathers for engineering work on the new city water plant.

An item of business, which is sure to stir up a major controversy, was dropped at the council meeting by Mayor McFall, who announced that he is sending a letter to the city planning commision and the Florence Chamber of Commerce recommending that the city convert its angle parking on Main Street to parallel parking to conform with the recently-passed city ordinance on a model traffic code.

McFall noted that the state highway commission will not wish to maintain the section of highway 115 that is Main street unless parallel parking is adopted.

In more routine business, the council adopted a resolution to pay the city fire department $50 a month instead of the former pay plan based on the number of fires and firemen attending.

The council adopted another resolution authorizing the city to buy more water and to prohibit this, or future councils from selling, trading, or transferring water stock.

A bill for ordinance No. 502, accepting land for the new water plant site, was adopted on first reading and the present water picture was reviewed by City Manager Frank Carochi, who noted that the city is holding its own at the storage reservoirs and gaining slightly with the beginnings of the early spring run-offs.

In his schedule of projects for the balance of 1963, Mayor McFall noted that "because of a tight budget, we must insist that expenditures and operating costs be contained within the amounts provided for each department."

The mayor's program included the completion of the water filteration plant not later than Sept. 1; the application for federal aid for reservoir repair and water line extensions; an increase in water rates from 50 cents to $1 to pay for water plant operation costs; provisions for additional allowances to each water user sufficient to irrigate the average promises without excess charges now averaging $6 per month.

He also called for an extensive pavement repair and seal-coat operation throughout the city; a soil conservation service study of flash flood conditions on Dry Creek; and the purchase by the city of 100 feet of steel curb and gutter forms to be loaned, without cost, to property owners.

The mayor noted that "we should continue the tree spraying program again this year with spraying equipment constructed by the city. Last year this program cost the city $1,500. All that is necessary is a suitable pump to be attached to the old mosquito spray. A charge of $1 per three on private property would be charged. The city would spray trees in the parks, parkways, and alleys. This program should be completed in the early spring as recommended by the county agents," he declared. "We should also continue the twice-a-week spraying for mosquitos when weather permits."

The mayor further recommended that the council ear-mark $2,000 for the construction of a shed-type building at the city shops for the storage of city equipment and materials.

A limited paving project was advocated for several blocks of city streets providing property owners are willing to pick up the tab, but the city will assist the property owners with grading, the mayor's report concluded.

Campaign Set For Clean-Up At Florence

Carl Meyers, city building inspector, has been named to head up the city-wide clean-up, paint-up, fix-up campaign for the city of Florence, it was announced this week by Frank Carochi, city manager.

Each year the city of Florence and the Florence Chamber of Commerce join forces to spearhead a drive for a cleaner and healthier Florence. The drive this year, which will be part of the statewide effort, will be staged the first week of May in Florence.

Bob Deppe, head of the Lions Club civic improvements committee, will be working with Meyers and the clean-up chairman to be appointed by the chamber of commerce.

Gov. John Love, who is pushing the campaign from the state level with the aid of Colorado's newspapers, has contacted Mayor Jack McFall and the Fremont County Board of County Commissioners seeking their support in this all-out effort.

Davidson found his wife's body in a bedroom of their apartment about 10 p.m. Preliminary investigation revealed she died sometime between 7 and 8 p.m. Thursday.

Matron Replies to Speaker On Women's Division of Pen

A correctional matron at the Colorado State Penitentiary has replied thru Warden Harry C. Tinsley to an article carried in the Feb. 28 edition of the Gazette Telegraph.

The article covered a speech made by Mrs. Willard Bell on Feb. 27 to members of the local Republican Women's Roundtable. The speaker was identified as one who had done volunteer work in rehabilitating inmates of the Canon City institution.

Warden Tinsley stated that the correctional matron, Mrs. Mae Gillespie, has been employed at the women's division since 1956 and felt that some of "the misstatements in the article should be corrected, so she has prepared the enclosed article in the hopes that you (the GT) will print it so that the record can be set straight on certain procedures here at the women's division."

Following is the text of Mrs. Gillespie's article:

"Over the past few months several articles have appeared in newspapers over the state professing to relate conditions in the Women's Prison in Canon City. Without exception, they have been written by people who have had a brief tour thru the institution or otherwise had very little opportunity to evaluate the problems which certainly do exist there. Whatever the purpose of these articles, they missed the mark because they pointed out the fact that there are problems, then did not differentiate between the various needs of the institution and ended up in many instances by heaping the entire blame on the personnel who work there.

"In an article appearing in the Gazette Telegraph on Feb. 28, 1963, several statements were made, which had they been true would have certainly reflected upon the Custodial Management of the Womens' Division. One statement concerned the bathing facilities and their use. It was said that there is one bathtub and one shower for 40 women and that the baths are locked and bathing is rationed to once a week. While we do not consider our facilities adequate, there are three showers and a tub. These are never locked and each woman is encouraged to take at least one shower per day. Each inmate is supplied with sufficient dresses and underclothing to enable her to wear a fresh change of clothing each day, or more if necessary. In addition, there is a small beauty shop containing a shampoo bowl, a drier and other basic necessities. Shampoo, rinse and home permanents are furnished as needed to each woman. This is a great morale booster.

"When a woman leaves the institution, she has a fresh permanent if she desires it and wears clothing which she has selected herself from the downtown stores when she is taken shopping by a matron.

"Each holiday of the year is remembered with a party, favors, a program or special foods. In most instances, the women decorate the dining room, plan the programs and enthusiastically help in any way possible.

"By sharing the doctor, the psychiatrist and the psychologist with the Men's Division, there is opportunity for a woman with a problem in these areas to consul privately with either doctor she may feel can help her most.

"The regular hours and nourishing food are evident in the fact that almost every inmate gains in weight and general health. When dental or optical needs are indicated, they are promptly taken care of by the institutional doctors.

"These are all items on the positive side of the ledger.

"On the other had, there is great need for providing facilities for vocational training and for much more room in which to carry out various progroms of rehabilitation. These and other needs we readily admit and are hoping they will be provided in a new Women's Institution. As the Legislators see and provide these needs, we shall all be most happy to cooperate in making good use of them."

Warden Tinsley said that Mrs. Gillespie is "a very dedicated person in the field of Women's Corrections work and has been entirely honest in the article that she has written."

He also reported that on March 18, the institution employed Mrs. Gertrude Davis, former superintendent of the Women's Penitentiary in Indianapolis, Ind., to take charge of this division.

"Mrs. Davis comes to use with a great deal of experience in counseling women prisoners and in administration of women's institutions," the warden said, "We feel that this is a step in the right direction that will lead to continued improvement in our Women's Division."

Mrs. Bell, 824 Shoshone Pl., was the first president of the Republican Women's Roundtable of Colorado Springs.

Easter Seal Chairman Visits Rehab Center

Orris Dott, the Easter Seal chairman of Colorado Springs, visited the Rocky Mountain Rehabilitation Center recently, one of the beneficiaries of the annual fund-raising campaign. This is his report:

"We've added something new to the growing lists of 'instants.' No coffee or soup this. . .but a potpourri of many ingredients that when we saw put together sent our spirits high and gave a wonderful effervescence to our being.

"We've named it 'instant contentment.'

"And, we found it at the Rocky Mountain Rehabilitation Center.

"Here we watched many crippled kids—some of them real tiny tykes — laughing at their accomplishments as they dropped their crutches and haltingly walked three or four steps into the arms of a physical therapist. At a table in the corner playing with multicolored toys under the watchful eye of an occupational therapist sits another child. The therapist serves to help boys and girls improve muscular coordination while they gain the important values found in playing with other children. And there was physical therapy too. . .youngsters getting the benefits of a whirlpool bath, a gentle massage, therapist-aided exercise.

"Here and there was a mother observing, listening, getting instructions that will help her child between visits to the center.

"It was a busy place, this Easter Seal center. It was professional too, but there was an atmosphere of warmth and understanding. Yes, even love was there. . . You could read it in every eye. . . a happy blending of skills and sincere affection given generously by dedicated staff workers and reciprocated by the youngsters in their care.

"It made us feel good to see an example of the work that has been going on for more than 42 years under the aegis of the Easter Seal Society. The visit killed off any hesitancy we might have had to dig a ltitle deeper into our jeans to add a few extra dollars . . to help this important work along. It was money well spent for it brought us 'instant contentment.' We think your contribution to Easter Seals can do the same for you."

NO MA'AM, I GOT MINE ON — Doug Morgan, a first grader at Queen Palmer, surveys the wreckage of an elementary school winter. It's hard to believe that one shoe would be missed, but such is the case. Mittens outnumber anything else on the rack, hands down. Regarded as impedimenta rather than clothing by the schoolchild, they are more likely to be jetsam than flotsam. Holding the shoe is Mrs. Inez Enlow, school secretary.

SO WHO NEEDS TO SEE?—That child groping from class to class in the Queen Palmer Elementary School would do well to check in the principal's office. Shown here are four pairs of prescription glasses, a couple of cheap watches, five rubber balls, countless etcetera and even a purse abandoned by one of the more mature girls—say, a sixth grader. The money on the left goes to the finder if not claimed within the week.

Many Lost Items Found but Never Claimed by Pupils

Like an army in full retreat, school children shed their clothes and equipment as if they were a burden instead of a benefit.

There are no gas masks or steel pots on the lost and found rack at Queen Palmer Elementary School (see cuts), but you can find represented almost everything else on a mother's table of operations and equipment.

Queen Palmer, which suffers no more and no less than other elementary schools, is able to donate about $100 worth of unclaimed clothing to the needy every June.

Principal L. F. Ellinwood and his staff do their best to find the rightful owners. The rack sits permanently in the main entrance hall with a large "Lost and Found" sign on it.

At PTA meetings the clothes are spread out on tables, bargain basement style, in hopes that rummaging mothers will recognize an article.

The schoolchildren themselves are occasionally trooped by the rack, but usually to no avail. Once an article is lost, they feel, it's lost, even if it's found.

D&B School Has Interest In Legislation

More than 150 blind persons in Colorado Springs—75 of them students at the Colorado School for the Deaf and Blind—will be affected if House Bill 320 is not passed by the Colorado Legislature.

The bill concerns an allocation of $24,000 annually for phonograph records which are distributed to the school's students and other blind persons in the state.

Recordings of classic and contemporary books and current magazines, the "talking books" are distributed by the Denver Public Library However, library officials have said they can no longer afford the program and have requested the state to take over

Armin Turechek superintendent of the D and B School, was in Denver Wednesday promoting the passage of the bill

He said he talked to a librarian from the Denver agency who told him that if the bill is not passed, the city's library will have to restrict their services to Denver's blind persons

Turechek said this morning he considered it a "very worthwhile bill", adding that with public support he felt it would be passed this session.

Altho the school uses the records for reference material, he said their most important function is to provide students with an activity during summer months

"We regard it as a work-ject service," the superintendent said

Turechek's feelings were echoed by Miss Margaret Bourne, 30 Boulder Crescent, who is partially blind She said the records are a "God-send" for the sightless

"They not only bring to us the wonderful world of literature," Miss Bourne said, "but keep us up on current events thru the magazines."

This year's enrollment of 75 blind students at the local state school is 25 above last years

Matron Replies to Speaker On Women's Division of Pen

A correctional matron at the Colorado State Penitentiary has replied thru Warden Harry C. Tinsley to an article carried in the Feb 28 edition of the Gazette Telegraph

The article covered a speech made by Mrs Willard Bell on Feb 27 to members of the local Republican Women's Roundtable. The speaker was identified as one who had done volunteer work in rehabilitating inmates of the Canon City institution.

Warden Tinsley stated that the correctional matron, Mrs. Mae Gillespie, has been employed at the women's division since 1956 and felt that some of "the misstatements in the article should be corrected, so she has prepared the enclosed article in the hopes that you (the GT) will print it so that the record can be set straight on certain procedures here at the women's division."

Following is the text of Mrs Gillespie's article

Over the past few months several articles have appeared in newspapers over the state professing to relate conditions in the Women's Prison in Canon City. Without exception, they have been written by people who have had a brief tour thru the institution or otherwise had very little opportunity to evaluate the problems which certainly do exist here. In more routine business, the council adopted a resolution to pay the city fire department $50 a month instead of the former pay plan based on the number of fires and firemen attending

The matter of fluoridating the city water supply was discussed briefly by the council, but no action was taken

A total budget of $1,000,000 was proposed for the 1963 fiscal year, with expenditures and operating costs be contained within the amounts provided for each department

The mayor's program included the completion of the water filtration plant not later than Sept. the application for federal aid for reservoir repair and water line extensions, an increase in water rates from 50 cents to $1 to pay for water plant operation costs, provisions for additional allowances to each water user sufficient to irrigate the average premises without excess charges now averaging $6 per month.

He also called for an extensive pavement repair and seal-coat operation throughout the city; a soil conservation service study of flash flood conditions on Dry Creek; and the purchase by the city of 100 feet of steel curb and gutter forms to be loaned, without cost, to property owners

The mayor noted that the [illegible] should continue the tree spraying program as in this year with [illegible] the mayor's report concluded

Enthusiastic Response Given Cancer Test Program

When Mrs. E. V. Schuyler, welfare chairman for the Ent Officers' Wives Club, made arrangements at the Ent Dispensary for club members to have the pap smear tests for the detection of uterine cancer, she had no idea that the original schedule of ninety appointments would so quickly be filled, leaving some 65 members on a waiting list. That's what happened, and with the encouragement of Mrs. Murray Wiener, president, Mrs. Schuyler began the first full-scale promotion of an every-member test program in the Pikes Peak Region.

Now thru regular announcements at meetings, and thru publicity in the club's monthly magazine, members are reminded that their birth month is an excellent time to schedule the appointment with the doctor which means early detection of uterine cancer. Birthdays serve as regular reminders that the tests should be taken once a year. Requests for such tests have increased at Ent and under the guidance of Mrs. Wiener and Mrs. Schuyler, the program is expanding rapidly.

Mrs. Wiener says:

"Once our members realized that the two most common types of cancer in women are cancer of the breast and uterus and that these two types are the most easily detected and have the highest percentage of cures, it was only common sense for them to take the simple steps necessary to protect themselves, and indirectly their families, from the ravages of cancer. After all, none of us would knowingly step in front of a speeding truck. Why then, would we allow ourselves to be run down by cancer?"

Mrs. Schuyler suggests that women think of their telephone line as their lifeline and use it to call their doctors for appointments.

"Make your doctor's office your cancer detection center," she urges.

Any women's clubs interested in starting their own program among their members for a similar test program are invited to call the El Paso County Unit of the American Cancer Society. Every woman should take advantage of the free open showing of two life-saving films: Breast Self-Examination," and "Time and Two Women" (on uterine cancer) at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, March 23 at the Ute Theatre.

Lotta Eggs

NEW YORK (UPI)—It takes an estimated 280 thousand hens to lay the 58-million eggs folded into one year's supply of confections made in the United States. The candy and chocolate industry also uses 1 billion pounds of fluid milk per year, equal to the supply from 150 thousand cows, reports the Candy, Chocolate and Confectionery Institute.

WIVES ARE BRIEFED — Three wives of U.S. Army Air Defense Command (ARADCOM) officers get together after briefings in a revived "Operation Family Orientation" program. HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

I remove grease spots from my shoes by rubbing the spots with a piece of raw potato and leaving the shoes until dry. Then I apply shoe polish and shine in the normal way.

This is an old Irish method of overcoming this difficulty. —H. Mac Ilrose

Ladies, we have never tried an Irish potato. However, this man does come from Ireland.

One woman did write recently that she worked in a shoe factory and often grease from the machines got on the shoes while manufacturing them.

She said that the factory used rubber cement and applied it with a brush. They allowed it to dry thoroughly and the rubber cement could be peeled or rubbed off with your hand.

It's fabulous! We found it does work, but old stubborn stains need more than one coat, and the quicker you use this method after you get a spot of grease on your shoes, the better it works!

We literally spotted a pair of our shoes with bacon grease (don't you dare try this—you may ruin a good pair of shoes) and then applied this rubber cement type glue. We left it on overnight. Do not think this much time is necessary as all we have to do is wait until the glue hardens and the solvent in the glue evaporates. It may take more than one application.

Just thought we should pass this idea on in case of emergency. Since the factory uses it, why shouldn't we try it? —Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Here is the way I remove my rust stains: I take an equal portion of salt and cream of tartar and rub it on the wet rust-stained washable garment. I put this in the sun. It removes all of my rust spots.

The results which I received by using this mixture were so amazing that I wanted to pass this good hint along to other housewives. —Frances Strura

Dear Heloise:

About those stainless steel sink stains . . . waitresses have long ago learned that the steel brightens in a jiffy when washed with carbonated water from the soda fountain. Others can use bottle varieties just as easily. —Ex-waitress.

Ladies: This idea has come in many times and what can you lose? A little bit of soda water? —Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I wrap steel wool soap pads in foil between uses and it prevents rusting. —Agnes Feldes

Dear Heloise:

Did you know that "Mother Nature" will whiten clothes overnight? Leave the clothes on the line outside, and overnight the damp dew will whiten them.

When you have beans to "look over" pour hot water on them and let them stand about 20 minutes. The bad beans will appear on top like magic . . . even the darker ones! —Marty

Dear Heloise:

The condensation of moisture on windows may be eliminated if people will open the top of the window a bit. (This means pull the top pane of the window down until it has at least a little crack in it so the air can get in.) Open the bottom window a little bit also. This way air can circulate.

This would eliminate many problems in households such as rotting of the wood frames themselves. —Emmie Snap

Family Orientation Program Presented to Wives' Group

What their husbands do at work has been at least partially clarified for some 40 wives of U.S. Army Air Defense Command officers.

The women formed the first group in a revived "Operation Family Orientation" program to put some meaning into the old daily question: "How were things at the office today?"

Now the 40 women know what is of concern to their ARADCOM HUBANDS. Nike guided missiles, for instance, which ARADCOM deploys at sites throughout the country. And ARADCOM's role as Army component of the North American Air Defense Command (NORAD).

The feeling at ARADCOM Headquarters is that the program will "enhance morale and esprit de corps" among headquarters personnel.

During the first session of the program — which will be conducted periodically — the 40 officers' wives were welcomed to the headquarters by Maj. Gen. Dwight B. Johnson, deputy commanding general. After a morning of briefings, the women had an opportunity to ask questions of and discuss various subjects with Lt. Gen. William W. Dick Jr., comanding general.

A Dutch treat luncheon at the officers' club followed.

It is planned to expand the program later to include wives of enlisted men and perhaps Civil Service employes.

Household Hints

Nail polish stored in the refrigerator dries less rapidly.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture recommended one method of eliminating the hazards of open cabinet doors in the kitchen. Remove them and replace them with a pull shade. It's also a space saver.

One way to clean Junior's grubby nails is to dip a nailbrush into dry baking soda and scrub.

A small piece of crushed aluminum foil can substitute as a brush for cleaning the perches in the pet bird's cage.

Pie crust is extra tender if a little vinegar is substituted for part of the water needed to combine the shortening and flour. A tip from National Family Opinion Inc., a Toledo, Ohio, consumer research firm, suggested using 2 tablespoons of vinegar for 2 of the tablespoons of water ordinarily used in a two-crust pie.

For a different flavor for fried foods which need to be floured, substitute pancake flour for regular.

Clean the crumb tray of a toaster frequently.

Remove shoe stains from light-colored stockings by putting a tablespoon of borax in the wash water.

HD Council Meets to Hear Reports

The March meeting of the El Paso County Home Demonstration Council was held last week in the City Auditorium. Mrs. W. B. Skilling, president, conducted a brief business session, during which the reports were made on the agriculture planning meeting, held in Denver last month.

Those reporting were: Mrs. Delbert Wells, health; Mrs. Velma Rieb, 4-H; Mrs. Shirley Ross, water resources; Mrs. James Sinton, safety; Mrs. Walden Thompson, education; and Mrs. Cora Powers, family living.

A film on flower arranging and figure flattery thru optical illusion was also included in the schedule. Highlighting the entertainment for the afternoon was music by the Waltones, a choral group from Wasson High School, directed by Charles Meeker. Mrs. Nellie Grimes won the special prize and hostess clubs were Sorosis and Merry Matrons.

Mary Grindstaff, home furnishings specialist from Colorado State University, conducted a worshop Tuesday in the auditorium of the County Office Building, on "Spring Color Festival."

Pointing out the proper use of color in the home and ideas for accessorizing and decorating the home. Color slides and visual aids were used in a most interesting manner, leaders will now take the material and lesson back to their individual clubs thruout the county.

Anyone interested in the workshops or programs of the Home Demonstration Council are invited to attend. Information may be obtained thru Miss Ruth Appelthun in the County Extension Office.

Old Bowl

NEW YORK (UPI)—What's so new about the modern wooden salad bowls? Not much really, report officials of the New York Antiques Fair at the Coliseum. The early ones were made in the 18th century of knot wood of ash, maple, beech or birch. The early Americans called such wood "dish timber."

Ft. Carson Camp Fire Girls have a full calendar of special activities slated this week in connection with the national Camp Fire Girls birthday celebration.

Group attendance at church services kicked off the birthday week activities. Also scheduled this week are a dad-daughter banquet, school exhibits, visits to the Post Museum and Hospital and a tour of the Fine Arts Center.

Blue Bird girls, the youngest age group in the Camp Fire Girls program, this week helped stuff envelopes for the Easter Seal Campaign, contributed their own hand crafted projects to hospital patients and rehabilitated toys for Christmas Unlimited.

The Camp Fire Girls program, founded in 1910, enrolls girls between 7 and 17 as Blue Birds, Camp Fire, Junior Hi Camp Fire and Horizon Club according to age groups.

The organization, Pikes Peak Area Council chartered in 1961, serves El Paso and Teller Counties. It is an agency of the United Fund here.

Wives of enlisted men serve as leaders, guardians, assistant leaders and sponsors of Fort Carson groups. Blue Bird Group leaders are Mrs. Nathan B. Woolsey, Mrs. William T. Tompkins, Mrs. Harold D. Anderson, Mrs. Albin Jerman and Mrs. Basil G. Payne.

Mrs. Stanley N. Allen and Mrs. John F. Winn are assistant leaders.

Camp Fire and Blue Bird group sponsors are Mrs. Theodore Desmarais, Mrs. John D. Martin, Mrs. William L. Carter and Mrs. Gary L. Henderson. Mrs. Jim Murphy is a committee member of the Council Board.

Opening lead: Jack of ◇

A skillful diagnosis by West at the key moment in today's hand enabled him to select from his holding the only card which could puncture the declarer's armor.

The auction proceeded to four hearts in easy stages. North's immediate heart raise with only three trumps headed by the ten is a bit off the book requirements, but any other call may lead to complications later. When South was able to make a further try by bidding three hearts, North was quite willing to accept partner's invitation since his hand was easily worth ten points in support.

West opened the jack of diamonds and the ace was played from dummy. Declarer cashed king and another diamond, ruffing with the five of hearts in his hand, for he and the dummy had every missing spot below the top two honors. Next he led the jack of clubs.

West went into a prolonged study from which he ultimately emerged by playing the ace of clubs. He must choose his return with great care for, if he comes back with a spade, hoping to find his partner with the ace, it will eliminate declarer's loser in that suit. Similarly, if West gets out with a club, South has three club discards available and can, if he chooses, throw enough spades from dummy to be able to ruff out his queen of spades.

The play of ace and another heart by West is equally ineffective, for declarer is able to draw the last trump with North's ten of hearts and then run the two established diamonds discarding his spade and club losers.

There is only one winning play, and West found it—namely, the four of hearts. East went up with the king and returned a spade. Since South was not yet in full control of the proceedings, he was obliged to finesse the queen, and West's king of spades produced what turned out to be the setting trick.

Observe that West's shift to the four of hearts sacrifices nothing for, if it develops that East does not have the high honor in that suit, there will still be time to find him with the ace of spades when West gets in with the ace of trumps.

Dear Abby--

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

An Equal Task!

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of three sons, and I've heard many other mothers say, "You are lucky you have boys. You don't have to worry the way mothers of daughters do!" Abby, this burns me up. They think if a girl gets in trouble it's her funeral, and boys don't create any problems no matter what they do. What can I say to let them know they are dead wrong? —MOTHER OF BOYS

DEAR MOTHER: People who make such thoughtless remarks should be told that when a girl "gets in trouble" the parents of the boy who is responsible are just as heartsick as the girl's parents. And, furthermore, since the males are supposedly the natural aggressors, the job of rearing decent and disciplined boys is certainly equal to that of raising well-behaved girls.

DEAR ABBY: I wrote to you asking you to put me in touch with a man signed "Florida," who was looking for a wife. He sounded just right for me and I know we could have made a wonderful match. I was terribly disappointed when you wrote back saying that as a matter of policy you did not put people in touch with each other through your column. Why do you have such a policy when you could get so many nice people together? —DISAPPOINTED IN YOU

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: You would be more disappointed were I to abandon my policy and get one "nice" person (you) together with one who was not so nice. I can't investigate everyone who writes to me. So rather than pair a lamb with a wolf, I stick to my policy.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it is right for parents to permit two children under ten years of age to watch the dog give birth to a litter of puppies? I just got a phone call that my daughter-in-law thought it was all right, and my son approved it. I would like to know what you think of letting children watch this procedure. —SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED: I know of no better way for young people to learn about the beginning of life, which is a subject baffling to youngsters—and not easy for oldsters to explain.

DEAR ABBY: Cheers for "Bothered", and her comment on, "My, you look nice 'Today'." The next most uncomplimentary compliment when I'm all dressed up is, "Is that 'new'?" —TWICE BOTHERED

Sun's No Fun Beamed on Milk, Says Solar Sleuth

RALEIGH, N. C. (UPI) — The milk you brought into the kitchen this morning probably was not the same milk left by the delivery man an hour or so earlier, reports the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development.

If as much as half an hour elapsed, "nature's perfect food" was no longer perfect, the department said.

A very narrow band of light penetrated the container and began a chemical action that caused a change in taste and a loss of vitamins.

But sunlight, direct or indirect, is not the only cause of chemical deterioration in milk, the experts said. The profuse fluorescent lighting used in most grocers' dairy cases has a similar effect — it just takes a little longer.

Research is underway to determine what happened when the radiant energy hits the protein molecule of the milk. Does the waxed cardboard or plastic carton provide a filter of any appreciable value? Just what vitamins are lost and to what extent?

Dr. L. W. Aurand, of the North Carolina State College Department of Food Sciences, says milk exposed to direct sunlight undergoes change of taste and loss of vitamin qualities within 30 minutes. Tests conducted elsewhere indicate four hours of exposure to fluorescent light will cause similar changes in the milk.

While scientists look for a container to protect milk from light's effect, the question of appearance must be kept in mind.

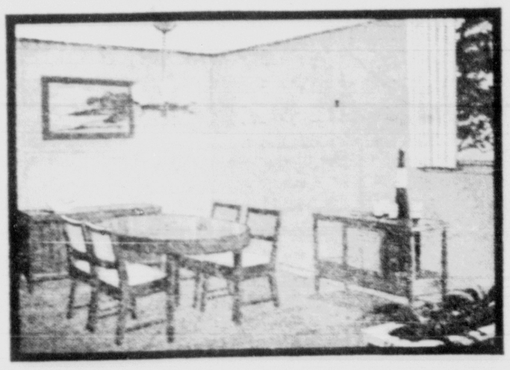

Brown or amber bottles have been used "but the consumer wants to see the white milk she's buying," Aurand said.

To keep light from robbing milk of taste and vitamins, carry it home in a brown grocery bag, don't let the home delivery sit on the steps too long, or provide the milk man a covered metal deposit box, the department said.

Market Shows Fairly Steady Tone; Trade Active

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market showed a fairly steady tone in moderately active trading early this afternoon.

Airlines were up as a group. Nonferrous metals were generally higher. Small gains and losses were intermingled in many groups. Quite a few pivotal issues were unchanged.

For the second day running, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at noon, reading 256.5, and the industrial, rail, and utility components also were unchanged.

Other popular averages, however, leaned to the upside.

First-hour volume was a solid million shares. Heavy trading in some of the recent favorites accounted for the increase in turnover.

The economic background was reasonably bright. Retail sales and auto production were on the upgrade. President Kennedy declared economic trends in February were "more encouraging" than in previous months.

A jump of 50 points for Superior Oil of California put this high-priced issue at $1,288 a share. Rumors of corporate developments, including a stock split, accompanied its rise.

Sunray DX Oil, the week's volume leader, was hit by profit taking and sank 1⅞ to 32 on two successive blocks of 10,000 shares and one of 5,000.

Airlines, said brokers, were helped by prospects of higher revenues in the warm months ahead. United Airlines gained more than a point, Eastern about a point, American Airlines and Pan American fractions.

Chrysler and Ford also added fractions. General Motors dipped slightly. U.S. Steel and Bethlehem were steady.

American Photocopy was affected by further heavy selling in the wake of its sharp decline in earnings. It was sold on successive blocks of 20,000, 11,500, and 2,500 shares, showing a loss of about a point in the afternoon.

Consolidated Foods changed hands on a 28,700-share block, losing ¼ at 35¾.

Gains of around a point were scored by American Telephone, U.S. Smelting, and Twentieth Century-Fox.

Amerada gained about 2 points. Getty Oil eased. Fractional gains were made by a number of other oils including Texaco, Standard of Indiana, and Shell.

Erie-Lackawanna was off ⅛ at 3½ on 13,600 shares.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.09 at 676.66. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index rose .20 to 66.05.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange moved irregularly higher. Trading was moderately higher. Fractional gainers included Reinsurance Investment, Brazilian Traction, Shawinigan, Arkansas- Louisiana Gas, Mohawk Airlines, Dialight, and BVD. Ford of Canada dropped more than a point. Israel-American Oil was active and fractionally lower. Zapata Petroleum and General Plywood were fractional losers.

Corporate bonds were mixed to a shade lower. U.S. Government bonds were unchanged to easy in very quiet dealings over the counter.

Man Injured As Car Hits Three Others

One man was injured early this morning when the car he was driving smashed into three parked cars on the 2000 block of W. Colorado Avenue causing an estimated $2,275 damage.

Paul G. Young, 28, 1805 W. Vermijo St., was treated for a severely cut lip at St. Francis Hospital and released. He was also charged with driving under the influence of alcohol.

Cpl. E. J. Butler said Young lost control of his car about 1:15 a.m. today and smashed into the rear of a parked car owned by Troy R. Reece, 22, 2022 W. Colorado Ave.

The Reece car was forced three feet ahead into a parked car owned by Emily Harrison, 2022 W. Colorado Ave. The Harrison car was forced out into the right lane of traffic by the impact and traveled 27 feet before it struck a parked car owned by Fred H. Waller, 2024 W. Colorado Ave., Butler said.

The Young car which had skidded sideways after the impact, continued out of control and smashed into the Harrison car after it had come to a halt, Butler said.

Damage to the Young car was placed at $1,000. Butler estimated $750 damage to the Reece car, $500 to the Harrison car, and $25 to the Waller car.

Six-Year-Old Boy Injured In Bike Mishap

A 6-year old local boy, injured Thursday when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a car at the intersection of Costilla and El Paso streets, is listed in good condition today at St. Francis Hospital.

Byron Lee Albrow, 728 N. Corona St., suffered extensive abrasions to the left side of his face and neck and a laceration of the gum when he was knocked 32 feet by the impact.

Cpl. Charles M. Maloney said the bicycle was dragged by the car which came to a stop only inches from the boy's head.

Driver of the car was Bennie Campbell Jr., 23, 728 N. Spruce St., who was cited for taking the right of way on a left turn.

Maloney said the car was moving north on El Paso Street and was attempting to make a left turn onto Costilla when the accident happened. He said the Albrow boy was riding his bicycle across Costilla at the time.

The accident happened at 5:50 p.m.

Market Shows Fairly Steady Tone; Trade Active

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market showed a fairly steady tone in moderately active trading early this afternoon.

Airlines were up as a group. Nonferrous metals were generally higher. Small gains and losses were intermingled in many groups. Quite a few pivotal issues were unchanged.

For the second day running, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at noon, reading 256.5, and the industrial, rail, and utility components also were unchanged.

Other popular averages, however, leaned to the upside.

First-hour volume was a solid million shares. Heavy trading in some of the recent favorites accounted for the increase in turnover.

The economic background was reasonably bright. Retail sales and auto production were on the upgrade. President Kennedy declared economic trends in February were "more encouraging" than in previous months.

A jump of 50 points for Superior Oil of California put this high-priced issue at $1,288 a share. Rumors of corporate developments, including a stock split, accompanied its rise.

Sunray DX Oil, the week's volume leader, was hit by profit taking and sank 1⅞ to 32 on two successive blocks of 10,000 shares and one of 5,000.

Airlines said brokers, were helped by prospects of higher revenues in the warm months ahead. United Airlines gained more than a point. Eastern about a point. American Airlines and Pan American fractions.

Chrysler and Ford also added fractions. General Motors dipped slightly. U.S. Steel and Bethlehem were steady.

American Photocopy was affected by further heavy selling in the wake of its sharp decline in earnings. It was sold on successive blocks of 20,000, 11,500, and 2,500 shares, showing a loss of about a point in the afternoon.

Consolidated Foods changed hands on a 28,700-share block, losing ¼ at 35¾.

Gains of around a point were scored by American Telephone, U.S. Smelting, and Twentieth Century-Fox.

Amerada gained about 2 points. Getty Oil eased. Fractional gains were made by a number of other oils including Texaco, Standard of Indiana, and Shell.

Erie-Lackawanna was off ⅛ at 3⅛ on 13,600 shares.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.09 at 676.66. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index rose .20 to 66.05.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange moved irregularly higher. Trading was moderately higher. Fractional gainers included Reinsurance Investment, Braniff Airways, Traction, Shawmigan, Arkansas Louisiana Gas, Mohawk Airlines, Dunlight and BVD. Food of Canada dropped more than a point. Israel American Oil was active and fractionally lower. Zapata Petroleum and General Plywood were fractional losers.

Corporate bonds were mixed to a shade lower. U.S. Government bonds were unchanged to easy in very quiet dealings over the counter.

Davey Moore Near Death After Title Fight

Three New Champions Crowned in Triple Card

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former champion Davey Moore was in a coma suffering from "a serious head injury" and his chances of living are poor, a hospital physician said early today after the former champion lost his title to Sugar Ramos in one of three title fights here Thursday night.

Dr. Philip Vogel reported the former featherweight champion was in a deep coma.

"His chances are extremely poor," Dr. Vogel said. He added that Moore had suffered general injury to the mid-brain area and said that Moore's fate probably will be known within the next 12 hours.

No brain operation was contemplated.

All three boxing titles up for grabs had new owners today after a pair of spectacular knockouts and a controversial decision in the ballyhooed tripie championships fight extravaganza.

A crowd of 26,142 watched as Ramos won the featherweight title in the middle bout by kayoing Moore—who was taken by ambulance to a hospital about an hour after the fight. He was unconscious and X-rays were taken.

In the opener at Dodger Stadium, Luis Rodriguez took the welterweight championship away from Emile Griffith on a decision —unanimous but subject to argument. In the windup, Roberto Cruz wound up and knocked out Battling Torres in the first round and won the vacant junior welterweight title.

The doctor described Moore's injury as a contusion, more serious than a brain concussion.

Boxing officials, including Moore's manager, Willie Ketchum, who had asked the bout be stopped, kept vigil at White Memorial Hospital.

Ramos, who lost the early rounds, smashed Moore down in the 10th round and had him draped over a rope and helpless as the round ended.

In his dressing room, the dethroned 126-pound king said "I'd like to fight him again," then, some time after, was taken by ambulance to the White Memorial Hospital. The 29-year-old Moore was rolled out of his dressing room on a table.

Ramos, who fled from Cuba and now makes Mexico City his home, remained undefeated, winning his 41st fight. The two boxers each weighed 125¼ pounds for their blistering battle.

Griffith, ironically, was involved in a fatal title fight almost exactly one year ago. He regained the welterweight crown last March 24 at New York's Madison Square Garden by stopping Benny (Kid) Paret, who died of brain injuries suffered in the bout 10 days later.

Rodriguez, an ex-Cuban who now calls Miami, Fla., home, boxed his way to the unanimous verdict over the harder-hitting Griffith.

"I can't understand it," Griffith moaned. "He didn't hurt me once and I hurt him several times. Rodriguez wouldn't stay in there and fight. He kept running."

The new 147-pound champion who weighed 146 to 145½ for Griffith, explained, "I planned to keep moving around and use the left jab and hit him in the stomach. The plan worked perfectly. Griffith never hurt me any time."

Referee Tommy Hart scored the bout 9-5, Judge Lee Grossman 8-5 and Judge John Thomas 8-6 all for Rodriguez. The Associated Press scored 8-4 for Griffith.

Bear's Up a Tree

The great mushroom cloud enveloping the accusations of unethical aid between Alabama football coach Bear Bryant and former Georgia coach Wally Butts should soon clear. And we wouldn't be surprised if nothing more than a mere firecracker of misinformation is finally revealed.

* * *

Scandal mongers eager to crucify others for a similar situation quickly quieted when the initial smoke cleared from the recent insinuations that the National Football League was involved in controlling scores of certain games. The trade winds of circulation from a sensational magazine story will also blow out the fallout from this latest blast at America's most popular sport.

This is not to say that it couldn't happen. Impossible is a word omitted from the vocabulary of the men and boys prone to turn an easy buck thru the sacrifice of athletic honor. As long as there is humanity on this globe there will be those who will sell their soul for a price.

But in this case, we feel it's improbable.

The best reason most authorities have of even giving a second glance to the whole affair is the integrity of the sheet that published the original story — the Saturday Evening Post. Tradition has established this magazine as usually a dependable source, and we rather imagine they explored the possibility of a $10 million damage suit before the alleged facts were ever set into type.

PAUL (BEAR) BRYANT
Hardly Needed Help

* * *

The thing that really bothers us about the sickening plot, and most football people will agree, is that it's hard to swallow that any coach of a major university such as Alabama would ever ask for or take the word of an athletic director of another school for its plays or other information as the article claimed.

Bear Bryant needed said information like he needed a quarterback with two heads. 'Bama was already more than a two-touchdown favorite on the "pink sheet" that is all too readily excessable. But the defensive alignments and a few pet plays supposedly exposed weren't going to make the difference of the expected score being doubled.

In fact, other than maybe the Georgia Dean of Women and a few overly enthusiastic alumni of the one time southern powerhouse, it's doubtful anyone was surprised that the Crimson Tide solidified its high national ranking with the 35-0 plastering of their Southeastern Conference cousins.

For Butts, there could have been smoldering feelings between himself and other members of the school's staff as the former Georgia coach made it clear he was unhappy with the conditions surrounding his "retirement" from the coaching game. And, of course, there certainly could have been the lure of filthy lucre.

But it's almost inconceivable that men of supposed high intelligence would attempt to outline the intricacies of modern football thru a backroom telephone conversation. Certainly they would realize the risk involved. And anyone capable of fixing a game thru such information would surely have the insight to discuss their plans face-to-face and most likely with several stacks of diagrams.

The real sticky wicket in the mess is the idea that Butts could have furnished The Bear and his 'Bama staff much significant information that they didn't already have recorded and memorized.

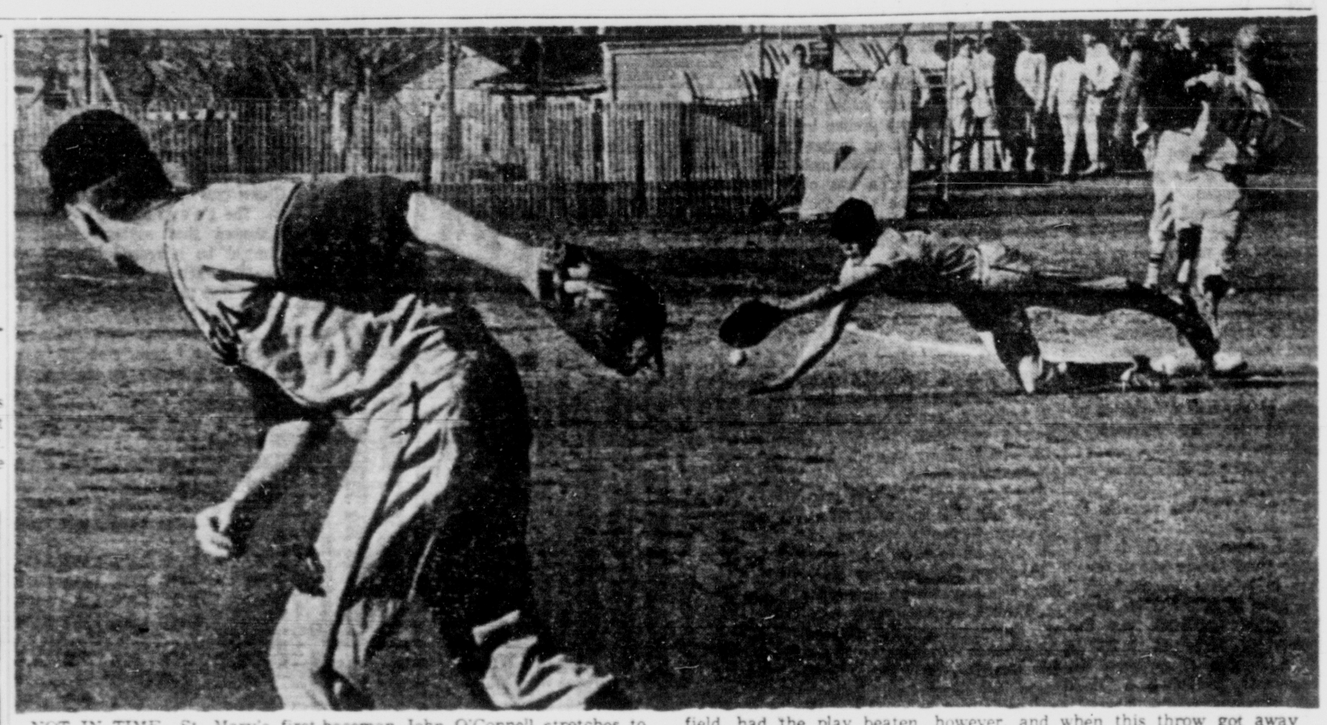

It would be a pretty safe bet the Bryant knew more about the Georgia team and plans than Butts or even its head coach, Johnny Griffith. Anyone who has ever heard a pre-game scouting report of any major college team would testify to that.

With only a few isolated instances, secret practice and all that jazz passed from the college football scene with the death of the Flying Wedge and fans in Raccoon coats.

Schools nowadays have regular staffs that do little else besides watch and analyze upcoming opponents. They have details documented to the extent of not only the plays they use but in what sequence, idiosyncrasies of the individual players, the psychological value of their Golden Girl baton twirler, and whether their star quarterback has the sniffles or not.

As an old sage once said, there's nothing new under the sun.

NOT IN TIME—St. Mary's first-baseman John O'Connell stretches to take a throw from pitcher Steve Rome (foreground) during the second inning of the game between the Pirates and Palmer at Erps Field Thursday. Palmer's Chuck Rainking (30), who had dropped a bunt in the infield, had the play beaten, however, and when this throw got away from O'Connell he went on to second base. St. Mary's posted an 11-9 victory in the intra-city contest. (Gazette Telegraph Photo)

Pirates Edge Palmer Club 11-9

By TOM CUSHMAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

Strong early season pitching by St. Mary's Steve Rome combined with the inexperience of a youthful Palmer staff to lift the Pirates to an 11-9 victory over the Terrors as the two local schools initiated their baseball seasons at Palmer's Erps Field Thursday afternoon.

Rome shook off the shell-shock of a five run first inning by the Tribe to set Palmer down with four scattered runs over the final six frames in a rare early-spring route-going performance. Palmer coach Jerry Hughes, interested in spreading as much experience as possible thru his young staff, shuffled in three twirlers, all of whom were hindered by wildness and shoddy fielding behind them.

The strongest showing for Palmer was turned in by Jerry Williams who worked the final three-and-a-third innings, allowing only two hits and a pair of unearned runs. St. Mary's actually managed only five earned tallies as nine Palmer errors opened the gates in most of the scoring frames. Ted Jones toiled the first two innings for the losers, giving up three hits and a pair of tallies. Rich Tafoya came on in the third and allowed six runs, only three of which were earned, before being lifted with two out in the fourth.

Both teams hit the ball well, altho the Terrors held an edge in safeties, 13-11. The first five men in the Palmer order each had at least two hits and leadoff man Chuck Reinking had a perfect day with a single, double, triple, and base-on-balls. Jim Gillespie cracked three singles for St. Mary's while Rome and Mickey Elliott had two each. Elliott drove home three of the Pirates' runs.

Rome's performance was startling, considering that at the outset it seemed highly possible that he might not ever retire anyone. Reinking led off the game with a triple and when the following four Terrors also hit safely, Coach Ed Murphy had relief heating up in the bullpen. Rome, however, slipped out of the frame with the aid of a pickoff play at second but Palmer had scored five runs and it looked as tho the Pirates were in for a long afternoon.

St. Mary's got to Jones for three tallies in the second, squeezed in one off Tafoya in the third and then took the lead with a five-run assault in the fourth which was aided by three Palmer errors. The Tribe miscued twice again in the fifth as the Bucs pushed across the two runs that actually iced the contest. Aside from a short letdown in the fifth when Palmer bunched three hits for two runs, Rome had the game in control the rest of the way. He fanned 10 men over the final five innings.

Davey Moore Near Death After Title Fight

Three New Champions Crowned in Triple Card

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former champion Davey Moore was in a coma suffering from a serious head injury" and his chances of living are poor, a hospital physician said early today after the former champion lost his title to Sugar Ramos in one of three title fights here Thursday night.

Dr. Philip Vogel reported the former featherweight champion was in a deep coma.

"His chances are extremely poor," Dr. Vogel said. He added that Moore had suffered cerebral injury to the mid-brain area and said that Moore's fate probably will be known within the next 12 hours.

No brain operation was contemplated.

All three boxing titles up for grabs had new owners today after a pair of spectacular knockouts and a controversial decision in the ballyhooed tripie champion-ships fight extravaganza.

A crowd of 26,142 watched as Ramos won the featherweight title in the middle bout by kayoing Moore—who was taken by ambulance to a hospital about an hour after the fight. He was unconscious and X-rays were taken.

In the opener at Dodger Stadium, Luis Rodriguez took the welterweight championship away from Emile Griffith on a decision—unanimous but subject to argument. In the windup Roberto Cruz wound up and knocked out Batting Torres in the first round and won the vacant junior welterweight title.

The doctor described Moore's injury as a contusion, more serious than a brain concussion.

Boxing officials, including Moore's manager, Willie Ketchum, who had asked the bout be stopped, kept vigil at White Memorial Hospital.

Ramos, who lost the early rounds, smashed Moore down in the 10th round and had him draped over a rope and helpless as the round ended.

In his dressing room, the detained 126-pound king said: "I'll fight him again." He then, some time after, was taken by ambulance to the White Memorial Hospital. The 25-year-old Moore was hauled out of his dressing room on a table.

Ramos, who fled from Cuba and now makes Mexico City his home, remained undefeated, winning his 41st fight. The two boxers each weighed 126½ pounds for their hostering battle.

Griffith ironically was involved in a fatal title fight almost exactly one year ago. He regained the welterweight crown last March 24 at New York's Madison Square

Bear's Up a Tree

The great mushroom cloud enveloping the accusations of unethical aid between Alabama football coach Bear Bryant and former Georgia coach Wally Butts should soon clear. And we wouldn't be surprised if nothing more than a mere firecracker of misinformation is finally revealed.

* * *

Scandal mongers eager to crucify others for a similar situation quickly quieted when the initial smoke cleared from the recent insinuations that the National Football League was involved in controlling scores of certain games. The trade winds of circulation from a sensational magazine story will also blow out the fallout from this latest blast at America's most popular sport.

This is not to say that it couldn't happen. Impossible is a word omitted from the vocabulary of the men and boys prone to turn an easy buck thru the sacrifice of athletic honor. As long as there is humanity on this globe there will be those who will sell their soul for a price.

But in this case, we feel it's improbable.

The best reason most authorities have of even giving a second glance to the whole affair is the integrity of the sheet that published the original story — the Saturday Evening Post. Tradition has established this magazine as usually a dependable source, and we rather imagine they explored the possibility of a $10 million damage suit before the alleged facts were ever set into type.

The thing that really bothers us about the sickening plot, and most football people will agree, is that it's hard to swallow that any coach of a major university such as Alabama would ever ask for or take the word of an athletic director of another school for its plays or other information as the article claimed.

Hardly Needed Help

Bear Bryant needed said information like he needed a quarterback with two heads. 'Bama was already more than a two-touchdown favorite on the "guns sheet" that is all too readily accessable. But the defensive alignments and a few pet plays supposedly exposed weren't going to make the difference of the expected score being doubled.

In fact, other than maybe the Georgia Dean of Women and a few overly enthusiastic alumni of the one time southern powerhouse, it's doubtful anyone was surprised that the Crimson Tide solidified its high national ranking with the 35-0 plastering of their Southeastern Conference cousins.

For Butts, there could have been smoldering feelings between himself and other members of the school's staff as the former Georgia coach made it clear he was unhappy with the conditions surrounding his "retirement" from the coaching game. And of course, there certainly couldn't have been the lure of filthy lucre.

But it's almost inconceivable that men of supposed high intelligence would attempt to outline the intricacies of modern football thru a backroom telephone conversation. Certainly they would realize the risk involved. And anyone capable of fixing a game thru such information would surely have the insight to discuss their plans face-to-face and most likely with several stacks of diagrams.

The real sticky wicket in the mess is the idea that Butts could have furnished The Bear and his 'Bama staff much significant information that they didn't already have recorded and memorized.

It would be a pretty safe bet the Bryant knew more about the Georgia team and plans than Butts or even its head coach, Johnny Griffith. Anyone who has ever heard a pre-game scouting report of any major college team would testify to that.

With only a few isolated instances, secret practice and all that jazz passed from the college football scene with the death of the Flying Wedge and fans in Raccoon coats.

Schools nowadays have regular staffs that do little else besides watch and analyze upcoming opponents. They have details documented to the extent of not only the plays they use but in what sequence, idiosyncrasies of the individual players, the psychological value of their Golden Girl baton twirler, and whether their star quarterback has the sniffles or not.

As an old sage once said, there's nothing new under the sun.

NOT IN TIME—St. Mary's first-baseman John O'Connell stretches to take a throw from pitcher Steve Rome (foreground) during the second inning of the game between the Pirates and Palmer at Erps Field Thursday. Palmer's Chuck Hamking (30) who had dropped a bunt in the infield, had the play beaten, however, and when this throw got away from O'Connell he went on to second base. St. Mary's posted an 11-9 victory in the intra-city contest. (Gazette Telegraph Photo)

Pirates Edge Palmer Club 11-9

By TOM CUSHMAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

Six runs, only three of which were earned, before being lifted with two out in the fourth.

Both teams hit the ball well, but the Terrors held an edge in safeties, 13-11. The first five men in the Palmer order each had at least two hits and lead-off man Chuck Remking had a perfect day with a single, double, triple, and base-on-balls. Jim Gillespie cracked three singles for St. Mary's while Rome and Mickey Elliott had two each. Elliott drove home three of the Pirates' runs.

Rome's performance was startling, considering that at the outset it seemed highly possible that he might not even retire anyone. Remking led off the game with a triple and when the following four Terrors also hit safely, Coach Ed Murphy had relief heating up in the bullpen. Rome, however, slipped out of the frame with the aid of a pickoff play at the fifth when Palmer bunched seven hits for two runs. Rome squeezed out of the inning and the game in control, the rest five runs and it looked as if the Pirates were in for a long afternoon. Pirates were in for a long afternoon. He fanned 10 men over the final five innings.

St. Mary's got to Jones for three tallies in the second, squeezed in one off Talova in the third and then took the lead with a five-run assault in the fourth, which was aided by three Palmer errors. The Tribe miscued twice again in the fifth as the Bucs pushed across the two runs that actually iced the contest. Aside from a short letdown in the sixth, Rome was in complete control.

Columbia Team Picked To Win NCAA Fencing

One of the top teams competing in the NCAA National Fencing Championships, slated for the Air Force Academy March 29-30, will be the trio from Columbia University.

The Columbia Lions, boasting one of the better teams in their school's history, finished their season with a 17-10 win over Princeton, March 9.

* * *

DON MARGOLIS
Columbia's Captain

The victory gave Columbia a 9-2 win-loss record for the year, and—more importantly—its fourth consecutive Ivy League championship. It also marked the eighth time in nine years that the Lions had copped that title.

Figuring heavily in the win over the Princeton Tigers, and in Columbia's winter-long campaign, were the three swordsmen who will journey west to the NCAA's. They are Steve Cetrulo (Sabre), Don Margolis (Epee), and Jay Lustig (Foil). Between them, the three scored 56 victories for the Lions during their 11-meet campaign.

Cetrulo, a senior from Newark, N. J., has been tagged "the best sabre fencer in the east," by the Lions' fencing coach Irv Dekoff. The compact veteran reached the finals of the Eastern Intercollegiate Fencing Association Championships, last season, and during the 1962-63 season won 14 and lost 5.

During the Nationals at the Academy, Cetrulo will face the Falcon's Sabre expert—senior John Skoro from Gary, Ind.

Wielding the epee for the Lions, Margolis defeated 20 opponents this season, and lost to only five. Another New Jersey native—from Teaneck—Don is a senior and team captain. He was the most consistent performer on the 1961-62 title-winning team, and will be representing Columbia in the NCAA's for the third time.

Jock Patterson, of Colorado Springs, the Air Force Academy's nominee for NCAA honors, will have the uneviable task of cutting down Margolis during his two-day stay here.

Winningest man for the Columbia Lions during the past season was Jay Lustig who "pinked" 22 opponents during the fencing year, and failed to side-step only six other swordsmen. A Foil-man, Lustig will be challenging the Academy's Bill Ebert, a senior from Trenton, N. J.

Altho he failed to make Columbia's NCAA squad last year, Lustig was an All-America selection as a sophomore and second in the Eastern Championships. He is a senior from Brooklyn, N. Y.

Between The Lines

And that especially applies to football, where only a few new twists can be added to age-old formations and execution.

A visit to most any major school's practice field before a big game will reveal the junior varsity running a wide variety of the coming opponent's plays against the varsity. This is common practice. Coaching staffs have exchanged game films for years, but these usually can only scratch the surface of the information reaped by the scouts.

As one Air Force Academy opposing coach said just last year when intorduced to an AFA scout, "Well, this is a surprise. I've seen you so often over the past few weeks that I thought you were part of my own staff."

The now famous story stated that defensive alignments were given to Bryant. Perhaps they were, but we doubt if it would have made much difference. The variety on defense is even less than offense, and The Bear didn't become one of this country's greatest mentors without knowing these variations.

Then there was that bit about quick kicks. Bryant is alleged to have asked Butts, "How about quick kicks?" And Butts reportedly replied, "Don't worry about quick kicks. They don't have anyone who can do it."

Since 'Bama had a team capable of scoring almost every time it got the ball, we imagine Bryant must have laid awake nights worrying about that!

If nothing else, however, there could be a big expose here over the authenticity of lie detector machines and tests. Now it's claimed that both sides have been submitted to the reactor — and everybody's telling the truth. It appears that someone is fibbing just a little, doesn't it?

This whole thing could blow over, however, just as other stories have which were devised to suddenly sell publications that have been in financial and editorial hot-water like the Post.

If the stench sticks around, tho, it would be the most bitter blow the world of sports has ever suffered — bar none.

Fountain Valley Tallies Victory Over Manitou

The Danes of Fountain Valley exploded in the first inning to bag 11 hits that resulted in a 15-8 triumph over Manitou Springs on their home field Thursday afternoon.

This made the Danes-Mustangs series one-and-one as the latter team downed the Fountain Valley squad, 7-5, last Tuesday.

Altho the Manitou team collected 12 hits, they could only cash in eight runs while the victors banged out 13 hits to collect 15 runs.

Jim Gilbert and Steve Kohl relieved Chuck Graff in the second inning, but the Danes had too large a lead to overcome.

Saturday the Mustangs tangle with Florence in a Pikes Peak League encounter at the Westside Diamond at 10 a.m. Kohl is slated to start for the Manitou team.

Manitou	130	103	0	8

Jastremski Tries For Third Gold Swim Medal

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Fabulous Chet Jastremski, built more like a wrestler than a swimmer, tries for his third gold medal today in the National AAU Indoor Swimming Championships.

Just about everybody here for the third day of the championships was cheering for Chet the Jet from Indiana University to win his third title in as many days.

Having captured the 200-yard individual medley and breaststroke races in American record times, the 21-year-old pre-medical student was after the 100-yard breaststroke title today, and a solid favorite to retain his crown.

Before plunging into Yale's plush 25-yard pool today, the 5-8, 168-pound Jastremski and Roy Saari, a Southern California freshman, were the meet's only double winners.

The record smashers Thursday night were Jastremski, 200-yard breaststroke, 1:55.9; Fred Schmidt, Indiana, 200-yard butterfly, 1:55.2, and Saari, 1,650-yard freestyle, 16:52.1.

Fifteen professionals on the PGA tour made a hole-in-one during 1962 but only two double eagles were registered on tour.

NCAA Semi-Finals Slated Tonight

By DON WEISS

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Cincinnati meets Oregon State and Chicago Loyola plays racehorse with Duke's Blue Devils tonight as basketball's big three and an upstart that could steal it all reach the showdown stage in the national collegiate championships.

Cincinnati, top-ranked nationally and seeking a record third straight NCAA championship, plays tough but unranked Oregon State in the windup of the doubleheader that opens with second-ranked Duke against third-ranked Loyola.

The winners will play for the championship Saturday night.

Sellout record crowds of 19,153 will stream both nights into massive Freedom Hall on the Kentucky State Fairgrounds, where the Bearcats of Ed Jucker took their second championship a year ago with a 71-59 pasting of Jerry Lucos and the top-ranked Ohio State Buckeyes.

The current Bearcats, although they've won 25 of 26 games and led The Associated Press poll from start to finish, aren't rated quite as strong as the clubs that spilled Ohio State and the great Lucas last year and in the 1961 final at Kansas City.

But as Oregon State's Slats Gill says:

"You don't pick against a champion, especially when four of its five starters are back. They have the talent, Ed Jucker always has them well prepared, and they have the benefit of having played in the championship game before."

"We came down here to win our third straight championship."

Turtle Trees Wildcat in NIT Semi

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A Turtle who treed a Wildcat is the newest—and perhaps most improbable—member of the National Invitation Tournament's starring ranks.

And the harassing job Pat Turtle, barely recovered from a broken ankle, did on hot-shooting Wally Jones of the Villanova Wildcats has to be the key reason Canisius is in Saturday's championship game in the 26th annual basketball classic.

With Jones going without a point in the last 16 minutes, the Griffins steamed past Villanova 61-46 Thursday night before a packed house of 18,429 at Madison Square Garden and gained the final along with Providence.

Fast-firing Ray Flynn again paced the Providence Friars, sparking a second-half burst that powered them over Marquette 70-64 in the first match of the semifinal doubleheader.

Turtle, a 5-foot-11 Canisius senior who suffered a right ankle fracture in practice Feb. 5, was idled from then until this past Tuesday night when he played very briefly in the Griffins' 76-67 quarter-final victory over Memphis State. He went in against Jones after the tricky Wildcat had scored 24 points, with Villanova ahead 35-31 and 16 minutes to go.

With Turtle putting a shell around Jones, Villanova's offense foundered and the inspired Griffins rolled. They exploded out of a 40-40 tie at the midway mark of the second half, getting fine scoring from Bill O'Connor, Tony Gennari and sub Frank Swiatek, and smothered the Wildcats 21-6 over the last 10 minutes.

Flynn poured in 13 of Providence's 16 points and set up another basket with a steal during a second half surge as the Friars won their 14th straight.

After trailing by seven at the half and 10 shortly after intermission, Marquette spurted to within one—43-42—with 10 minutes left. But then the big rally led by Flynn put Providence back in charge.

Flynn finished with 25 points to go along with the 38 he netted against Miami in the quarter-finals. Backcourters Dick Nixon and Ron Glaser had 20 each for Marquette's Warriors.

"Our game plan was to keep Jones away from the ball," says Jucker. "We're concerned about Mel Counts, their 7-foot center, and about Terry Baker, whose great leadership is worth 10 to 15 points on the court. But we're ready, mentally and physically. We have no excuses or alibis."

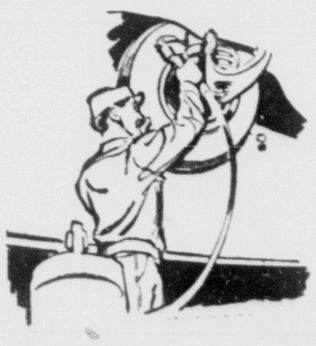

Duke is on the hottest streak of the semifinalists, having won its last 20 games for a 26-2 record. The Blue Devils came to town full of confidence after the great play of Jeff Mullins in the Eastern Regional at College Park, Md., last weekend. With All-America Art Heyman off in his shooting, Mullins took charge, scored 49 points in two games and was named the regional's most valuable player.

Duke's one-two punch of Heyman and Mullins will go against a Loyola team that rolled to the highest offensive average among the major colleges, 92.6 points a game, in winning 27 games and losing two. All five Loyola starters average in double figures, led by All-America Jerry Harness and 6-7 Les Hunter.

Jock Patterson, of Colorado Springs, the Air Force Academy's nominee for NCAA honors, will have the uneviable task of cutting down Margolis during his two-day stay here.

Winningest man for the Columbia Lions during the past season was Jay Lustig who "pinked" 22 opponents during the fencing year, and failed to side-step only six other swordsmen. A Phi Beta man Lustig will be challenging the Academy's Bill Ebert, a senior from Trenton, N. J.

Altho he failed to make Columbia's NCAA squad last year, Lustig was an All-America selection as a sophomore and second in the Eastern Championships. He is a senior from Brooklyn, N. Y.

Between The Lines

And that especially applies to football, where only a few new twists can be added to age-old formations and execution.

A visit to most any major school's practice field before a big game will reveal the junior varsity running a wide variety of the coming opponent's plays against the varsity. This is common practice. Coaching staffs have exchanged game films for years, but these usually can only scratch the surface of the information reaped by the scouts.

As one Air Force Academy opposing coach said just last year when intorduced to an AFA scout, "Well, this is a surprise. I've seen you so often over the past few weeks that I thought you were part of my own staff."

The now famous story stated that defensive alignments were given to Bryant. Perhaps they were, but we doubt if it would have made much difference. The variety on defense is even less than offense, and The Bear didn't become one of this country's greatest mentors without knowing these variations.

Then there was that bit about quick kicks. Bryant is alleged to have asked Butts, "How about quick kicks?" And Butts reportedly replied, "Don't worry about quick kicks. They don't have anyone who can do it."

Since 'Bama had a team capable of scoring almost every time it got the ball, we imagine Bryant must have laid awake nights worrying about that!

If nothing else, however, there could be a big expose here over the authenticity of lie detector machines and tests. Now it's claimed that both sides have been submitted to the reactor — and everybody's telling the truth. It appears that someone is fibbing just a little, doesn't it?

This whole thing could blow over, however, just as other stories have which were devised to suddenly sell publications that have been in financial and editorial hot-water like the Post.

If the stench sticks around, tho, it would be the most bitter blow the world of sports has ever suffered — bar none.

Fountain Valley Tallies Victory Over Manitou

The Danes of Fountain Valley exploded in the first inning to bag 11 hits that resulted in a 15-8 triumph over Manitou Springs on their home field Thursday afternoon.

This made the Danes-Mustangs series one-and-one as the latter team downed the Fountain Valley squad, 7-5, last Tuesday.

Altho the Manitou team collected 12 hits, they could only cash in eight runs while the victors banged out 13 hits to collect 15 runs.

Jim Gilbert and Steve Kohl relieved Chuck Graf in the second inning, but the Danes had too large a lead to overcome.

Jastremski Tries For Third Gold Swim Medal

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Fabulous Chet Jastremski, built more like a wrestler than a swimmer, tries for his third gold medal today in the National AAU Indoor Swimming Championships.

Just about everybody here for the third day of the championships was cheering for Chet the Jet from Indiana University to win his third title in as many days.

Having captured the 200-yard individual medley and breaststroke races in American record times, the 21-year-old pre-medical student was after the 100-yard breaststroke title today, and a solid favorite to retain his crown.

Before plunging into Yale's plush 25-yard pool today, the 5-8, 168-pound Jastremski and Roy Saari, a Southern California freshman, were the meet's only double winners.

The record smashers Thursday night were Jastremski, 200-yard breaststroke, 1:55.9; Fred Schmidt, Indiana, 200-yard butterfly, 1:55.2, and Saari, 1,650-yard freestyle, 16:52.1.

Fifteen professionals on the PGA tour made a hole-in-one during 1962 but only two double eagles were registered on tour.

NCAA Semi-Finals Slated Tonight

By DON WEISS

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Cincinnati meets Oregon State and Chicago Loyola plays racehorse with Duke's Blue Devils tonight as basketball's big three and an upstart that could steal it all reach the showdown stage in the national collegiate championships.

Cincinnati, top-ranked nationally and seeking a record third straight NCAA championship, plays tough but unranked Oregon State in the windup of the doubleheader that opens with second-ranked Duke against third-ranked Loyola.

The winners will play for the championship Saturday night.

Sellout record crowds of 19,153 will stream both nights into massive Freedom Hall on the Kentucky State Fairgrounds, where the Bearcats of Ed Jucker took their second championship a year ago with a 71-59 pasting of Jerry Lucas and the top-ranked Ohio State Buckeyes.

The current Bearcats, although they've won 25 of 26 games and led The Associated Press poll from start to finish, aren't rated quite as strong as the clubs that spilled Ohio State and the great Lucas last year and in the 1961 final at Kansas City.

But as Oregon State's Slats Gill says:

"You don't pick against a champion, especially when four of its five starters are back. They have the talent, Ed Jucker always has them well prepared, and they have the benefit of having played in the championship game before."

* * *

"We came down here to win our third straight championship," says Jucker. "We're concerned about Mel Counts, their 7-foot center, and about Terry Baker, whose great leadership is worth 10 to 15 points on the court. But we're ready, mentally and physically. We have no excuses or alibis."

* * *

Duke is on the hottest streak of the semifinalists, having won its last 20 games for a 26-2 record. The Blue Devils came to town full of confidence after the great play of Jeff Mullins in the Eastern Regional at College Park, Md., last weekend. With All-America Art Heyman off in his shooting, Mullins took charge, scored 49 points in two games and was named the regional's most valuable player.

Duke's one-two punch of Heyman and Mullins will go against a Loyola team that rolled to the highest offensive average among the major colleges, 92.6 points a game, in winning 27 games and losing two. All five Loyola starters average in double figures, led by All-America Jerry Harness and 6-7 Les Hunter.

Turtle Trees Wildcat in NIT Semi

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A Turtle who treed a Wildcat is the newest—and perhaps most improbable—member of the National Invitation Tournament's starring ranks.

And the harassing job Pat Turtle, barely recovered from a broken ankle, did on hot-shooting Wally Jones of the Villanova Wildcats has to be the key reason Canisius is in Saturday's championship game in the 26th annual basketball classic.

With Jones going without a point in the last 16 minutes, the Griffins steamed past Villanova 61-46 Thursday night before a packed house of 18,429 at Madison Square Garden and gained the final along with Providence.

Fast-firing Ray Flynn again paced the Providence Friars, sparking a second-half burst that powered them over Marquette 70-64 in the first match of the semifinal doubleheader.

Turtle, a 5-foot-11 Canisius senior who suffered a right ankle fracture in practice Feb. 5, was idled from then until this past Tuesday night when he played very briefly in the Griffins' 76-67 quarter-final victory over Memphis State. He went in against Jones after the tricky Wildcat had scored 24 points, with Villanova ahead 35-31 and 16 minutes to go.

With Turtle putting a shell around Jones, Villanova's offense foundered and the inspired Griffins rolled. They exploded out of a 40-40 tie at the midway mark of the second half, getting fine scoring from Bill O'Connor, Tony Gennari and sub Frank Swiatek, and smothered the Wildcats 21-6 over the last 10 minutes.

Flynn poured in 13 of Providence's 16 points and set up another basket with a steal during a second half surge as the Friars won their 14th straight.

After trailing by seven at the half and 10 shortly after intermission, Marquette spurted to within one—43-42—with 10 minutes left. But then the big rally led by Flynn put Providence back in charge.

Flynn finished with 25 points to go along with the 58 he netted against Miami in the quarter-finals. Backcourters Dick Nixon and Ron Glaser had 20 each for Marquette's Warriors.

Pearson Sparks Angels To Seventh Triumph

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Albie Pearson, the littlest Angel of them all, looks like he's overmatched every time he picks up a baseball bat. The way Pearson's been swinging lately, the bat must feel like a baton.

Pearson, 27, who stands just over 5-foot-5½ and weighs in at 141 pounds after eating, whipped the bat around at the Los Angeles camp again Thursday, leading the Angels to their seventh consecutive exhibition victory, 5-3 over ta ils fifth loss in a row, 5-4 in San Francisco at Palm Springs, 10 innings at Fort Myers and the Calif. He stroked three hits, one a triple. Pearson also stole two bases, which brought quick smiles from Manager Bill Rigney.

The world champion New York Yankees had just finished their game with Washington on the other side of the country in Florida. The teams played to a 7-7, 17-inning tie in a 4-hour, 25-minute marathon at Pompano Beach.

In two other extra inning affairs, Pittsburgh handed Minnesota its fifth loss in a row, 5-4 in 10 innings at Fort Myers and the New York Mets used Charlie Neal's sacrifice fly in the 10th for a 2-1 triumph over Milwaukee at West Palm Beach.

Elsewhere, Al Kaline hit two homers as Detroit crushed Baltimore 11-1 at Lakeland, Cincinnati's Tommy Harpur hit a pair in the Reds 7-6 squeaker over the Chicago White Sox at Sarasota, St. Louis whipped Kansas City 6-1 at St. Petersburg, Cleveland checked the Chicago Cubs 7-2 at Mesa, Ariz., Philadelphia defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 8-7 at Clearwater, Fla. and Boston edged Houston 4-3 at Scottsdale, Ariz.

Elston Howard homered for the Yankees in the second inning and Don Lock connected for a three-run homer in the eighth for the Senators.

A walk to Bob Skinner and singles by Donn Clendenon and rookie Gene Alley won for the Pirates over the Twins. Warren Spahn went seven innings and allowed only three hits for the Braves, but the Mets scored the clincher in the 10th on a single by Al Moran, two intentional walks and Neal's long fly.

Kaline led a 12-hit Tiger attack that included a homer, triple and double by Norm Cash and a homer by Jake Wood as the Orioles lost their second in a row after winning their first 10. Harpur's second homer, for three runs in the sixth inning, gave the Reds the edge over the White Sox.

Duke Carmel and George Altman each tripled and singled in the Cards victory over the A's. Rookie Vic Davalillo collected two singles and a double, as the Indians whipped the Cubs.

Three-run homers by Wes Covington and Frank Torre off Dodger Don Drysdale got the job done for the Phillies. Home runs by Eddie Bressoud and Carl Yastrze ski powered the Red Sox over the Colts.

Oklahoma, Iowa State Lead Standings in Mat Tourney

By LARRY FRIEDMAN

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Oklahoma and Iowa State took dead aim at Oklahoma State's shaky NCAA wrestling crown as the grapplers moved into quarter-final action of the 33rd annual National Championship today.

The Sooners, the only school to break through Oklahoma State's natonal reign in the past decade, took a slim 12-10 edge over Iowa State after first-day battling. The Cowboys were not to be counted out, however, with 8 points and five wrestlers still in contention as they bid for a third straight title.

Oklahoma also had five wrestlers in the running, but the Cyclones from Ames, Iowa, had six still left.

Oklahoma was paced by its two defending champions, Mickey Martin at 130 pounds, and Wayne Baughman, 191-pounder. Both scored second-round pins.

Unsung Sooner sophomore Albert Tapia played a key role in the team's rocketing start. The 123-pound sophomore from Tucson, Ariz., never before had won a college match, but turned in two shutout decisions here.

After Oklahoma and Iowa State in team-scoring came Syracuse, also with 10 points. Joining Oklahoma State with 8 points each were Michigan State, Lehigh and Colorado State University.

Lehigh, Michigan and Pitt had four survivors and Michigan State, Syracuse, Penn State and Iowa three each.

Martin meets Dave Vozeman of Michigan in his quarter-final test, while Baughman faces Matt Sanzone of Springfield.

Paul Harney Takes Lead In Doran Open Golf Tourney

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Paul Harney took a one-stroke lead into today's second round of the $50,000 Doran Open golf tournament. Whether he holds it may depend on how the wind blows.

Harney, 33, just back from Worcester, Mass., where his fourth child was born, fired a 4-under-par 68 Thursday. He played most of his round after a sudden abatement of 25-mile-an-hour winds which buffeted the course earlier in the day.

Thus Harney escaped the tricky gusts which plagued such players as Gary Player and Arnold Palmer, the 1-2 money winners of the year, during the morning.

The 7,028-yard Doral Country Club course "played very tough in the wind," Player said after he finished his early round with Palmer and Gene Littler.

Player posted a 71 and, under the playing conditions, said he would "take four 71s. That would win this tournament." Palmer also had a 71. Littler led the threesome by dropping a 60-foot putt on the 18th green for a 70.

Jack Nicklaus and Billy Casper, No. 3 and 4 money winners, had to settle for 73s. Casper won the Doral's $9,000 top prize with a great last-round comeback in 1962.

Glenn Stuart, 28, came in a stroke behind Harney. Stuart, who has been out of the money in four tournaments this year, blasted a 69. It was the third time in three weeks that he has threatened to take a major share of the purse, but he faltered in the third round at both Pensacola and St. Petersburg.

Rod Funseth, Littler, Ted Kroll, Al Geiberger, Joe Carr and Bruce Crampton tied for third at 70.

Little Heuga Big Surprise Of NCAA

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Little Jimmy Heuga, who failed to make the 1960 U.S. Olympic ski team, beat three former members of that team Thursday as he won the slalom in the NCAA Ski Championships.

The 20-year-old sophomore paced Colorado University to a first day lead with runs of 49.7 and 52.3 seconds for a combined time of 102 seconds. Heuga, at 5-foot-5, 125 pounds, was one of the smallest skiers in the field.

Three former Olympians, including two of Heuga's Colorado teammates, grabbed the next three places.

The three-day meet continued at the Solitude ski area east of here today with the downhill event in the morning and cross country in the afternoon.

Going into today's competition, the favored Colorado team had 98.8 points to 97.5 for second place Denver University. Other leaders were Dartmouth 90.1; Chico State 72; Western State 69.6, and Notre Dame 69.1.

Following Heuga in the slalom was teammate Buddy Werner with a combined time of 102.4 seconds. Next came Chuck Ferries of Denver, 102.6; Bill Marolt, Colorado, 103.3; and John Claugh of Middlebury, Vt., unattached, 104.1.

The meet ends with jumping events Saturday.

Jim Beatty to Make First Outdoors Run

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Distance running star Jim Beatty is set to make his first run outdoors in the mile Saturday in a triangular track and field meet between Occidental College and the Los Angeles and Pasadena Track Clubs.

Revamped Truckers Nip Opponent in AAU Play

DENVER (UPI) — Four top-seeded teams drew byes in the National Amateur Athletic Union basketball tournament this week, and in the quarterfinals Thursday night, all four won spots in the semifinal round.

Matches tonight pit the Denver Chicago Truckers and Phillips 66 of Bartlesville, Okla., against the Akron (Ohio) Goodyears and the U.S. Armed Forces All-Stars.

The final game Thursday night gave 6-2 guard Cleveland McKinney of the Armed Forces the top scoring record of the tourney with 36 points and victory for the service team over Marion Kay Vanilla of Brownstown, Ind., 102-84.

It was the roughest game of the tournament with 61 fouls whistled in the game, 38 against the All-Stars and 23 against Brownstown. Four service players fouled out and three ended the game with four personals.

Supporting McKinney were Walt Torrence with 17 and Mel Peterson with 16. Tom Bolyard hit 26 for Marion Kay followed by Ken Pennington with 14 and Jerry Bass with 13.

Earlier, a revamped D-C squad slated to be a top contender barely hung together long enough to win 72-63 over Prince Electric of Enid, Okla.

The tourney favorite Phillips 66 roared over State Line of Wendover, Utah, 120-82, and Akron beat Mays Builders of Arkansas City, Kan., 106-86.

The Truckers last minute all-star cast of Bill Green of Colorado State University and Ken Charlton and Eric Lee of University of Colorado, had trouble getting started. In the first half the score was tied 14 times and the period ended 30-30.

Al Tate led the Truckers with 19. Jimmy King of Prince hit for 18.

Phillips 66 had seven players in double scoring figures against Wendover. They were paced by Don Kojis with 25.

THE FACE OF A BEATEN FIGHTER —Davey Moore of Columbus, Ohio, badly beaten Thursday night in Los Angeles by Sugar Ramos of Mexico City, sits quietly in his dressing room as an ice pack is placed at the side of his head. Later, Moore was taken unconscious by ambulance to the White Memorial Hospital. The 29-year-old Moore absorbed a terrific beating in losing his world featherweight title to Ramos and was listed in critical condition. (AP Wirephoto)

END OF A CHAMPION'S REIGN — Davey Moore is draped over the ropes, beaten and helpless, at the end of the 10th round of his unsuccessful defense of his world's featherweight championship in Los Angeles Thursday night. Standing over him is the new champion, Sugar Ramos, Cuban refugee now living in Mexico City. Moore was unable to answer the bell for the 11th round.

Revamped Truckers Nip Opponent in AAU Play

DENVER (UPI) — Four top-seeded teams drew byes in the National Amateur Athletic Union basketball tournament this week and in the quarterfinals Thursday night, all four won spots in the semifinal round.

Matches tonight put the Denver Chicago Truckers and Phillips 66 of Bartlesville, Okla. against the Akron (Ohio) Goodyears and the U.S. Armed Forces All-Stars.

The final game Thursday night gave 6-2 guard Cleveland McKinney of the Armed Forces the top scoring record of the tourney with 36 points and victory for the service team over Marion Kay Vandal of Brownstown, Ind., 102-84.

It was the roughest game of the tournament with 61 fouls whistled in the game, 38 against the All-Stars and 23 against Brownstown. Four service players fouled out and three ended the game with four personals.

Supporting McKinney were Walt Torrence with 17 and Mel Peterson with 16. Tom Bolyard hit 26 for Marion Kay followed by Ken Pennington with 14 and Jerry Bass with 13.

Earlier, a revamped D-U squad slated to be a top contender gave a bung together long enough to win 72-63 over Prince Electric of Enid, Okla.

The tourney favorite Phillips 66 roared over State Line of West Jordan, Utah, 120-82 and Akron beat Mays Builders of Arkadelphia, Ark., 106-86.

The Truckers last minute all-star cast of Bill Green of Colorado State University and Ken Charlton and Eric Lee of University of Colorado, had trouble getting started. In the first half the score was tied 14 times and the period ended 36-30.

Al Tate led the Truckers with 19, Jimmy King of Prince hit for 18.

Phillips 66 had seven players in double scoring figures against Wendover. They were paced by Don Kopp with 25.

Pearson Sparks Angels To Seventh Triumph

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Albie Pearson, the littlest Angel of them all, looks like he's overmatched every time he picks up a baseball bat. The way Pearson's been swinging lately, the bat must feel like a baton.

Pearson, 27, who stands just over 5-foot-5½ and weighs in at 141 pounds after eating, whipped the bat around at the Los Angeles camp again Thursday, leading the Angels to their seventh consecutive exhibition victory, 5-3 over a San Francisco at Palm Springs, Calif. He stroked three hits, one a triple. Pearson also stole two bases, which brought quick smiles from Manager Bill Rigney.

The world champion New York Yankees had just finished their game with Washington on the other side of the country in Florida. The teams played to a 7-7, 17-inning tie in a 4-hour, 25-minute marathon at Pompano Beach.

In two other extra inning affairs, Pittsburgh handed Minnesota its fifth loss in a row, 5-4 in 10 innings at Fort Myers and the New York Mets used Charlie Neal's sacrifice fly in the 10th for a 2-1 triumph over Milwaukee at West Palm Beach.

Elsewhere, Al Kaline hit two homers as Detroit crushed Baltimore 11-1 at Lakeland. Cincinnati's Tommy Harpur hit a pair in the Reds 7-6 squeaker over the Chicago White Sox at Sarasota. St. Louis whipped Kansas City 6-1 at St. Petersburg. Cleveland checked the Chicago Cubs 7-2 at Mesa, Ariz., Philadelphia defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 8-7 at Clearwater, Fla. and Boston edged Houston 4-3 at Scottsdale, Ariz.

Elston Howard homered for the Yankees in the second inning and Don Lock connected for a three-run homer in the eighth for the Senators.

A walk to Bob Skinner and singles by Donn Clendenon and rookie Gene Alley won for the Pirates over the Twins. Warren Spahn went seven innings and allowed only three hits for the Braves, but the Mets scored the clincher in the 10th on a single by Al Moran, two intentional walks and Neal's long fly.

Kaline led a 12-hit Tiger attack that included a homer, triple and double by Norm Cash and a homer by Jake Wood as the Orioles lost their second in a row after winning their first 10. Harpur's second homer, for three runs in the sixth inning, gave the Reds the edge over the White Sox.

Duke Carmel and George Altman each tripled and singled in the Cards victory over the A's. Rookie Vic Davalillo collected two singles and a double, as the Indians whipped the Cubs.

Three-run homers by Wes Covington and Frank Torre off Dodger Don Drysdale got the job done for the Phillies. Home runs by Eddie Bressoud and Carl Yastrze ski powered the Red Sox over the Colts.

Oklahoma, Iowa State Lead Standings in Mat Tourney

By LARRY FRIEDMAN

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Oklahoma and Iowa State took dead aim at Oklahoma State's shaky NCAA wrestling crown as the grapplers moved into quarter-final action of the 33rd annual National Championship today.

The Sooners, the only school to break through Oklahoma State's national reign in the past decade, took a slim 12-10 edge over Iowa State after first-day battling. The Cowboys were not to be counted out, however, with 8 points and five wrestlers still in contention as they bid for a third straight title.

Oklahoma also had five wrestlers in the running, but the Cyclones from Ames, Iowa, had six still left.

Oklahoma was paced by its two defending champions, Mickey Martin at 130 pounds, and Wayne Baughman, 191-pounder. Both scored second-round pins.

Unsung Sooner sophomore Albert Tapia played a key role in the team's rocketing start. The 123-pound sophomore from Tucson, Ariz., never before had won a college match, but turned in two shutout decisions here.

After Oklahoma and Iowa State in team-scoring came Syracuse, also with 10 points. Joining Oklahoma State with 8 points each were Michigan State, Lehigh and Colorado State University.

Lehigh, Michigan and Pitt had four survivors and Michigan State, Syracuse, Penn State and Iowa three each.

The only other defending champion, Army's Mike Natvig, came through with two shutout decisions at 147 pounds. He'll be in a tough scrap today against Joe Seay of Kansas State.

Martin meets Dave Vozeman of Michigan in his quarter-final test, while Baughman faces Matt Sanzone of Springfield.

Paul Harney Takes Lead In Doran Open Golf Tourney

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) —Paul Harney took a one-stroke lead into today's second round of the $50,000 Doran Open golf tournament. Whether he holds it may depend on how the wind blows.

Harney, 33, just back from Worcester, Mass., where his fourth child was born, fired a 4-under-par 68 Thursday. He played most of his round after a sudden abatement of 25-mile-an-hour winds which buffeted the course earlier in the day.

Thus Harney escaped the tricky gusts which plagued such players as Gary Player and Arnold Palmer, the 1-2 money winners of the year, during the morning.

The 7,028-yard Doral Country Club course "played very tough in the wind," Player said after he finished his early round with Palmer and Gene Littler.

Player posted a 71 and, under the playing conditions, said he would "take four 71s. That would win this tournament." Palmer also had a 71. Littler led the threesome by dropping a 60-foot putt on the 18th green for a 70.

Jack Nicklaus and Billy Casper, No. 3 and 4 money winners, had to settle for 73s. Casper won the Doral's $9,000 top prize with a great last-round comeback in 1962.

Glenn Stuart, 28, came in a stroke behind Harney. Stuart, who has been out of the money in four tournaments this year, blasted a 69. It was the third time in three weeks that he has threatened to take a major share of the purse but he faltered in the third round at both Pensacola and St. Petersburg.

Rod Funseth, Littler, Ted Kroll, Al Geiberger, Joe Carr and Bruce Crampton tied for third at 70.

Little Heuga Big Surprise Of NCAA

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Little Jimmy Heuga, who failed to make the 1960 U.S. Olympic ski team, beat three former members of that team Thursday as he won the slalom in the NCAA Ski Championships.

The 20-year-old sophomore paced Colorado University to a first day lead with runs of 49.7 and 52.3 seconds for a combined time of 102 seconds. Heuga, at 5-foot-5, 125 pounds, was one of the smallest skiers in the field.

Three former Olympians, including two of Heuga's Colorado teammates, grabbed the next three places.

The three-day meet continued at the Solitude ski area east of here today with the downhill event in the morning and cross country in the afternoon.

Going into today's competition, the favored Colorado team had 99.8 points to 97.5 for second place Denver University. Other leaders were Dartmouth 90.1, Chico State 72, Western State 69.6 and Notre Dame 69.1.

Following Heuga in the slalom was teammate Buddy Werner with a combined time of 102.4 seconds. Next came Chuck Ferries of Denver, 102.6; Bill Marolt, Colorado, 103.3, and John Claugh of Middlebury, Vt., unattached, 104.1.

I Remember

By CHARLES S. DUDLEY

C. S. DUDLEY

When I went to work on the Denver Post, on my first newspaper job, in, I think, it was 1900, I was a halfway reporter and halfway copy boy. I had stopped high school in the middle of the second year. My pay was almost minus nothing, but listen to this.

All of the road shows came to Denver and played week engagements. Each reporter on the paper received a pair of parquet tickets to the Tabor Grand and the Broadway theaters each week. And that extended down to me.

The tickets were cloth ones that had originally been starched, but which had become limp rags. Announcements were made each week of what nights different ones of the staff were to go to the theater. The cloth ticket would be handed him or her from the person who had used it the night before, and he or she would pass it on to the one who was to have it the next night.

As soon as one got the ticket it could be presented at the theater box office and stubs for seats obtained. In going to the show the cloth ticket and stubs would be presented at the door. The seats were usually of the very best. I had never had an opportuntiy to go to the theater in such style before. And that was the time when "Floridora," "The Prince of Pilson," and a whole string of the most tuneful musicals were on the road.

But it was not for long I had this advantage. I was soon let off the Post, for incompetence, and my next job, after a short one on an afternoon paper in Denver, was in St. Joseph, Mo. I cannot remember getting any theater passes there, and if I had received them I knew no girls there to take to the theater.

After that I was to arrive in Los Angeles, Calif. Hardly any of the good road shows then got out there. There were the Orphium and Pantages vaudeville theaters, which I used to like to go to, but had to pay my way. There were three stock companies playing drama. There I had to pay to see also. That is for quite a while. Finally I came to get many theater passes in Los Angeles. But it was never like going to the theater in Denver.

There used to be some good road shows at the Burns Theater in Colorado Springs, and I have seen some at the City Auditorium since it was built. And passes have come my way here, too. But it has not been like those good old days of theater-going in Denver when I worked on the Post.

When I went to work on the Post, hired by City Editor Guy LaCoste and fired by City Editor Joe Ward, the Post was across the street from the Tabor Grand Opera House, on 16th Street.

The news rooms were upstairs. I say news rooms advisedly. There was not one large room for reporters, as is now usually the custom. The news area was cut up into cubicles, with partitions reaching a little above the head. The compartments would have one or two desks in them. There was a sort of aisle between them and some desks out there. Everybody wrote by hand with a lead pencil, except one reporter who covered the statehouse. He had an old blind Remington typewriter. When he went out on his run he snaped a padlock on it, so no one could operate it during his absence and get it out of order.

One day a man came up the stairs and spilled gasoline, I suppose it was, around on the floor and lighted it. The flames licked the walls and the smoke rolled upward to the ceiling. Everybody left the cubicles calling "Fire!" and ran toward the stairs. There stood the man who lighted the fire.

"Just a minute, folks," he said. "I am demonstrating a fire extinguisher. He then promptly extinguished the flames. As promptly he was fairly booted down the stairs and told that he had better make himself scarce fast or he would be arrested.

When I went to the St. Joseph, Mo., Gazette I was told I would have to use a typewriter. On all of the desks were Oliver typewriters. I sat up all of the first night practicing on one of them with "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party."

And all that night I had a jumping toothache and was waiting to get to a dentist's in the morning to have the confounded tooth pulled.

National Wheat Policy Vote Decision Sought

By OVID MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy said in a recorded statement today that results of a referendum to be held soon on a new wheat control program will show whether farmers want a national policy of farm supply and farm income stabilization.

The statement was sent here for the convention of the National Farmers Union.

The referendum—probably to be conducted late in May—will give the nation's wheat growers a chance to approve or reject a plan which would impose tighter limitations on production than exist now and would set up a dual price system. Approval by at least two-thirds of those voting is required to make it effective.

Kennedy broadened the issue to include his administration's entire farm policy.

The Farmers Union has been a staunch supporter of those policies and its leaders supported him for president.

The Kennedy farm policies envision broad farmer-approved commodity supply and production control measures to halt surplus output, to improve farm income and to cut costs of farm programs to taxpayers. Present programs have been costing well over $3 billion a year.

Kennedy ran in 1960 on a platform promising stronger federal farm programs. But he has run into strong opposition in efforts to get his policies translated into law. Opposing him have been the American Farm Bureau Federation and many Republicans and some Democrats in Congress.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, who addressed the meeting Tuesday night, predicted victory for the wheat plan—and hence no change in the President's farm policies.

SAFETY SAVES, PAYS—Clarence W. Foulk, Air Force Academy plumber/steamfitter, received a $40 award for suggesting and developing a device to remove converter heads—such as this one—from steam lines. The idea resulted in both manpower savings and reduction of a safety hazard. Mr. Foulk also received a cigarette lighter from the Ground Safety Office when his device was selected as best safety suggestion of the month.

In addition to his son, Mr. Goodsell is survived by his widow, Elizabeth C. Goodsell, San Diego; another son, Dudley C. Goodsell, Denver; three sisters, Mrs. Bert Hagen, Mrs. Mildred Smith, both of Denver, and Mrs. Wilfna Carpenter, Scottsbluff, Neb.; and three grandchildren.

Goodsell and his wife, Virginia, who is El Paso County election supervisor, left Thursday afternoon to assist with arrangements for the funeral which will be held next week.

SIZEABLE DIFFERENCE

LAWRENCEBURG, Ind. (AP)— John Pavey of Rising Sun wouldn't fit into his bed at Dearborn County Hospital, and he didn't care for the toys placed in the room either.

A clerk who interviewed Pavey made out an admittance form dropping a zero to make his age read three, instead of 30. Attendants who set up a crib in the room and provided a bag of toys quickly moved Pavey.

Student Guilty of Traffic Violation Gets $50 Fine

Any speed over the prescribed 20 miles an hour in Palmer Park is excessive, Judge Allan Asher told a high school student Thursday in Municipal Court.

He found the student, Keith Smart, 15, 1206 E. Uintah, guilty of reckless driving and levied a $50 fine, half of which would be suspended, Judge Asher said, if the youth were willing to give up his drivers license for 10 days.

Park Patrolman Cliff Howe who issued the citation to the student, testified that he followed Smart March 3 as the defendant drove in excess of 30 miles an hour, sometimes on the wrong side of the road.

Smart said he wasn't familiar with the road and admitted that he "wasn't paying attention to the speedometer."

Judge Asher reminded the youth that people walk, ride bikes and walk animals in the park and admonished Smart for his lack of judgment in driving in the area. He dismissed a careless driving charge against Smart.

Adeline Bernal, 2329 W. Boulder, was found guilty of a signal light violation and fined $10 by the judge, who found Arrena Day, 65, 2323 Bott Ave., not guilty of a similar violation.

Both women contended that they had a green light Feb. 24 when they were cited by Patrolman William Sutton at 21st Street and Colorado Avenue.

Mrs. Day testified that she was north bound on 21st Street, preparing to turn east on Colorado, but had stopped short to allow pedestrians to cross. East bound on Colorado, Mrs. Bernal said she saw her light turn green as she approached the intersection and started to cross but said she spotted Mrs. Day's car attempting to make a right turn. The two cars collided.

In finding Mrs. Bernal guilty, Judge Asher told her that when a light turns green, she has "no license to go hell bent for election when something is in your way."

Other guilty findings Thursday in city court included the following: Ramon Jimenez, 18, Ft. Carson, riotous conduct, 10 days in jail or a $50 fine.

Alfonso Vigil, 23, 609 S. Sierra Madre, drunk, $25 fine; Felio Maez, 40, 15 W. Rio Grande, drunk, $25 fine; Henry Todd, 55, 306 E. Cache la Poudre, drunk, 30 days in jail; Frank Donnivant, 19, Ft. Carson, drunk, $25, suspended.

Bernard Wittrock, 24, Ent Air Force Base, was found not guilty of a careless driving charge. Testimony showed that the airman was involved in two of six accidents which took place Feb. 16 near the railroad underpass in the 700 block of east Platte Avenue.

Officer Charles Jackson testified that the streets were icy and slushy at the time and this was born out by witnesses.

Judge Asher decided that because of the complexity of the situation, no element of careless driving had been shown and handed down a not guilty verdict.

Reckless Count Brings Driver Fine in Court

In Justice of the Peace James F. Quine's court Thursday Albert Nicholas Scoville paid a $25 fine and $4 costs for reckless driving on U.S. Highway 24. Scoville, 55, of 417 N. Institute St., was ticketed Feb. 28 by State Patrolman J. Mathis.

Mathis cited Herman Walsky, 38, of 914 Grand Blvd. as he did not have 1963 plates on his car. The incident happened March 1 on South Nevada Avenue and a fine of $5 plus $4 costs with $5 suspended was imposed.

James Theadore Hall Jr., 51, of Stratmoor Hills was charged with disregarding a stop sign March 6 on "B" Street and fined $5 plus $4 costs with $5 suspended. Hall was cited by Mathis.

State Patrolman Ken Shiflet gave a ticket to Richard Lee Gratton Jr., 25, of Ft. Carson as he was driving the wrong way on a one-way street Saturday. The violation happened on U.S. Highway 85-87 and Gratton was fined $5 and costs.

Shiflet also ticket Sachiko Kaiser, 26, of 115 Grinnell St., for careless driving on Colorado Highway 27 March 12. A fine of $5 and costs was imposed.

Robert Duana Walleat, 32, of Ft. Carson paid a $5 fine and costs for not having 1963 plates on his car. State Patrolman J. Mathis gave him the summons on South Nevada Avenue, March 1.

Rome will expand her airport.

Walter Brannan Plans to Take It Easier Now

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Walter Brennan, conservatively natty in a dark blue suit and regimental tie, drew some curious "Don't I know you from somewhere?" looks as he walked from the NBC studios in Rockefeller Center to a nearby restaurant.

But the 69-year-old actor was so far out of his country-farmer role of Grandpa Amos McCoy of television that public recognition was slow.

And he was glad, because he was fresh from narrating the final scenes of Tuesday night's NBC special "The Tall American —Gary Cooper," and still feeling emotional about the experience.

"I was afraid my emotion would run away with me," the three-time Oscar winner confessed. "I'm Irish, you know, and an actor, and I cry pretty easily."

He ordered a breakfast-type luncheon of bacon and eggs, and returned to the subject which was still uppermost in his mind: Gary Cooper, a friend for 27 years.

"I got to know Coop when he went out to Hollywood for pictures in 1925. We met one day while we were hanging around waiting for a scene, and I introduced myself and he mumbled his name—so low I asked him to repeat it. 'Frank Cooper,' he said. Those were the days when he was an extra and carried around a card that said, "Frank Cooper, $10 a day—stunts extra.'"

Cooper — rechristened Gary — struck the public's fancy in "The Winning of Barbara Worth." Over the years Brennan appeared in eight big pictures with him, and was always a close friend.

"He was a regular guy," said Brennan, "and he never changed. And he was always a relaxer for me. I miss him very much."

Brennan's career moved along briskly, too, as Cooper shot to the top as one of Hollywood's great stars. A native of Swampscott, Mass., Brennan abandoned an engineering career, moved to Hollywood in 1920 and got his first film role, a silent thriller called "Lorraine of the Lions." His first big movie break came in 1935, and he has been steadily employed as a capable character actor ever since.

Brennan and the lady he calls "my first and only wife" have a splendid life, on a 10-acre ranch about an hour's drive outside Los Angeles.

Last season, anxious to get a change of pace by accepting some film roles, Brennan wanted to cut down his appearances in CBS' "The Real McCoys" to a maximum of a dozen or so episodes. Then, the girl who played a lead quit, and to keep the show strong, Brennan agreed to do a full season. So he spent his "vacation" acting in 'How The West Was Won"—playing the heavy.

Right now, the probabilities are that CBS will abandon "The Real McCoys" in September and Brennan will have freedom to make movies and play with his 14 grandchildren.

"I agreed to keep working if the show went on for another season," Brennan commented. "But, you know, it gets to be kind of a chore, playing the same part year after year. There are other things."

PROFS IN THE THEATER

NEW YORK (AP) — Teachers are taking an active part in off-Broadway theatrical events this season.

Mordecai Gorelik, research professor at Southern Illinois University, adapted and designed production of Max Frisch's "The Firebugs."

Henry Kurth, of Western Reserve, provided the sets and costumes for "A Darker Flower," and Robert Alvin, a teacher at New York City's High School of Performing Arts, appeared in the cast of "Do You Know the Milky Way?"

Gordon Bradish, an assistant professor at New York University, was directing "Asylum" until playwright Arthur Kopit withdrew the script for revision.

THEY DIDN'T EVEN YELP

CARMEL, Calif. (AP)—Jacob May of nearby Mission Fields reported his seven - foot redwood Tiki god was stolen while his two watchdogs were tethered less than 30 feet away.

EAST OF BROADWAY

NEW YORK (AP)—A "little Broadway" of theatrical activity is developing on Manhattan's East Side in the vicinity of Third Avenue and 60th Street.

Five first-run movie theaters have opened in the zone during the past two years, and several playhouses for legitimate productions are also in operation.

Walter Brannan Plans to Take It Easier Now

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Walter Brennan, conservatively natty in a dark blue suit and regimental tie, drew some curious "Don't I know you from somewhere?" looks as he walked from the NBC studios in Rockefeller Center to a nearby restaurant.

But the 69-year-old actor was so far out of his country-farmer role of Grandpa Amos McCoy of television that public recognition was slow.

And he was glad, because he was fresh from narrating the final scenes of Tuesday night's NBC special "The Tall American —Gary Cooper," and still feeling emotional about the experience.

I was afraid my emotion would run away with me," the three-time Oscar winner confessed. I'm Irish, you know, and an actor, and I cry pretty easily."

He ordered a breakfast-type luncheon of bacon and eggs, and returned to the subject which was still uppermost in his mind. Gary Cooper, a friend for 27 years.

"I got to know Coop when he went out to Hollywood for pictures in 1925. We met one day while we were hanging around waiting for a scene, and I introduced myself and he mumbled his name—so low I asked him to repeat it. Frank Cooper, he said. Those were the days when he was an extra and carried around a card that said: "Frank Cooper, $10 a day—stunts extra."

Cooper — reinstened Gary — struck the public's fancy in "The Winning of Barbara Worth." Over the years Brennan appeared in eight big pictures with him, and was always a close friend.

"He was a regular guy," said Brennan, "and he never changed. And he was always a relaxer for me. I miss him very much."

Brennan's career moved along briskly, too, as Cooper shot to the top as one of Hollywood's great stars. A native of Swampscott, Mass., Brennan abandoned an engineering career, moved to Hollywood in 1920 and got his first film role, a silent thriller called "Lorraine of the Lions." His first big movie break came in 1935, and he has been steadily employed as a capable character actor ever since.

Brennan and the lady he calls "my first and only wife" have a splendid life, on a 10-acre ranch about an hour's drive outside Los Angeles.

Last season, anxious to get a change of pace by accepting some film roles, Brennan wanted to cut down his appearances in CBS' "The Real McCoys" to a maximum of a dozen or so episodes. Then, the girl who played a lead quit, and to keep the show strong, Brennan agreed to do a full season. So he spent his "vacation" acting in "How The West Was Won"—playing the heavy.

Right now the probabilities are that CBS will abandon "The Real McCoys" in September and Brennan will have freedom to make movies and play with his 14 grandchildren.

I agreed to keep working if the show went on for another season," Brennan commented. But you know, it gets to be kind of a chore, playing the same part year after year. There are other things.

PROFS IN THE THEATER

NEW YORK (AP) — Teachers are taking an active part in off-Broadway theatrical events this season.

Mordecai Gorelik, research professor at Southern Illinois University, adapted and designed production of Max Frisch's "The Firebugs."

Henry Kurtz of Western Reserve provided the sets and costumes for "A Darker Flower," and Robert Alvin, a teacher at New York City's High School of Performing Arts, appeared in the cast of "Do You Know the Milky Way?"

Gordon Bradish, an assistant professor at New York University, was directing "Asylum" until playwright Arthur Kopit withdrew the script for revision.

THEY DIDN'T EVEN YELP

CARMEL, Calif. (AP) —Jacob May of nearby Mission Fields reported his seven-foot redwood Tiki god was stolen while his two watchdogs were tethered less than 30 feet away.

Referee Buffey Remembers March 21 Tilt

BOSTON (AP)—Referee Vern Buffey has a special reason for remembering the National Hockey League game of March 21 between two teams going nowhere.

Boston blew a 1-0 lead, then came back and tied New York 2-2 in the lone NHL game Thursday night on the first goal of the season by defenseman Teddy Green, a 45-foot screened sizzler which developed from a faceoff.

Buffey was belted by an errant elbow. The belter, Guy Gendron of the Bruins, drew a game misconduct. The penalty calls for a $50 fine and disposition by NHL President Clarence Campbell after he receives a written report from the official.

Buffey called a rare penalty shot at the outset of the third period when Boston defenseman Doug Mohns pulled down Andy Hebenton from behind as the latter bore down on the Boston goal. Rookie goalie Ed Johnston stopped the shot but Hebenton quickly slammed in the rebound—an illegal maneuver because only one shot is allowed.

Buffey called it a goal and was charged by the livid Bruins. After a long conference with his linesmen, Buffey ruled "no goal" and was promptly beset by angry Rangers.

Miami of Ohio Hires Two Assistants

OXFORD, Ohio (UPI) — Bo Schembechler, new head football coach at Miami of Ohio, announced Thursday that he is hiring Jack Hecker, presently assistant coach at the University of Toledo, and Jim Herbstreit, an assistant coach at Ohio State the last two years, as assistants.

PRODUCER INTO THE ACT

NEW YORK (AP)—Howard Erskins is a producer who doesn't mind being an actor at the same time.

The cosponsor of "Calculated Risk," Erskine joined the suspense play's cast as a replacement for Ben Hayes. The switch enabled Hayes to accept an invitation to join the Tyrone Guthrie repertory company in Minneapolis.

The assignment was Erskine's first stage workout since 1952. In the interval, he has taken part in the management end of four shows.

Hunting and Fishing

By DICK MOORE

By DICK MOORE

The Colorado State Park and Recreation Department has announced that certain waters under their jurisdiction will be open as soon as the ice is gone. These waters include Cherry Creek, Eleven Mile, Antero, and Vega reservoirs and Swetizer Lake and the lakes at Lathrop State Park.

Boats will be permitted on these water even tho boat control permits may not be available until a later date.

After these permits have become available, however, no boat will be permitted on any water without a valid boat control permit. These permits will be sold at each area, as well as in the Denver Park and Recreation Department office in the State Services Building.

Says the Park and Recreation Department: "All boats must be in good condition and appear waterworthy before launching in any park area. All boats, regardless of type must have one Coast Guard approved life preserver in good condition for each occupant of the boat.

"There must be at least one good paddle or oar in the boat. All motorboats of more than 10 horsepower that are required to have a state license must have in addition to the above requirements a Coast Guard approved fire extinguisher.

"Owners of motorboats of more than 10 horsepower are required to have in force liability insurance in the amount or $25,000 for bodily injury to one person, $100,000 for aggregate bodily injuries and $1,000 for property damage.

Colorado fishermen may soon have a new species to add to their creels. The Colorado Game and Fish Department has received 140,000 silver salmon eggs which are now being hatched at the Salida hatchery.

When ready to plant some of the fish will be placed in Parvin Reservoir and the rest will go into Grandby Reservoir. In these waters, department biologists will determine how the fish take to Colorado.

Silver salmon have proved a more exciting game fish than their cousins the kokanee . . As with the kokanee, the silver salmon swim upstream every four years to spawn and die; they do not, however, gather in schools as the kokanee, which eliminates snagging as a method of taking these fish.

Silver salmon are more readily taken on flies and lures than are kokanee which exist mainly on plankton. Silver salmon eat a variety of food including other fish.

Altho silver salmon weigh as much as 20 pounds when taken from the sea, they are not expected to weigh more than four or five pounds at their maturity in Colorado waters.

The department has tried for a number of years to obtain a good supply of silver salmon eggs, but has been unable to do so because of commercial fishing interests.

Now, however, the department may be able to create a new fisheries resource for Colorado.

Beginning to think winter will never end? Don't give up hope.

In the woods and fields, wildlife populations know that spring is just around the corner, and are acting accordingly. The first of this year's crop of young'uns is already in the making.

Up North, "old Man Bobcat's" gone a'courtin'. Over most of the land, fox vixens are rigging their dens for kits already on the way. Cottontails are living up to their reputation, working overtime to swamp those hungry fox pups with sheer numbers.

In woodlot leaf-nests and forest den-trees, many litters of young squirrels already have been born. Small, blind, hairless and helpless now, they'll grow fast. They'll have to — if it's a good year, there'll be a second crop to make room in August or September.

Hibernating in her den, "Ma Black Bear" beat 'em all. Her youngsters welcomed the New Year back in January. They didn't raise much ruckus, tho, weighing in to this world at less than a pound.

Signs of spring, and a new wildlife crop, aren't limited to mammals. On mild days now, cock pheasants are warming up with practice crows and back in the forest openings, "Pa Grouse" is tuning his drumming ear.

About the earliest of the early birds, according to Dr. George Burger, Remington wildlife biologist, is that tough old customer, the great horned owl.

The first of the horned owl's two eggs appears as early as January in the deep South, and in February over most of the rest of the country. This means the big bird gets at least a month's head start on hawks and other owls, and so gets the pick of the nest sites.

Old "Horns" is usually the most powerful bird around — except for the rare eagles, also early nesters — and so he's not apt to get evicted.

Lesser birds of prey have to be satisfied with second best when they start shopping for real estate, and this isn't the end of their troubles. About the time they're nesting themselves, the horned owl young'uns have hatched and are yelling for a square meal.

Ma and Pa Owl don't mind in the least plucking old or young redtails, Cooper's hawks or screech owls off the nest and bringing them home to the kids.

And talk about "eating crow"! In Michigan, wildlifers studying birds of prey ranked the horned owl as a major limiter of crow productivity.

In fact, they rated the "Big Hooter" as a regulating force over the whole predatory bird community during the breeding season, due mainly to the early start the big owls get in nesting.

But, when especially tough weather comes along, the horned owl may pay the price for leading the pack — the female frozen in death on two ice-hard eggs in the silent sub-zero woods.

If you own some property — whether ten acres or 10,000 — and would like to provide room and board for wildlife at little or no cost, try planting perennial shrubs and trees for permanent game food and cover this spring.

State conservation or forestry departments may supply wildlife plants at cost. Check them and find out. County Soil Conservation Service or Agricultural Stabilization and conservation officers can furnish free advice and help, and explain how you may receive partial payment for planting expenses. Time's a'wastin'; so start inquiring now!

Fazio, Nagy Elected to ABC Hall of Fame

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — Basil (Buzz) Fazio, 55-year-old bowler from Detroit, and Steve Nagy, 49, of Brimingham, Mich., joined the American Bowling Congress' hall of fame Thursday night during a break in the ABC tournament.

The two professionals were sworn into the ranks of the game's immortals along with the late Ebber Darnell Easter of Madison, Wis., who died at 76 in 1961.

At the ABC convention Thursday, Rochester, N.Y., who chosen as the site for the 1966 tournament by a unanimous vote of the 67 members of the congress' board of directors after Dayton, Ohio, he only other contender, withdrew its bid when a bond issue to erect an auditorium for the tournament was defeated.

Tournament action Thursday night produced no changes in the standings in either division. Best team score was shot by Albany (N.Y.) Bowling Association No. 1, which turned in 2878. Hugh Simpson led his teammates with a three-game 678.

Earlier Thursday, no changes went into the minor events standings.

Black Hawks Call Icer From Farm Team

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago Black Hawks Thursday called up defenseman Autry Erickson from their Buffalo farm team to replace Wayne Hillman for the final two games of the National Hockey League season at Montreal Saturday, and Boston Sunday.

Bod Rodgers of the Los Angeles Angels set a new rookie record by catching 150 of his team's 155 games this season. Mickey Cochrane worked in 133 games in 1925.

Referee Buffey Remembers March 21 Tilt

BOSTON (AP)—Referee Vern Buffey has a special reason for remembering the National Hockey League game of March 21 between two teams going nowhere.

Boston blew a 1-0 lead, then came back and tied New York 2-2 in the lone NHL game Thursday night on the first goal of the season by defenseman Teddy Green, a 45-foot screened sizzler which developed from a faceoff.

Buffey was belted by an errant elbow. The belter, Guy Gendron of the Bruins, drew a game misconduct. The penalty calls for a $50 fine and disposition by NHL President Clarence Campbell after he receives a written report from the official.

Buffey called a rare penalty shot at the outset of the third period when Boston defenseman Doug Mohns pulled down Andy Hebenton from behind as the latter bore down on the Boston goal. Rookie goalie Ed Johnston stopped the shot but Hebenton quickly slammed in the rebound—an illegal maneuver because only one shot is allowed.

Buffey called it a goal and was charged by the livid Bruins. After a long conference with his linesmen, Buffey ruled "no goal" and was promptly beset by angry Rangers.

Miami of Ohio Hires Two Assistants

OXFORD, Ohio (UPI) — Bo Schembechler, new head football coach at Miami of Ohio, announced Thursday that he is hiring Jack Hecker, presently assistant coach at the University of Toledo, and Jim Herbstreit, an assistant coach at Ohio State the last two years, as assistants.

PRODUCER INTO THE ACT

NEW YORK (AP)—Howard Erskins is a producer who doesn't mind being an actor at the same time.

The cosponsor of "Calculated Risk," Erskine joined the suspense play's cast as a replacement for Ben Hayes. The switch enabled Hayes to accept an invitation to join the Tyrone [illegible] repertory company in Minneapolis.

The assignment was Erskine's first stage workout since 1952. In the interval, he has taken part in the management end of four shows.

Hunting and Fishing

By DICK MOORE

The Colorado State Park and Recreation Department has announced that certain waters under their jurisdiction will be open as soon as the ice is gone. These waters include Cherry Creek, Eleven Mile, Antero, and Vega reservoirs and Switzer Lake and the lakes at Lathrop State Park.

Boats will be permitted on these water even tho boat control permits may not be available until a later date.

After these permits have become available, however, no boat will be permitted on any water without a valid boat control permit. These permits will be sold at each area, as well as in the Denver Park and Recreation Department office in the State Services Building.

Says the Park and Recreation Department: "All boats must be in good condition and appear waterworthy before launching in any park area. All boats, regardless of type must have one Coast Guard approved life preserver in good condition for each occupant of the boat.

"There must be at least one good paddle or oar in the boat. All motorboats of more than 10 horsepower that are required to have a state license must have in addition to the above requirements a Coast Guard approved fire extinguisher.

"Owners of motorboats of more than 10 horsepower are required to have in force liability insurance in the amount or $25,000 for bodily injury to one person, $100,000 for aggregate bodily injuries and $1,000 for property damage."

Colorado fishermen may soon have a new species to add to their creels. The Colorado Game and Fish Department has received 140,000 silver salmon eggs which are now being hatched at the Salida hatchery.

When ready to plant some of the fish will be placed in Parvin Reservoir and the rest will go into Grandby Reservoir. In these waters, department biologists will determine how the fish take to Colorado.

Silver salmon have proved a more exciting game fish than their cousins the kokanee. As with the kokanee, the silver salmon swim upstream every four years to spawn and die. they do not, however, gather in schools as the kokanee, which eliminates snagging as a method of taking these fish.

Silver salmon are more readily taken on lures and flies than are kokanee which exist mainly on plankton. Silver salmon eat a variety of food including other fish.

Altho silver salmon weigh as much as 20 pounds when taken from the sea, they are not expected to weigh more than four or five pounds at their maturity in Colorado waters.

The department has tried for a number of years to obtain a good supply of silver salmon eggs, but has been unable to do so because of commercial fishing interests.

Now, however, the department may be able to create a new fisheries resource for Colorado.

Beginning to think winter will never end? Don't give up hope.

In the woods and fields, wildlife populations know that spring is just around the corner, and are acting accordingly. The first of this year's crop of young ans is already in the making.

Up North, "Old Man Bobcat's gone a'courtin'." Over most of the land, fox vixens are readying their dens for kits already on the way. Cottontails are living up to their reputation, working overtime to swamp those hungry fox pups with sheer numbers.

In woodlot leaf nests and forest den-trees, many litters of young squirrels already have been born. Small, blind, hairless and helpless now, they'll grow fast. They have to — if it's a good year, there'll be a second crop to make room in August or September.

Hibernating in her den, "Ma Black Bear" beat 'em all. Her youngsters welcomed the New Year back in January. They didn't raise much ruckus, tho, weighing in to this world at less than a pound.

Signs of spring, and a new wildlife crop, aren't limited to mammals. On mild days now, cock pheasants are warming up with practice crows and back in the forest openings, "Pa Grouse" is tuning his drumming ear.

About the earliest of the early birds, according to Dr. George Burger, Remington wildlife biologist, is that tough old customer, the great horned owl.

The first of the horned owl's two eggs appears as early as January in the deep South and in February over most of the rest of the country. This means the big bird gets at least a month's head start on hawks and other owls, and so gets the pick of the nest sites.

Old "Horns" is usually the most powerful bird around — except for the rare eagles, also early nesters — and so he's not apt to get evicted.

Lesser birds of prey have to be satisfied with second best when they start shopping for real estate, and this isn't the end of their troubles. About the time they're nesting themselves, the horned owl young'uns have hatched and are yelling for a square meal.

Ma and Pa Owl don't mind in the least plucking old or young redtails, Cooper's hawks or screech owls off the nest and bringing them home to the kids.

And talk about "eating crow"! In Michigan, wildlifers studying birds of prey ranked the horned owl as a major limiter of crow productivity.

In fact, they rated the "Big Hooter" as a regulating force over the whole predatory bird community during the breeding season, due mainly to the early start the big owls get in nesting.

But, when especially tough weather comes along, the horned owl may pay the price for leading the pack — the female frozen in death on two ice-hard eggs in the silent sub-zero woods.

If you own some property — whether ten acres or 10,000 — and would like to provide room and board for wildlife at little or no cost, try planting perennial shrubs and trees for permanent game food and cover this spring.

State conservation or forestry departments may supply wildlife plants at cost. Check them and find out. County Soil Conservation Service or Agricultural Stabilization and conservation officers can furnish free advice and help and explain how you may receive partial payment for planting expenses. Time's a'wastin', so start inquiring now!

Fazio, Nagy Elected to ABC Hall of Fame

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — Basil "Buzz" Fazio, 55-year-old bowler from Detroit, and Steve Nagy, 49, of Birmingham, Mich., joined the American Bowling Congress' hall of fame Thursday night during a break in the ABC tournament.

The two professionals were sworn into the ranks of the game's immortals along with the late Ebber Darnell Easter of Madison, Wis., who died at 76 in 1961.

At the ABC convention Thursday, Rochester, N.Y., who chosen as the site for the 1966 tournament by a unanimous vote of the 67 members of the congress' board of directors after Dayton, Ohio, the only other contender, withdrew its bid when a bond issue to erect an auditorium for the tournament was defeated.

Tournament action Thursday night produced no changes in the standings in either division. Best team score was shot by Albany, N.Y., Bowling Association No. 1, which turned in 2878. Hugh Simpson led his teammates with a three-game 678.

Earlier Thursday, no changes went into the minor events standings.

Black Hawks Call Icer From Farm Team

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago Black Hawks Thursday called up defenseman Autry Erickson from their Buffalo farm team to replace Wayne Hillman for the final two games of the National Hockey League season at Montreal Saturday, and Boston Sunday.

Bod Rodgers of the Los Angeles Angels set a new rookie record by catching 150 of his team's 155 games this season. Mickey Cochrane worked in 133 games in 1925.

Florence School Board Holds Long Meeting

In one of its longest meetings on record, the board of education of School District Re-2 (J) worked fr[illegible] 7:30 Thursday evening until 2:30 Friday morning reviewing recommendations on its 75 teachers for the school year 1963-64.

The recommendations, submitted by principals of all schools in the district, will be studied by the board at a special meeting this week following further recommendations by Superintendent of Schools Barto Babitz.

Contracts will be let by the board to the teachers on April 15, it was noted.

In addition to the lengthy review of the teaching staff, the board also briefly discussed the purchase of two new 72-passenger school buses, which will be purchased by the district, and approved the taking of a school census April 1 to May 1.

The Pioneer Day board is expected to select a theme for this year's festival which will be held in early September. Dates will also be announced following the session.

Looking at Hollywood

PETER O'TOOLE WILL BE AT OSCAR PRESENTATION

HOLLYWOOD, — Peter O'Toole will be in Hollywood April 8 for the Oscar show. It took a bit of doing. Producer Sam Spiegel had to buy out the London theater, where Peter's, appearing, for three nights in order to spring his "Lawrence of Arabia" star. There has been such a demand from academy members to see the picture before the ballots are cast, they'll have to run it three times.

"Fail Safe," the story of how somebody in the United States high command pushes the wrong button and starts an atomic war, will not be a picture. I can hear sighs of relief from Washington. Henry Fonda, who was all set to play the President, is now available for "Seven Days in May," the one where the chiefs of staff almost take over the country. Spencer Tracy was supposed to play the President in "May," but he and Burt Lancaster had an argument about who got top billing. Tracy took a powder; Lancaster and Kirk Douglas remained.

Meredith Willson aims to be a big man on Broadway again, the way he's lining up his musical "Here's Love," based on "Miracle on 34th Street." Edmond O'Brien will play Santa Claus, the role that gave the late Edmund Gwenn an Oscar. That enchanting child from "To Kill a Mocking Bird," Mary Bradham, will be playing the part done in the movie by Natalie Wood, and Janis Paige has the femme lead.

O'Brien landed the part when Producer Stewart Ostrow saw him play an old man on Sam Benedict. If the series is renewed, Eddie will shoot the 29 shows for next season during the summer. If is isn't, we don't have to worry.

Ed Begley is so nasty on screen that his children (a daughter 14, a son 13) have rarely seen him act. He's asked them not to see "Sweet Bird of Youth" which got him an Oscar nomination. So you can imagine his delight in landing a sweet doctor role in Ben Casey. "The image I've created was a challenge when I started," says Begley. "Now it's become a Frankenstein. I used to consider it a compliment when people told me they hated me. Today it's like a knife in my back."

Bob Horton's wife Marilynn will play opposite him in "Showboat," "Carousel" and "Kiss Me Kate" on the summer stock circuit. Bob did a preview on Red Skelton's show of how he'll sound when he hits Broadway in the new Rodgers-Lerner show "I Picked a Daisy."

Never rains but it pours. J. Carrol Naish had his bags packed to sail for Rome when he got an offer to do "Gina" for Producer Jack Freeman and a play "My Father's Girl." Had to wave goodby to both and keep his date in Europe for the picture "The Clairvoyant and the Mouse."

Carol Channing's trying to woo back the Republicans again after she fell for the Kennedys during dinner at the White House. Ohio's G.O.P. Governor James Rhodes was in the audience when she opened in Columbus. Chortled Carol, "See! Diamonds are bipartisan."
